

BALLOT TRICK PERILS NORRIS' VICTORY HOPES

Grocer of Same Name as Senator Entered as G. O. P. Candidate.

BY RAYMOND CLAPPER, United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 9.—For twenty-seven years in the house and senate, George W. Norris, Nebraska Republican insurgent, has been fighting his way through technicalities. This year, however, he is confronted by one which he fears may cost him re-election, unless the courts intervene.

The veteran senator's Nebraska opponents have put up as a candidate for the Republican senatorial nomination another George W. Norris, a grocer of Broken Bow, Neb. Both Norrises have the same middle name.

Nebraska's law forbids any distinguishing mark with a candidate's name on the ballot. Names even must be rotated on the ballots to prevent any candidate gaining the benefit of a preferred position at the head of the list.

"I am finished unless the other George W. Norris is kept off the ballot or unless some clearly distinguishing marks are included," Norris told the United Press today. He said that otherwise it would be impossible ever for him to know whether he was voting for himself or his opponent.

The Nebraska attorney-general held Grocer Norris' filing papers arrived too late to permit his name to go on the ballot, but the secretary of state ruled otherwise. Friends of Senator Norris believe the courts may step in to prevent confusion in the primary election.

The public career of the Nebraska insurgent has been one long fight against technicalities, marked by his successful effort to overturn the rule of the late Speaker Crampton and force revision of the ironclad rules of the house of representatives.

Norris has defied the political powers of his party for years, even deserting the presidential ticket in 1928 to support Alfred E. Smith. Now he finds himself in danger from an obscure grocer who happens to bear his identical name.

CYRUS CLARK TO BE BURIED IN WESTFIELD

Private Funeral Services to Be Held for Veteran Politician.

Private funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Thursday for Cyrus J. Clark, 73, veteran politician here, who died Tuesday night at the home of his son, Dr. C. J. Clark, 5735 Winthrop avenue, after long illness.

Mr. Clark moved to this city in 1887, organizing the brokerage firm of Clark & Co., from which he retired some time ago. His political career opened with election as sheriff of Marion county in 1898, and he was named county auditor in 1903. In years following he was active in the Republican party and held many city offices. Mr. Clark was a member of the Shrine and Scottish Rite.

Burial will be in Westfield. Besides the son, he is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Ella Cloud and Miss Carolyn Clark, Westfield, and two brothers, E. V. Clark, Indianapolis, and Frank Clark of Westfield.

BANDIT LEADER HANGS TONIGHT

Hope to Save Colorado Killer Is Abandoned.

CANON CITY, Colo., July 9.—Witnesses have been summoned to appear early this evening and it appeared certain today that Ralph Fliegler, gray-haired bandit leader, would be hanged tonight at the state penitentiary.

An unannounced hangman is expected to spring the trap which will drop the west's most notorious outlaw to his death shortly after 9 o'clock.

While officials at the prison continued last minute preparations, attorneys made frantic pleas to Governor W. H. Adams for a short reprieve.

Fliegler has refused his mother's plea that he "make peace with God." Ministers and priests who have visited him in death row found him courteous but adamant. Guards expressed belief, however, that he secretly was reading a small pocket Bible.

A meeting late Tuesday with his wife, mother, and sister was without sentiment. All have accepted his execution as inevitable.

Howard Royston and George Abshier, confederates of Fliegler, are to die soon for the same crime, robbery of the Lamar bank and the murders in connection with it.

MOB RIOTS IN GERMANY

Destroys Stores, Houses Owned by Separatists During Night.

By United Press

TRERES, Germany, July 9.—Serious disorders occurred here during the night. A mob attacked and demolished stores and dwellings owned by Separatists, whose stand in favor of separation of the Rhineland from Germany has subjected them to general attack since the French evacuation.

Police restored order this morning, but new outbreaks were feared.

RAPID PAVING DRAINS STATE HIGHWAY FUNDS

Department May Go Broke With Program Far Ahead of Schedule.

Unprecedented favorable weather conditions and the early reception of bids and letting of contracts has put the state highway department's paving program six months ahead of the ordinary schedule, it was asserted by Director John J. Brown.

So rapidly is the work advancing that the monthly collection of state gasoline funds may not equal the expenditures and the department soon may be broke he predicted.

The state finance committee may be asked to advance money from the general fund to meet expenditures when the highway funds are exhausted.

Record Is Established

Records in the office of State Auditor Archie Bobbitt disclosed today that the total highway department funds amounts to $1,977,703.59 at the present time.

The department will spend more than $22,000,000 this year, funds being derived from automobile licenses, gasoline tax and federal aid.

"Never in the history of the state highway department has such a record been established in paving progress," Brown declared. "Next week one contractor is turning over a completed road which was not scheduled for completion before September."

"While great advantage accrues to the public in elimination of detours and opening of new pavement to traffic, this early and rapid completion of work is draining our highway funds."

Balance Nearly Exhausted

"Of course there is no question about the state being able to pay its highway bills, but the sources of revenue do not permit collection as rapidly as the money is being spent."

"In my opinion it will be but a short time until our present balance is entirely exhausted."

Unemployment of a whole corps of field inspectors and engineers, employed by the department, is another possibility which looms from the early completion of the year's program Brown pointed out.

Each year a great number are employed on paving projects.

YOUNG BANDITS 'TAKE THE RAP'

'Let's Get It Over With,' Youths Declare.

Pleading guilty to auto banditry less than four days after their capture as suspects in a series of east side chain store robberies, three youths are in jail today prepared to serve prison sentences meted them Tuesday by Criminal Judge James A. Collins.

They are Henry Davis, 26, Madison, Ind.; Gard McNece, 20, of 910 South New Jersey street, and John B. Mutter, 18, Bowling Green, Ky. Asserting to Harry Gause, deputy prosecutor, that "we want to take the rap and get it over with," the trio pleaded guilty to charges in affidavits filed Tuesday by Gause.

Davis, leader of the gang, was given a ten-year determinate sentence at the state prison, while McNece and Mutter escaped with lighter penalties of one to ten years each at the reformatory at Pendleton.

McNece is a brother of Harold McNece, alleged Bowling Green (Ky.) bandit, who was killed in a gun battle with Chicago police this spring.
