

DRUGGIST TAKEN FOR RIDE, THEN ROBBED OF $60

Pseudo Hunter Buys Shells for Gun Before Holdup of Pharmacist.

A pseudo hunter, continuing the underworld's open season on victims of all varieties, took R. B. Teeter, pharmacy proprietor in Ben Davis, for a half-hour's ride early today, returning him to the store, which was unlocked, and from which the bandit escaped with $60.

The gunman entered the store with a shotgun and asked for shells for it. Supplied with them he turned the gun on Teeter.

A. H. Geisel, New Palestine merchant, was held up by two young men who went to his store in an auto. They robbed him of $50 and escaped.

Holds Gun to Back

A bandit who pressed a gun in the back of Guy Tribble, 3513 North Capitol avenue, attendant at a Standard oil filling station, thirty-fourth street and Capitol avenue, took $14 and locked Tribble in the wash room.

Burton Nine, 18, of 540 Gladstone avenue, delivery boy for a pharmacy at 4101 East Michigan street, was robbed of $10 while making a delivery in the 500-block North Bradley avenue Wednesday night.

Two People Held Up

Four motor bandits held up R. S. Sheets, 217 North State avenue, Bernard Walters, 1621 East Michigan street; Miss Mabel Bass, 2115 North Meridian street, and Miss Margie Pillington, 2437 East Michigan street, while they were driving on Boulevard place, near Butler university in Fairview, Wednesday night. The gunmen took $14 and jewelry.

Guns valued at more than $100 were stolen from the home of Mrs. Ida Pickrel, R. R. 8, Box 46, according to a police report Wednesday night.

SHOW OWNER'S RUSE OUTWITS BLUE LAW

Uses Half of Theater, Partly in One Town, Rest in Other, on Sundays.

By United Press
ORANGE, N. J., Oct. 2.—The Palace moving picture theater, on the dividing line between this town and East Orange, with half of its seats in one town and the other half in the other, will preserve the piety of East Orange on future Sundays with a length of rope.

Orange is legalizing Sunday moving pictures. But East Orange stands firmly against them, and Mayor Charles H. Martens of East Orange has announced he will rope off his half of the theater "to protect East Orange from the effects of Sunday moves in Orange."

THREE INJURED AS PLANE DIVES ON CITY

Current Tips Ship Flying at Low Altitude.

By United Press
WELLSBORO, Pa., Oct. 2.—Harold Hough, Chicago pilot, and two passengers were injured today from severe injuries received when their cabin plane crashed in the center of this city.

The plane was flying at a low altitude when an air current tipped it suddenly and put it out of control. Dorsey Hager, 43, Wichita, Kan., and Henry Brown, 41, Webster Grove, Mo., were taken with Hough to a hospital.

The party was flying from Corning, N. Y., to inspect oil fields in Bradford county, Pennsylvania.

CHILD MALADY GROWING

By United Press
WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—An increasing number of infantile paralysis cases throughout the country was revealed in reports to the United States public health service made public today. In the week ending Sept. 27, a total of 594 new cases were reported to the service here.

Former Resident Dies

By Times Special
COLUMBUS, Ind., Oct. 2.—Relatives here have been notified of the death of William M. Davidson, 67, former resident here, which occurred at his home in San Jose, Cal. The body will be brought here for burial. For many years Mr. Davidson was in the furniture business here, associated with his father, the late John Davidson, and William Henderson. He leaves his wife and a daughter, Mrs. John A. Hagen, Miller, S. D., and a brother, Thomas Davidson, Greensburg.

'Charmed' Flier Again Cheats Death in Sky

By United Press
KANSAS CITY, Oct. 2.—One more miraculous escape was recorded today for Jimmy Doolittle as the "charmed" stunt flier and former army officer prepared to lead a squadron of Kansas City aviators in a greeting to the French good-will pilots, Dieudonne Coste and Maurice Bellonte.

Doolittle, who flew an airplane completely out of its wings at the national air races in 1929, and has experienced numerous other thrilling adventures, narrowly escaped death when his speedy mystery ship clipped the tail of another ship, 1,800 feet above municipal airport Wednesday.

The pilot of the other plane, Lieutenant John M. Cross, Wichita, Kan., was forced to jump, but was saved by his parachute. The propeller of Doolittle's ship was bent in the crash, but he landed it safely after what observers said was a masterful exhibition of emergency flying.

Doolittle's ship was climbing almost straight up when it clipped Cross's plane, which Doolittle said he could not see, because it was in a "blind spot."

HIGH COURT TO END VACATION

Supreme Judges Scheduled to Convene Tuesday.

