

PROMINENT CITY WOMEN JOIN IN REPEAL DEMAND

Three Past Presidents of Junior League Aid State Group.

Three past presidents of the Junior League are among the group of prominent Indianapolis women who will take steps toward founding the Indiana Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform at a meeting in the Propylaeum, Fourteenth and Delaware streets, Thursday afternoon at 2.

Mrs. Mary Sayles Moore, native of Indianapolis, but a resident of New York until recently, has returned here to direct state-wide organization efforts.

The national organization, founded a year ago in New York, has a membership of 2,000 women, committed to repeal of the eighteenth amendment on the ground, their declaration of principles asserts, that national prohibition is fundamentally wrong, conflicts with the American principle of home rule, and has failed utterly to impose abstinence.

"We are convinced that national prohibition, wrong in principle, has been equally disastrous in consequences," the principles state, "in the hypocrisy, the corruption, the tragic loss of life and the appalling increase of crime which have attended the abortive attempt to enforce it."

Among those assisting Mrs. Moore in organization efforts here, are Mrs. Meredith Nicholson Jr., Mrs. Elias Atkins, Mrs. Sylvester Johnson and Mrs. Barrett Moxley. The latter three are Junior League past presidents.

All women subscribing to the principles of the organization are invited to attend Friday's meeting. The organization imposes no dues upon members.

MUSICIANS THREATEN G. O. P. WITH BOYCOTT

Chicago Federation Angered by Use of "Canned Song."

CHICAGO, Oct. 15.—Chicago musicians declared war today on the Republican party "for permitting the use of canned music" and threatened to go Democratic.

James C. Petrillo, president of the Chicago Federation of Musicians, started the war by serving notice Tuesday night on all Chicago radio stations that: "The Chicago federation is about to place the Republican party of Cook county on the unfair list. This will mean that if any Republican candidates speak on the radio, the service of federation members will be withdrawn."

Petrillo gave the radio stations until next Monday to comply with the demand.

Meanwhile, the musicians dug into their own pockets to pay 1,000 bandmen to parade in favor of Democratic candidates, who gained a march on the Republicans by signing up some time ago to use only union musicians.

FUNERAL RITES HELD FOR JOHN WEIMER

World War Veteran Succumbs to Spinal Meningitis.

Funeral rites for John L. Weimer, 32, who died Tuesday of spinal meningitis at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ruth Smith, 237 North Gale street, were held at 2 this afternoon at the Gale street address. Burial was to be in Crown Hill cemetery.

He was born Oct. 17, 1898 in this city and attended School No. 51. He was an overseas veteran of the World war.

Surviving besides the parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Weimer, are: a daughter, Jane Weimer, four sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Heck, Mrs. Marie Russell, Mrs. Helen McDonald, and Mrs. Ruth Smith, two brothers, Lawrence and Samuel Weimer, all of Indianapolis.

INDUSTRIAL EXPOSITION RECEIVER IS ASKED

Beech Grove Merchant Files Claim of $9,576 on Contract.

Appointment of a receiver for the Indiana Industrial Exposition, Inc., held last week at the state fairground, is asked in a suit filed today in circuit court by Charles W. Read, a Beech Grove decorator.

Read alleges the exposition has failed to pay him $9,576, according to a contract for decorations, and seeks a judgment in that amount.

Income from sale of booth space to exhibitors is not sufficient to pay claims against creditors of the exposition, Read claims. W. A. McCurry was managing director of the exposition.

Prairie Chicken 'Booms' His Way Into Wedlock

Mrs. Esther Kersey

MISSING MAN'S AUTO IS FOUND

Insurance Agent Is Feared Victim of Foul Play.

An automobile containing a brief case with papers, telegrams, and other documents today was the sole clue police had to whereabouts of Charles Pattillo, 31, of 234 Eastern avenue, life insurance company collector, who has been missing from home since Monday.

Mrs. Pattillo declared she was confident her husband had been robbed of collections amounting to $150, and suggested he may have been slugged, kidnapped, or murdered.

Pattillo, star collector for the Prudential Life Insurance Company, Meyer-Kiser Bank building, has been forced to the curb by men in other automobiles three times within a month, his wife told police.

