

HORRORS! THIEF HOOKS QUINN'S DERBY BALLOTS

Police Are Hot on Trail of Dastardly Villain Who Copped Votes.

Police today, led by Chief Jerry Kinney, were investigating a report of the theft of twenty-five ballots from Tom Quinn, BROWN DERBYIST.

For in the dark of Saturday night, while Jo-Jo, the dog-faced judge, and Major Hoople, his compatriot, were quaffing of the flowing milk bottle, some one entered the ballot vaults of the BROWN DERBY, chiseled off, dynamited or used a tin can opener and filed twenty-five votes from Tom Quinn.

"Tell Tom we have signed an affidavit attesting to his votes and that the dastardly scoundrels who resorted to knavery to win the contest can go soak their heads in goose-grease," exclaimed "Jo-Jo."

Kinney on Trail
Chief Kinney, one of the candidates, pledged that he would aid "Hard Luck" Quinn to regain his standing, despite their rivalry.

As this paper climbs on its edition tomorrow, George J. Marott and Clarence E. Sparrow loomed in the "Headmen" column.

Skull measurements for the derby will be taken Tuesday, when the candidate list closes.

The contest is under auspices of The Indianapolis Times and the Veterans of Foreign Wars, in connection with the "Sledge of 1918," a war spectacle, which will be staged at the state fairground July 19.

Vote Early and Often
Vote as often as you like, night or day, anywhere, any time. Clip the ballot in today's Times and mail or bring to the derby office.

The candidates:
Mayor Reginald H. Sullivan, Charlie Davis, H. Weir Cook, George J. Marott, Judge James A. Collins, Arthur R. Baxter, Charles Jewett, Rabbi Milton Steinberg, George Vonnegut, George Winkler, Bert Cadd, Albert F. Meurer, Pop Myers, Ira Holmes, Fred M. Ayres, Harry Dandelin, Judson L. Stark, Dick Miller, Norman Perry, John C. Ruckelshaus, Roy Wilmetts, George J. Mayer, Frank Shellhouse, Bowman Elder, Dr. Karl R. Rudell, Sterling R. Holt, Clyde Robinson, Leslie Colvin, Irving Lemaux, Michael Foley, Samuel Raush, Felix McWhirter, A. L. Block, H. C. Atkins, Police Chief Jerry Kinney, Frank Stalnsker, J. W. Esterline, Walter T. CATTERLIN FUNERAL
SERVICES ARRANGED
Rites for Former City Ice Dealer to Be Held at 2 Tuesday.

Funeral services for Hiram Sylvester Catterlin, 71 for many years engaged in the ice business here, who died Saturday afternoon, will be held at the home, 5427 West Tenth street, at 2 Tuesday, with burial in Memorial Park cemetery.

Mr. Catterlin was born in Rolling Prairie, Ind., and lived there until he came to Indianapolis thirty years ago. For many years he was head of the ice firm of H. Catterlin & Sons, and more recently branch manager for the Capital Ice Refrigerating Company.

He is survived by the widow, two daughters, Mrs. Belle Washburn and Mrs. Mabel Strom, two sons, Virgil and Raymond Catterlin; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Craig and Mrs. Anna Snyder of Harvey, Ill., and a brother, Schuyler Catterlin, Seattle, Wash.

INVITE CIVIC LEADERS TO TRAFFIC SESSION
City Officials to Consider Move to Legalize Parking Zones.

City officials today invited business and civic leaders to a meeting Tuesday night in the office of Mayor Reginald H. Sullivan to discuss traffic problems.

An effort will be made to revise the city code to legalize the section giving authority for establishment of loading zones and downtown business houses, according to Charles R. Myers, safety board president.

"The fact that the loading zone clause is held void makes it necessary that some immediate steps be taken to clear up the confusion," Myers said.

The code probably will be amended to provide that city council and not the safety board designate the loading zones.

BOULDER DAM WORK ON
Engineers Start Construction of $165,000,000 Project.

WASHINGTON, July 7.—Government engineers today began work on the giant Boulder Dam project on the Nevada-Arizona state line, authorized by congress to provide flood control, irrigation and water power for the southwest and a water supply for Los Angeles, the interior department announced.

Beginning of construction on the dam, to be the largest in the world, was made possible by enactment of the second deficiency bill, which carried an appropriation of $160,000,000 for this purpose. Total cost of the dam and accompanying works will be $165,000,000.

HANGS SELF FROM TREE
Aged City Man Ends Life by Noose at His Home.

Hanging himself by a rope from a tree in the back yard of his home, Samuel Arnold, 81, of 1123 Glimmer street, committed suicide today. Relatives said he had been in ill health several months and several times had threatened to take his life.

PRESIDENT MAY LOSE VACATION

Press of Business Likely to Prevent Trip.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, July 7.—President Hoover has about decided to forego his western trip this summer.

This decision, which lacks official confirmation, has been learned through unofficial sources. The press of the nation's business, piling up upon his desk, is given for the change of plans. Not even the contemplated trip to Mexico now is in the presidential program.

The proposed tour through the Yellowstone, Yosemite and other western national parks, it is said, has been abandoned. While the plans may undergo changes, it is said any extended vacation may be considered definitely off.

The President probably will remain at his desk through the summer months and take his relaxation through week-end fishing trips to his summer camp on the Rapidan.

Many things have accumulated in the President's file of unfinished business. The reorganization of the power commission; the patching of political fences, in connection with which comes the troublesome matter of ousting Claudius Huston, Republican national chairman; reorganization of the tariff commission looking toward certain adjustments of schedules, and, most important of all, the London naval treaty ratification.

OIL MERGER OPPOSED

By United Press
NEW YORK, July 7.—The case of the government against the merger of the Vacuum Oil Company and the Standard Oil Company of New York opened today in the federal court.

The government charges this merger is a violation of the Sherman anti-trust laws of 1906 in that it would seriously reduce competition in the areas which both companies serve.

WEBSTER TRIAL NEARING CLOSE

Blackmail Case Expected to End Tuesday.

Blackmail trial of Irving Webster, publisher of the Indiana Journal, Seventh district Republican newspaper organ, was to be resumed in the afternoon session of criminal court today before Special Judge Floyd Mattice.

Started more than a week ago when Prosecutor Judson L. Stark said the state would show Webster attempted to extort money from prominent persons in an advertising scheme, the trial is expected to end sometime Tuesday.

Ben Newman, alleged conspirator with Webster, and reputed originator of the idea to publish a year book in conjunction with Webster's advertising "campaign," turned state's evidence at the start of the trial.

Webster's defense, according to his attorney, Ira W. Holmes, is that he was "drunk from November until January" when prosecutors say the scheme was hatched.

Newman, high pressure advertising salesman, is under joint and separate indictments with Webster, charged with conspiracy and blackmail.
