Lack of Cash Corn and New Crop Feeding Sends Prices Up.

By United Press
CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—An advance in Russian prices with a drop in offerings gave wheat a sharp upturn at Liverpool today and caused a good advance on the Board of Trade at the opening. The Liverpool market was very strong, with shorts covering on the Russian development and on a better demand for spot wheat.

Buenos Aires started slow, but was 1 to 1½ cents higher at mid-day. Corn was strong with wheat and on disappointing husking returns. Oats were firm.

At the opening wheat was ½ to

Liverpool opened about as expected, but advanced rapidly and sharply to stand 1 7/8 to 2 cents higher at mid-afternoon. Reduction of the selling pressure and more ready absorption of wheat has resulted in a better feeling, which most traders attribute to the change in securities. Pressure is expected on the bulges as long as seem to be inclined to accept profits.

The country is not selling cash corn as had been expected and this has given a better tone to the cash has given a better tone to the cash market and discouraged the short selling of futures. The farmers have begun feeding new corn earlier and the need for all the corn that has been raised becomes more apparent daily.

The strength in the other grains supports oats in the absence of any individual news. Locals take profits on the advances, but cash interests are buying the current month owing to the good feeding demand.

CHARGES FRAUD TO HIS OWN ATTORNEY

Jeweler Sues Lawyer, Man Who

Sold Him Store, for Damages.
Charging his attorney and another defendant with using "trickery" to make him surrender ownership of a jewelry store at 18 South Illinois street, Samuel Epstein, proprietor, filed suit today in superior court three for $15,000 damages.
Louis Rosenberg, attorney, and Sam Dorfman, are defendants.

According to the complaint, Epstein bought the store from Dorfman in January, 1927, for $5,000. Epstein ran the store profitably until Jan. 5, 1928, when, he says, on advice of Attorney Rosenberg, he signed "a paper" and a few days

The drop of almost forty points in the stock within the last six weeks, suggests that the earnings report had been fairly well discounted. Possibly there has been over-discounting of other reports to come. The financial atmosphere appears to have improved considerably, and a continuation of Mender's recovery

New York Police Commissioner Says Planes Will Be Used.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Police Commissioner Mulrooney predicts that within a few years criminals will use airplanes to escape arrest just as they now frequently make their getaway in motor cars. The commissioner, speaking before a civic club, defended the existence of an aviation branch in the police department, adding that it was best to have a well-drilled air force available when criminals adopt planes for their attempted escapes.