His sedan was found on South street near Capitol avenue today. In that district Pattillo had been making collections, it was learned. He is the father of three small children.

MAN IS BADLY HURT BY AUTO

Charles Welch Suffers Skull Fracture in Accident.

Walking around a bus from which he alighted, to cross the street at Thirtieth street and Baltimore avenue this morning, Charles Welch, 56, of 2150 East Thirty-fourth street, was struck by an auto and injured critically.

His skull was fractured, and he suffered internal injuries. Mrs. Charles Tyre, 2743 North Olney street, was driving the car.

Edward Dimmick, 56, of 4259 Sangster avenue, suffered fractures of both legs, cuts, and bruises, and his grandson, Buddy Dimmick, 16 months, was cut and bruised as an auto struck them at Forty-second street and Manlove avenue, Tuesday night.

Leonard Gieckner, 19, of 2306 North new jersey street, driver of the auto, was charged with reckless driving and assault and battery. His car is "aid to have struck another machine, and careened off to hit the man and baby."

Phillip O'Dowd, 68, resident at the home of the Little Sisters of the Poor, was cut and bruised when struck by an auto at New York and Alabama streets Tuesday night.

George Neal, 51, of 2629 South-eastern avenue, was bruised when struck by a car at Senate avenue and Washington street late Tuesday night.

Gun Wounds Fatal

LOGANSPOUT, Ind., Oct. 15.—Samuel Bayless, 52, died of injuries received when he was struck in the head by a charge from his own shotgun. The weapon was accidentally discharged as Bayless climbed through a fence.

Bayless was a farmer and resided near Logansport.

He was a member of the Logansport Grange.

His wife, Mrs. Bayless, was at the scene of the accident.

He was a member of the Logansport Grange.

He was a member of the Logansport Grange.

He was a member of the Logansport Grange.

He was a member of the Logansport Grange.

He was a member of the Logansport Grange.

He was a member of the Logansport Grange.

He was a member of the Logansport Grange.

He was a member of the Logansport Grange.

He was a member of the Logansport Grange.

He was a member of the Logansport Grange.

He was a member of the Logansport Grange.

BOARD ORDERS 2-CENT CUT IN CITY TAX LEVY

Reduction Made in General Fund and Sanitary District Rate.

Two-cent reduction in the Indianapolis city civil tax levy to $1.08 for 1931 was ordered by the state tax board today after final hearing on appeals of the Indiana Taxpayers' Association against county, city, township and sanitary district rates.

Indianapolis residents in Center township, embracing most of the city, will pay a total of $1.759 on each $100 taxable as a result of the cut.

The 2-cent reduction was effected by slashing the general fund levy from 64½ cents to 63½ cents, and the sanitary district levy from 6 to 5 cents. The 1930 sanitary district rate was 7 cents, and the civil city levy for the same year $1.10.

James Showalter, tax board chairman, said the reduction was ordered because city officials had not budgeted state gasoline tax receipts Indianapolis will share.

Criticism of management of the city garbage plant based on requests for appropriations to operate the new dehydration plant was believed the reason for the sanitary district cut. The board sliced $22,000 from the budget, but the sanitary district still will spend sums in excess of its appropriations for 1929.

The season opened today on prairie chicken, but Mrs. Esther Kersey, 5522 Guilford avenue, secretary to state entomologist Frank N. Wallace, may be affording you your only chance to see one.

The mimros who go gunning today for tympanuchus americanus will be "shooting up" some beautiful romances, if Frank N. Wallace, state entomologist, is correct in his description of prairie chicken courtships.

"Early in the morning in spring, the booming of males assembled on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators."

"Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

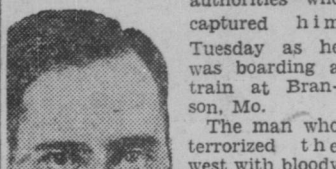

Now the proud cock, incited to nobler deeds by the indifference of his chosen sweetheart, rushes madly forward, letting the air out of his check sacs as he goes, to produce the booming noise, repeating the rush toward her and the boom until she gives some sign that his mad endeavors to win her, awaken some response in her cold little heart."

