

Whiskers

Among Savoldi's Weaknesses Is His Inability to Shave Himself.

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—There are two things jumping Joe Savoldi, Notre Dame's black-beard, can't do, and one of them may prevent him from winning recognition as an all-America football player.

Joe, who can pack 192 pounds and a football as good, or better, than any man in the Midwest, can't shave without cutting himself, so he just lets his whiskers grow. All-America football stars don't necessarily have to be clean-shaven, but they do have to disfigure opponents' plays, bat down passes and stop a runner in the open field.

Joe isn't so good on defense, but when Notre Dame has the ball, the Three Oaks (Mike) Italian is the play-off man. The day Savoldi is shaven by some rival team is going to be one about the day the 1930 Notre Dame team is beaten.

SAVOLDI opened the season by fumbling a kickoff in the Southern Methodist game. He juggled the ball around until he was surrounded by a group of Texans. He was bottled up in one corner of the field one minute, the next he was streaking way down the other side of the gridiron, and he didn't stop until he had covered ninety-seven yards for Notre Dame's second touchdown.

He played less than ten minutes against Navy, carried the ball only eleven times, but gained 123 yards and scored three of his team's touchdowns in a 26-10-2 triumph over the Midlens.

Carnegie Tech came to South Bend last week with a defense built for Savoldi, but Joe didn't care to carry the ball much. Watching him, Carnegie allowed Brill and Schwartz to get away for most of the game, but Joe gained every time he carried the ball against Carnegie.

After sweeping around Navy's end for the first touchdown, Savoldi walked back to two of his teammates who had taken out tacklers and let the ball pass. The crowd, who were crowded around him, thought they might have missed in watching him.

JOE is good at repartee, as the following incident illustrates. Before the Carnegie game he came in Rockne's office with a week's growth of beard on his swarthy face.

"Rock, I'd like two tickets for the game?"

Other members of the team had explained who they wanted their tickets for, and Rockne inquired:

"No. Tickets."

"Joe got four."

Savoldi isn't regarded as Notre Dame's regular full back, that honor going to Moon Mullins, who is a good all-around player. It doesn't matter to Joe, though.

"Just let me run with the ball, that's all I ask," he says.

Two Plans to Remedy Prep Sports Problems Offered

BY DICK MILLER
Efforts to restore calm in the turbulent Indiana high school athletic association were seen in every section of the state last week, following reports that representatives of several large schools in the state had organized and issued an ultimatum to the association demanding equal representation on the board of control and legislative body. A threat to withdraw from the I. H. S. A. annual cage tourney was rumored.

It was learned today that Milo H. Stuart, principal of Technichal and recently elected president of the Indiana State Teachers' Association, is working on two proposals, and will take an active hand in an effort to bring about a solution of the trouble.

It is understood that Stuart's two proposals will be to classify the schools of the state into five divisions, according to their enrollment, giving each class a representative on the board of control and members on the legislative committee or classify the schools A, B and C, according to enrollment. In the latter plan each class would have a state championship tournament.

Quarried about the two proposals, several school men seemed to favor the five-class plan, stating that many small schools choose to play the larger ones in basketball because each team has only five boys. Although there are abundant problems facing the I. H. S. A. at this time, it was the opinion of A. L. Trester, commissioner of high school athletics, that the equality of representation would solve them all.

"If the men from every class of the association can't settle the prob-

NEW YORK, Oct. 24.—Football teams of the nation will settle down to a steady grind in games of Saturday. With scarcely an exception the leading elevens will play contests with teams of their own size and strength.

An important exception is made in the case of Carnegie Tech, which meets Western Reserve at Cleveland, Carnegie, already virtually out of the running for the "national football championship" because of a loss to Notre Dame last Saturday, should be able to trounce Reserve. Another exception occurs in Evansville, Ill., where Northwestern's unbeaten Big Ten team will play Centre.

Chuck Klein Arrives Home

Chuck Klein, slugging Philly outfielder, arrived at his Indianapolis home today fresh from Cuba, where he has been playing a series of games as a member of Dan Bancroft's all-star big league team.

Klein said he enjoyed the trip to the tropical isle and is looking in the best of condition. Chuck is a bowling enthusiast and will start at once knocking down the maples on local alleys.

Mississippi Is Chicago's Foe

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Chicago's last chance for a real football victory this season may come Saturday, when the Maroons meet Mississippi at Stagg field. Chicago won a double-header on the opening day of the season, but has been overwhelmed by Wisconsin and Florida in its last two games.

Princeton, Purdue, Michigan and Illinois are the other opponents on Chicago's schedule. The southern team was scheduled to arrive today.

TRAIN FOR MONDAY SCRAP

Jimmy Carr, who will appear in the main go at Beal's indoor arena Monday night, is training daily at the Pioneer A. C. Kid Mohawk also is working out. There will be six bouts and a battle royal Monday, action starting at 8:30. Beal's arena is in the 1400 block, South Sheppard street.

