MULBERRY, Ind., Oct. 11.—Following the lead of the successful big team plowing contest held here last year, the first of its kind ever staged, announcement has been made by the Mulberry Community Club of a second contest, to be held here Tuesday. The club is co-operating again this year with the Purdue university department of agriculture extension and with the Prairie Farmer magazine in holding the contest, which will be held on the James Davis farm, two miles east of Mulberry on the Jackson highway.

Teams of four, five, six and eight horses will be eligible for competition in the contest, and separate divisions will be provided for each. Each team will be required to plow a set area of ground. The four-horse teams will cover one-half acre; five, three-fourths acre; six, an acre, and eight, one and one-half acres.

The contest will be judged on horsemanship, quality of work, and the time required to do the work. Each contestant will be required to bring his horses fully equipped. The use of big horse teams has been on the increase of late years in Clinton county, largely through the efforts of W. J. Mann, county farm agent. The contest held last year did much to heighten the interest in their use, 1,500 people having braved a rain to watch competition.

NEW BASIS OF MEASURING GAS USED PROPOSED

Commission Asked for Permit to Employ Heat Unit Basis.

Rate schedules under which it is proposed to bill customers in Hammond, East Chicago, Whiting, Michigan City and adjacent suburban communities on the basis of heat units used instead of the volume of gas consumed have been filed with the Indiana public service commission by the Northern Indiana Public Service Company.

Specifically, the company asks permission to issue its bills expressing charges for gas used on the basis of therms of heat units rather than in cubic feet as at present. A therm is 100,000 B. T. U., being the technical name for British thermal units. The proposed schedule is similar to the recently placed in effect in Chicago by the Peoples Gas Light and Coke Company, with the approval of the Illinois commerce commission.

The therm basis of billing, it is explained by Morse DelPlain, president of the company, contemplates no change in the cost of gas service to the customer. Furthermore, he pointed out, if the therm basis is approved, the present cubic foot rates will be continued in effect as optional.

An important reason for the proposed change in the system of billing, DelPlain says, "is the fact that arrangements have been completed for purchase of petroleum refinery gas in the vicinity of the cities affected. This gas, like natural gas, has a much higher heating value per cubic foot than the gas with which customers are now being supplied."

"It is planned to mix the petroleum refinery gas with the coke oven gas now being supplied, thus increasing substantially the heating value of the gas distributed to customers. Under the therm basis of billing, the customer will pay only for the quantity of heat used, regardless of the volume of gas in which the heating value is contained."