Inflicting the loose yellow sacs on the sides of their head, that stand out like two oranges, the males present an imposing picture of pompous display and magnificence that melts not the flinty hearts of the coquetting spectators.

JAKE FLEAGLE, BANDIT, DIES AFTER CAPTURE

Terror of West Is Victim of Gun Wounds; Calls for Mother at End.

By United Press
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 15.—Little Jake Fleagle, of the notorious family of western bandits, died in a Springfield hospital at 9:55 a. m. today of bullet wounds, inflicted by authorities who captured him Tuesday as he was boarding a train at Branson, Mo.

Fleagle

The man who terrorized the west with bloody bandit robberies and sensational holdups, died calling for his mother.

"Tell her to hurry," he said. "I want to see her before I close my eyes."

His death prevented the state of Colorado from trying him for the murderous Lamar (Colo.) bank raid of two years ago in which three men were killed and for which Fleagle's brother Ralph was hanged recently in the Canon City (Colo.) prison.

With a dinner Tuesday night in the Spink-Arms, Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars feted Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, newly elected national commander of the body, when he visited here Tuesday and today.

The reception committee greeting Wolman, shown, left to right

In the above photo: Edward G. Schaub, Indiana department commander of V. F. W.; Charles R. Michaels, Wolman, Senator Arthur R. Robinson; Judge Solon A. Enloe, Walter T. White, John H. Ale, district director, United States Veterans' Bureau, and H. I. Robinson of Washington, national deputy chief of staff of V. F. W.

With a dinner Tuesday night in the Spink-Arms, Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars feted Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, newly elected national commander of the body, when he visited here Tuesday and today.

The reception committee greeting Wolman, shown, left to right

In the above photo: Edward G. Schaub, Indiana department commander of V. F. W.; Charles R. Michaels, Wolman, Senator Arthur R. Robinson; Judge Solon A. Enloe, Walter T. White, John H. Ale, district director, United States Veterans' Bureau, and H. I. Robinson of Washington, national deputy chief of staff of V. F. W.

With a dinner Tuesday night in the Spink-Arms, Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars feted Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, newly elected national commander of the body, when he visited here Tuesday and today.

The reception committee greeting Wolman, shown, left to right

In the above photo: Edward G. Schaub, Indiana department commander of V. F. W.; Charles R. Michaels, Wolman, Senator Arthur R. Robinson; Judge Solon A. Enloe, Walter T. White, John H. Ale, district director, United States Veterans' Bureau, and H. I. Robinson of Washington, national deputy chief of staff of V. F. W.

With a dinner Tuesday night in the Spink-Arms, Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars feted Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, newly elected national commander of the body, when he visited here Tuesday and today.

The reception committee greeting Wolman, shown, left to right

In the above photo: Edward G. Schaub, Indiana department commander of V. F. W.; Charles R. Michaels, Wolman, Senator Arthur R. Robinson; Judge Solon A. Enloe, Walter T. White, John H. Ale, district director, United States Veterans' Bureau, and H. I. Robinson of Washington, national deputy chief of staff of V. F. W.

With a dinner Tuesday night in the Spink-Arms, Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars feted Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, newly elected national commander of the body, when he visited here Tuesday and today.

The reception committee greeting Wolman, shown, left to right

In the above photo: Edward G. Schaub, Indiana department commander of V. F. W.; Charles R. Michaels, Wolman, Senator Arthur R. Robinson; Judge Solon A. Enloe, Walter T. White, John H. Ale, district director, United States Veterans' Bureau, and H. I. Robinson of Washington, national deputy chief of staff of V. F. W.

With a dinner Tuesday night in the Spink-Arms, Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars feted Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, newly elected national commander of the body, when he visited here Tuesday and today.

The reception committee greeting Wolman, shown, left to right

In the above photo: Edward G. Schaub, Indiana department commander of V. F. W.; Charles R. Michaels, Wolman, Senator Arthur R. Robinson; Judge Solon A. Enloe, Walter T. White, John H. Ale, district director, United States Veterans' Bureau, and H. I. Robinson of Washington, national deputy chief of staff of V. F. W.