Notre Dame, as usual, finds itself in the spotlight, but there is sufficient glare for a few others. Pittsburgh will entertain Notre Dame at Pitt stadium. This game seems to be a toss-up, and may be an even money proposition, but there is a football axiom which says, "when in doubt pick Knute Rockne."

Flanking this game is the Yale-Army meeting at New Haven, this seems to be an even thing, with no real trend of favor towards either contestant. Yale adherents and many football experts believe that Albie Booth, small Yale back, will win for Eli.

Dartmouth Strong

Harvard's defeat at the hands of Army has taken some of the glamor off the game with Dartmouth. A record of 225 points scored to none for its opponents has placed Dartmouth in the favored position in this game, but the running of the brilliant Sam Batchelder, and the line-plugging ability of Johnnie Scherschewsky may overcome Stan Yulick, Gay Bromberg, and the other Big Green backs.

Residents of New York are greatly interested in the New York Fordham game at Yankee stadium. These teams are unbeaten. Each has a strong line and some adept backs.

Elsewhere in the east there's not so much. For traditional or other reasons the remaining consequential eastern games of the day include Princeton-Navy, Penn-Lehigh and Lafayette-W. & J.

The far coast has several attractive meetings, but none to compare with the Stanford-U. S. C. game at Palo Alto. Washington vs. California ranks as a second coast game of prominence.

Southern Card

The Midwest has two grand games—Michigan-Illinois and Purdue-Wisconsin. Michigan is undefeated. So is Wisconsin.

Actually the best football of the day may be played in the south. Northern gridiron followers by now have come to realize that real ball is played below the Mason-Dixon line. Features include Georgia-Auburn, Georgia Tech-Tulane, Tennessee-North Carolina, and Alabama-Vanderbilt.

The southwest has the makings of a great intersectional. Southern Methodist will dedicate a new stadium in entertaining Indiana. There's only one factor militating against S. M. U. in this game and that's the stadium dedicatory jinx.

Veteran in Wabash Line

IN an effort to strengthen his forward wall for the tilt with the undefeated Ball Teachers college eleven at Crawfordsville tonight, Coach Pete Vaughan of Wabash has shifted Bjork, husky veteran shown above, from tackle to end. Bjork has been a standout in the Scarlet line for two seasons, and his play this year is the best of his career. He is fast and strong on defense. The upset victory over James Millikin last week has given Vaughan's crew confidence and they hope to break the Cardinal's victory string tonight. It will be the final after-dark tilt for the Cavemen, who plan to return to daylight performing.

Relief Pitcher Poles Homer and Wins for Hollywood

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 24.—Hollywood won its second consecutive game from Los Angeles, 14 to 12, Thursday, in the second of their post-season contests for the championship of the Pacific Coast League. Pitcher George Hollerson, who relieved for Hollywood, won his own game in the seventh when his home run scored two men ahead and gave the Stars a 13-to-11 advantage that assured them of victory.

It was another slugging match such as the first game Wednesday, in which Hollywood triumphed, 9 to 8. A total of forty-three runs has been scored in seventeen and one-half innings. There were six home runs Thursday, one for Los Angeles by Harper and others for Hollywood by Shellenback, Severide, Hollerson and Bardee, the latter getting two. The Angels used four pitchers and Hollywood two, Walsh being charged with the loss and Hollerson getting credit for the victory. Score:

Los Angeles..... 620 620 110-12 18 0
Hollywood..... 003 142 314-14 15 1
Batter: Yerkes, Walsh, Gable, and Hannah; Shellenback, Hollerson and Bardee.
Pitcher: Severide.

RISKO FOULS DANIELS

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—Dick Daniels, 185½, of St. Paul, won by a foul over Johnny Risko, 198, of Cleveland, in the seventh round of a scheduled 10-round bout at Boston Garden Thursday night. Daniels, who is but 21 years old, had scored knockdowns in the first and second rounds against his heavier opponent.

Yale Ready for Cadets

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 24.—With the arrival of Army today the stage was set for the east's most important football battle Saturday when the Cadets tackle Yale in a tilt that will have much bearing on the eastern championship.

In Thursday's workout, Coach Mel Stevens had his regular backfield of Booth, Austen, Dun and Crowley, at work and indicated that he would start them Saturday. More than 70,000 fans are expected to jam Yale bowl for the game.

2 Pitt Stars in Shape for Irish Battle

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24.—Indications today were that Coach Jock Sutherland would be able to start his strongest lineup against Notre Dame here on Saturday despite the talk that the Pittsburgh camp was composed largely of cripples.

Jim MacMurdo, injured in the West Virginia game three weeks ago, likely will resume his place at left end, and Franklin Hood, 200-pound full back is also expected to open the game against the Irish.

The Notre Dame Squad, thirty-eight strong, arrived today and will work out at the stadium this afternoon.

I. U. Band and Grid Team on Way to Texas

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Oct. 24.—The Indiana football squad, with a large group of supporters and the Hoosiers' 108-piece band, was en route to Dallas, Tex., today to play Southern Methodist in the dedication game at the new Fair park stadium. Thirty-one Indiana players composed the squad.