Indiana supreme court judges will return to the bench and their crowded docket next Tuesday after spending the summer vacationing. Last meeting of the court was on July 21, when the judges assembled on special call by Chief Justice Benjamin F. Wiloughby.

Judges Wiloughby, David A. Myers and Julius C. Travis met and adjourned before Judges Clarence R. Martin and Willard B. Gemmill arrived in the courtroom.

This attitude is credited with causing the great delay in handing down certain cases, particularly the D. C. Stephenson murder appeal. The high court has rendered almost nil an attempt of the 1929 legislature to aid in clearing its docket by transferring misdemeanors to the appellate court. More than forty have been sent back to the supreme court for ruling on constitutionality of the law, which terminates this year, but no ruling has been forthcoming.

Love Laughs

By United Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 2.—Those interested in the case of William P. Ferguson and Mrs. Ferguson were convinced today that love does laugh at locksmiths. Mrs. Ferguson sued her husband for divorce and was granted temporary alimony. Ferguson fell behind in the payments. She had him sent to jail, then took their four children to visit him.

Through the cell bars, Ferguson made love to Mrs. Ferguson. She refiled in love with him, dismissed the suit and decided when her attorney returned her fee, to spend the money on a second honeymoon.

Suicide Fails; Suit Filed

By Times Special
GREENCASTLE, Ind., Oct. 2.—Mrs. Sarah Standley, who attempted to commit suicide Aug. 15 as a result of domestic strife, has filed suit for divorce against Clyde Standley. She alleges a month after their marriage Dec. 14 last, her husband quarreled, cursed and abused her.

WIDOW NAMES MATE'S SLAYER

Points Out Killer of 1897 Who Broke Jail.

By United Press
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 2.—The widow of a railroad foreman, murdered thirty-three years ago in Indian territory Monday identified a man as her husband's slayer. John Coontz was killed by Robert Atchison at Stafford, Okla., in 1897. Atchison was convicted of the crime and sentenced to life imprisonment. He escaped from the El Reno county jail.

A month ago, Joseph R. Atkins was arrested here as the long sought slayer of Coontz. He denied the identity.

The railroad man's widow, since remarried and now Mrs. Leonette Dowden of Springfield, Mo., was brought here for the federal extradition hearing, which still is in progress.

"That is the man," she said. She pointed toward the prisoner on the dock. "During the trial of Atchison, I studied him closely. I never could forget his face."

MUST RUN, WHETHER HE LIKES IT OR NOT

New York Man Nominated While in Europe, Can't Get Out of It.

By United Press
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Oct. 2.—The voters of the Forty-first New York district may send Henry F. Jurg to congress whether he likes it or not.

Jurg returned to Rochester from Europe recently, and was advised the Democratic party of which he is a member, has nominated him for congressman from the district. He immediately announced he would not consider such a job and took the matter to court.

The appellate division of supreme court ruled that the time limit withdrawal has passed, and that Jurg will have to make the race.

Pimples on Face, Chest, Arms and Hands. Cuticura Healed.

"My face, chest, arms and hands were broken out with pimples that were hard and red. They itched badly and I was always scratching them. Some of them would break open and then fester. My clothing aggravated the breaking out, and when I put my hands in water they itched and burned. The irritation kept me awake at night. I had the trouble about fourteen months. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment. The first application seemed to stop the itching and burning and in two weeks I was healed." (Signed) Arthur R. Simpson, 250 W. 61st St., Chicago, Illinois.

Soap 25c. Ointment 25c. and 50c. Talcum 25c. Sold everywhere. Sample each free. Address: "Cuticura Laboratories, Dept. H, Malden, Mass."

"The Seriousness of Guarding

the delicate

membranes"

Says

BRIG. GEN.
WALTER C. MONTGOMERY

Graduate of Columbia University, College of Physicians and Surgeons. Instructor and Assistant Professor Department of Nose and Throat, Cornell Medical School, Cornell University, for 28 years. Sanitary Inspector, with rank of Colonel, and later Divisional Surgeon in the 27th Division in the World War in France. Awarded Distinguished Service Medal (U. S.) and Croix de Guerre with Palms (Belgium) and other medals for war service in France.

"The greatest triumphs of medicine will be in the direction of public education on the importance of preventive measures. And in this connection I cannot lay enough emphasis on the seriousness of guarding the delicate nose and throat membranes and accessory sinuses. Your use of the Ultra Violet Ray in the 'Toasting' of the LUCKY STRIKE tobaccos, I regard as a laudable effort on your part to give the great army of American smokers the benefit of recent scientific conclusions."
