Milk-Fed Matman Wilts Foe With Hypnotic Eye
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 16.—American wrestling managers are smart people, but most of 'em are ready to admit the so-called heavyweight champion of Afghanistan, Ghafoor Kahn, is a new answer to a mat promoter's prayer.

Ghafoor asserts he wilts opponents by using an "evil eye," in other words, he hypnotizes his path to victory. Pictures used in Philly show him practicing the "art," and it must be said he has with the fierce gleam. But the "hypnotic eye" is only a part of Ghafoor's publicity game. He had started life lurching on elephant milk.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Another of those crucial battles which have made the current National League race the greatest in history—save for the 1908 season when the Cubs beat the Giants out by half a game in a replay of a tie game—opened today between the league-leading Brooklyn Robins and the second-place St. Louis Cardinals.

Leading the Cardinals by a full game, the Robins are the throes of the longest winning streak of the major league season, having won their eleventh straight game Monday by defeating the Cincinnati Reds, 13 to 5. The Philadelphia Athletics held the previous season's record of ten straight.

Preparations to hold the world series in Brooklyn already have been started, and if the Robins win two out of three or three straight from the Cardinals, they can go on. The Cardinals must win two out of three or three in a row to overhaul the Robins.

With their spirit broken and their roster badly depleted, the Chicago Cubs gathered all their strength for one final pennant drive in the three-game series opening today against the New York Giants at the Polo Grounds.

The Cubs divided a double-header with the first-place Phillies Monday, and now are a game and a half from the top with only eleven games left to play. The Cubs have lost eleven out of their last sixteen games. Lefty O'Doul's homer in the ninth with the score tied enabled the Phillies to win the first game, 12-11. Guy Bush halted the rally in the ninth, the Cubs winning the second game, 6-4.

Athletics Lead American by Seven Tilts; Play Sox Today

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Seven games in front and leading by seven tilts in their remaining eleven games to clinch the American League flag, the Philadelphia Athletics today resumed battle in a double-header with the Chicago White Sox.

The Washington Senators shaved half a game off Philadelphia's lead Monday by defeating the White Sox 14 to 9 while the leaders were idle, but still have nothing more than a mathematical chance for the pennant. If Philadelphia wins five out of eleven the Senators can win all their remaining seven games and still finish second.

Ted Lyons, hunting his twenty-second victory of the season, started on the mound against Washington Monday, but was driven to the showers in the sixth inning.

A four-run uprising in the second inning enabled the New York Yankees to defeat the Detroit Tigers 5 to 2. Babe Ruth led the New York attack with three hits.

Boston and St. Louis divided a double-header, the Red Sox winning the night game, 2 to 1, in eleven innings after losing the first game, 1 to 0. The Sox won with one man on gave the Browns the winning runs in the first game.

In the National, Brooklyn ran its winning streak to eleven straight by defeating the Cincinnati Reds, 13 to 5.

Philadelphia allowed the Pittsburgh Pirates but three hits as the New York Giants triumphed, 6 to 1.

The Chicago Cubs and the Phillies split a double-header, the Phillies winning the first game, 12 to 11 and losing the second, 6 to 4.

Thousands Seek Seats

Brooklyn Series Supply Far Too Small; Not to Change Fields.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Thousands of applications for world series tickets already have been received by the Brooklyn Club, and it was apparent today that supply would be exhausted within two or three days.

Efforts to have the Robins play the world series at Yankee stadium, with its 80,000 seating capacity, or the Polo Grounds, with its 60,000 seating capacity, have failed, and President Frank Y. announced today that if the Robins won they would play their games at Ebbets field, with its mere 29,000 seats. Only 18,000 reserved seats are available, less than one-fifth the expected demand.

Long famous for its rabid baseball fans, Brooklyn has staged many hysterical demonstrations during the Robins' winning spurt of the last two weeks. Dozens of hats are tossed on to the field every day. The Robins are the principal topic of conversation on street corners, subways and other gathering places.

Interest is also at its highest pitch in St. Louis, where the Cardinals, who have won twenty-seven of their last thirty-five games, are being compared to the Boston Braves of 1914. All box seats have been sold for the Pittsburgh series which winds up the season. The last game played at St. Louis, between the Reds and Cards, drew 35,000, a record for Sportsman's park.

After being baseball crazy for weeks, the fans of Chicago today began to lose interest in the fast-slipping Cubs, it was reported. Traffic has been blocked in the Loop daily while crowds watched the game on scoreboards or listened to a radio broadcast.

Most of the crowds drifted away after the Cubs lost their first game to the Phillies Monday and applications for reservations are not one-tenth as heavy as a year ago, according to President Bill Veck.

SCHMADEL VS. GAHMER
Carl Schmadel, Brightwood, will oppose Owen Gahmer, St. Louis, in the welterweight in the main event of next Friday night's thin dime boxing show at Riverside. There will be six bouts on the card. The semi-windup for four rounds will bring Michigan Kid of Grand Rapids, against Pepper Martin, Indianapolis.
