

HOOVER RECORD IS ASSAILED BY SENATE SEEKER

Kentuckian Bases His Entire Platform on 'Failure of Administration.'

By RAY TUCKER
Scripps-Howard Staff Writer

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 10.—President Hoover's record forms the principal issue in the senatorial contest in Kentucky, where Judge M. M. Logan of the court of appeals today is conceded to have a slight advantage over Senator John M. Robinson, Republican incumbent.

Logan, a fat, round-faced, full-bodied figure, 6 feet tall, who lets his black hair drap over his coat collar like Borah, and talks with legendary drawl of a Kentucky colonel, is handling Hoover, his cabinet and his opponent in scorching terms. His principal issues are the tariff, unemployment and Hoover's alleged lack of leadership.

Assailing "misleading" statements on business conditions, Logan refers to Secretaries Mellon and Hyde and Senators Watson and Grundy as "Hoover's happiness boys."

Lost in the Wilderness

"I don't include the President," he explains from the co'thoo portico, "because he is lost in the wilderness and doesn't know what it is all about."

Logan is conducting a unique Jeffersonian campaign. He prepared for it by visiting every important city in the United States to observe economic conditions and he paints vivid pictures of closed and smokeless factories, winding bread lines, men vainly seeking employment, and hungry families.

He attributes these conditions to the administration, but particularly to the tariff, which he calls "the most iniquitous bill ever enacted."

Something at Home

The great humanitarian in the White House has done so much for the people abroad," he concludes, "that it's time for him to do something for the 7,000,000 folks at home who are out of work and can't get it."

Robison, defending the tariff as designed to preserve prosperity, blames unemployment on too much immigration.

"That proves my opponent is the most ignorant man ever offered for public office in this country," retorts Logan.

It is doubtful if President Hoover has been made so sharp and central an issue in any other state. But the bluegrass country is in a bad way. Kentucky, a farming state, felt the drought severely. The rich pasture lands in the central section were burned black.

Tradition Against Robison

Water still is being shipped in by tanks—and Hoover gets the blame for that. Factories and railroad shops are operating only three days a week, and Logan holds the tariff partly responsible.

Thus Logan is believed to have a good chance to win by a narrow margin, although G. O. P. leaders predict victory by about 15,000. Tradition, however, is all against Robison.

Kentucky has not re-elected any senator, Democratic or Republican, for twenty-five years, which was one reason why ex-Senator Sackett was glad to swap an insecure senatorial seat for the post of ambassador to Berlin.

Neither candidate is talking politics. The revision of feeling, especially in northern Kentucky, is so great that it has become an embarrassing topic. Robison and his associates are saying nothing about "the noble experiment." The Anti-Saloon League, once a power in certain counties, has become a negligible factor.

PROTEST CLOSING LAW

District of Columbia Petition Hits National Religious Legislation.

A petition protesting the Lankford Sunday closing law intended for the District of Columbia is being circulated in Indianapolis by the American Religious Liberty Association which has ninety members here.

Harold Mayer, Washington, field secretary of the association, who heads the petition campaign, contends support of the Lankford measure is part of a movement for national religious legislation which he declares "has become a menace to constitutional freedom."

Antipodean Wisecracker

Wise cracking isn't confined to America, for the life of a party that visited Indianapolis Wednesday en route to the convention of the Disciples of Christ Brotherhood, in Washington, D. C., was Thomas E. Rofe, Sydney, Australia.

Rofe's smart cracks ran from the canary jumping out, when the top photo was taken of himself with two Butler university co-eds: "Wait'll my wife sees this picture."

In the lower photo, Billie Morrow, son of William Morrow, Australian senator, is shown as he caught a Butler campus mutt to deny charges that Australia has "woof-beasts."

Yes! A year ago I had twenty-two more pounds of fat than I needed—I was fat—and very sensitive about it—but now I say it is foolish for anyone to be overweight.

What did I do? Nothing very hard, I can assure you—I cut out pie—Candy and all sweets—ate moderately, and every morning before breakfast I took one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water—Never missed a morning.

I lost fat—gained in energy—vigor, charm and vivaciousness and have a shapely figure I am proud of—anyone can do the same.