With a dinner Tuesday night in the Spink-Arms, Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars feted Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, newly elected national commander of the body, when he visited here Tuesday and today.

The reception committee greeting Wolman, shown, left to right

In the above photo: Edward G. Schaub, Indiana department commander of V. F. W.; Charles R. Michaels, Wolman, Senator Arthur R. Robinson; Judge Solon A. Enloe, Walter T. White, John H. Ale, district director, United States Veterans' Bureau, and H. I. Robinson of Washington, national deputy chief of staff of V. F. W.

With a dinner Tuesday night in the Spink-Arms, Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars feted Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, newly elected national commander of the body, when he visited here Tuesday and today.

The reception committee greeting Wolman, shown, left to right

In the above photo: Edward G. Schaub, Indiana department commander of V. F. W.; Charles R. Michaels, Wolman, Senator Arthur R. Robinson; Judge Solon A. Enloe, Walter T. White, John H. Ale, district director, United States Veterans' Bureau, and H. I. Robinson of Washington, national deputy chief of staff of V. F. W.

With a dinner Tuesday night in the Spink-Arms, Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars feted Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, newly elected national commander of the body, when he visited here Tuesday and today.

The reception committee greeting Wolman, shown, left to right

In the above photo: Edward G. Schaub, Indiana department commander of V. F. W.; Charles R. Michaels, Wolman, Senator Arthur R. Robinson; Judge Solon A. Enloe, Walter T. White, John H. Ale, district director, United States Veterans' Bureau, and H. I. Robinson of Washington, national deputy chief of staff of V. F. W.

With a dinner Tuesday night in the Spink-Arms, Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars feted Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, newly elected national commander of the body, when he visited here Tuesday and today.

The reception committee greeting Wolman, shown, left to right

In the above photo: Edward G. Schaub, Indiana department commander of V. F. W.; Charles R. Michaels, Wolman, Senator Arthur R. Robinson; Judge Solon A. Enloe, Walter T. White, John H. Ale, district director, United States Veterans' Bureau, and H. I. Robinson of Washington, national deputy chief of staff of V. F. W.

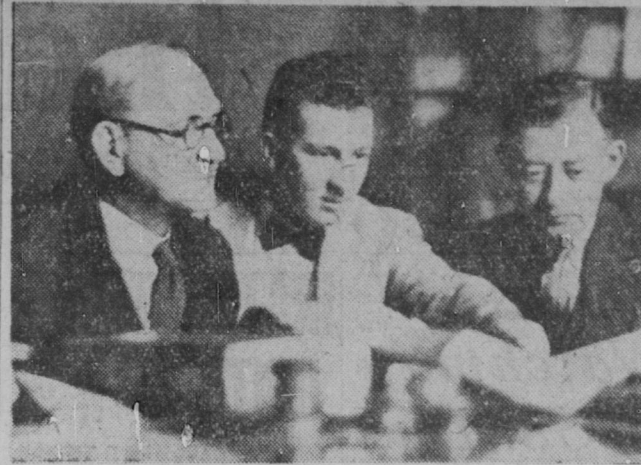

With a dinner Tuesday night in the Spink-Arms, Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars feted Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, newly elected national commander of the body, when he visited here Tuesday and today.

The reception committee greeting Wolman, shown, left to right

In the above photo: Edward G. Schaub, Indiana department commander of V. F. W.; Charles R. Michaels, Wolman, Senator Arthur R. Robinson; Judge Solon A. Enloe, Walter T. White, John H. Ale, district director, United States Veterans' Bureau, and H. I. Robinson of Washington, national deputy chief of staff of V. F. W.

With a dinner Tuesday night in the Spink-Arms, Indiana Veterans of Foreign Wars feted Paul C. Wolman, of Baltimore, newly elected national commander of the body, when he visited here Tuesday and today.

Work on Mob Killings

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).

Attorney-General James M. Ogden (left) left final battle plans against Sheriff Jacob Campbell of Grant county and the Marion lynchers at a conference this morning with deputies Merl Wall (center) and Earl Stroup (right).