The Hoosiers stopped in Memphis this morning for a light workout, and were expected to reach Dallas in time for another limbering up drill today.

Joe Zeller, guard, was named captain for Saturday's game.

TUT STOPS TOWNSEND

DETROIT, Mich., Oct. 24.—King Tut, 142½, Milwaukee, knocked out Billy Townsend, 141½, Vancouver, B. C., in the sixth round here Thursday.

Illinois and Michigan on Edge for Tilt

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 24.—The Illinois football squad of thirty-two players, coaches and trainers, left early today for Ann Arbor, Mich., where the Illini will play Michigan Saturday.

In Thursday's workout Garner played tackle instead of Hills and Bennett was at Owen's end.

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 24.—A crowd of 86,000, the largest thus far of the Big Ten season, is expected to see the Michigan-Illinois game Saturday. Fearing injury to his Michigan regulars, Coach Kille abandoned scrimmage Thursday, and planned only a light drill today.

THE twelve-man football idea advocated by Head Coach Joe Meyer of St. Xavier university, Cincinnati, will be demonstrated to the public in an amateur game in the Queen City, Sunday afternoon, when the Friars Club and De Molay teams, both of Cincinnati, take to the gridiron. There is much local Cincinnati interest in the game and a number of Buckeye state coaches will attend. The twelve-player plan, if ever used by colleges, would be tough on sports writers but on the other hand would be the answer to another prayer for the telegraph companies on toll service.

Owner Well of the Cincy Reds cut off three men from the Cincy office force this week, men who have been in the employment of the club for years. One was employed twenty-eight years, another twenty years. The old depression in business wields a cruel whip when it strikes.

THE matter of the annual payment of $10,000 to Garry Herrmann, former Red president, again comes up for discussion. Feeble and unable to work and practically confined to the home of a son-in-law most of the time, the once gay spender and popular Garry, has been donated ten grand each year by the ball club since leaving the post as leader. A suggestion to Judge Landis that his office assume the yearly payment to Herrmann met with the explanation that it was beyond the authority of the commissioner, and the National League will receive the next appeal.

LIGHT station. Blythe Hendricks will be chief announcer at the "mike" during the struggle and the broadcast will start at about 1:45. The Notre Dame-Pittsburgh game will be on several stations, with both national radio chains carrying the details.

Thurman and Gierke on Armory Bill Tuesday

Johnny Thurman, Louisville featherweight, has been signed to meet Frank Gierke of this city in the opening four-round prelim at the Armory Tuesday night.

Thurman has made several good showings here in the last few years. Lining up of the opener completed the Legion card, the other prelims and the semi-windup preceding the Roy Wallace-George LaRocco feature having already been announced in The Times.

Wallace has secured several big sparring partners work with in his daily training sessions at the Victory gym, and is devoting lots of time to sharpening up his right that has carried him to victory so often.

BLUE HARRIERS READY

Michigan State's undefeated harriers will oppose Butler in a dual cross-country meet over the Fairview course Saturday. Urbain, Jones, Boaz, Phegley, Campbell, Ward and See right, who were on the squad which defeated Notre Dame last week, will compose the Blue team, according to Coach Phillips.

PARK SCHOOL DRILLS Although Park school's scheduled game with Rushville today was called off, coach Lou Reichel sent his squad through a stiff workout in preparation for the Wilkison contest next Friday.

STANLEY SHOOT VICTOR Breaking fifty-one out of seventy-four targets, Stanley captured top honors in the Spring Lake Skeet Club shoot Thursday. Fox was second with thirty-nine out of fifty.

THROAT DOCTORS pick

OLD GOLD

in Public Test of 4 Leading Cigarettes

By ROBERT RIPLEY, Himself

"Believe it or not... Here's real authority. Registered physicians, specializing in the care of the nose and throat! Doctors who see every day the ill-effects of cigarettes that are too harsh, too raw, too irritating to delicate membranes.

"I picked the Doctors as taste-testers because they naturally judge cigarettes for their throat-ease.

"This was to be a taste-test... but I knew every doctor would instinctively rate the four cigarettes on their smoothness and throat-comfort as well as their flavor.

"Believe it or not... these registered physicians, without knowing what brand they were choosing, picked OLD GOLD by the decisive ratio of 2 to 1.

"I'm getting used to amazing victories for OLD GOLD... but I'll admit this one would be hard to believe if I hadn't personally counted the votes. A Certified Public Accountant also audited the score."

DOCTORS MAKE TASTE-TEST! Here's the latest Ripley Cigarette test in action—New York Throat Specialists voted OLD GOLD best.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT... here's the Final Score!

"I certify that an audit of the complete and final results of the Ripley taste-test conducted with Throat Specialists gave OLD GOLD 50%, Brand X 25%; Brand Y 0% and Brand Z 25%." Signed, J. S. M. Goodloe, Certified Public Accountant. Left—Ripley Checking Score.
