

WISCONSIN TOO POWERFUL FOR PURDUE, ROCKNE ASSERTS

Illinois May Surprise Strong Michigan Team

Two Midwestern Grid Features Will Be Close, Note Dame Mentor Predicts: Regards Irish-Pitt Tilt Tossup, With S. M. U. Choice Over Indiana.

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24.—The two outstanding games in the middle this week-end will be the annual clash between Michigan and Illinois and the Badger invasion of the Boilmakers' lair at Lafayette.

Michigan, from its fine showing the last two weeks, would appear to be the outstanding favorite, but you never can tell about one of Bob Zuppke's teams after they have been beaten. Zuppke, in my opinion, is one of the most resourceful coaches in the country and he is never so dangerous as when he has his boys on the wall. So look for the fighting Illini to do a little surprising this week-end.

Wisconsin, from the tremendous power they showed last Saturday against Penn, looks a little better than Purdue. Schneller and Behr, Badger backs, tore the Penn line to shreds, while Lusby tossed some neat and accurate forwards.

Of course, Purdue won't indulge in any more orgies of fumbling which marred their game against Michigan and Noble Kiser's boys will be mighty tough to beat in their home lot. Yet it looks as though Wisconsin is gathering momentum for a big year.

Indiana plays Southern Methodist at Dallas and I am afraid the Hoosiers will find the S. M. U. passing attack too much in the semi-tropical sun of Texas.

If a "norther" were to blow up Pat's boys might have a chance, but it is as hot as normally they will have wilted long before the second half is well under way.

Chicago should take Mississippi, while Northwestern, after a harrowing three weeks, gets a respite against Cent.

Michigan State, which certainly is making some football history up at East Lansing by virtue of its tie with Michigan and victory over Colgate, has an easy game against Case.

As regards the Pitt-Notre Dame game, I refuse to make any prediction. Last week I felt sure that Carnegie would beat us and yet our team came along and surprised me more than any one else by the high caliber of ball they played against Wally Steffen's group.

I am frank to admit that I don't know what they will do against Pitt or what Pitt will do against us, but I believe it will be a ball game well worth seeing.

Purdue, Illinois Keyed for 'Last Ditch' Big Ten Stands

BY DIXON STEWART

CHICAGO, Oct. 24.—Purdue's Boilmakers, 1929 Big Ten champions, and Bob Zuppke's green but dangerous Illini, were keyed today for "last ditch" stands which may upset current calculations on the 1930 western conference race.

Purdue, beaten by Michigan, 14-13, in its opening conference game, still has championship aspirations, and can remain a dangerous contender by defeating Wisconsin in Saturday's home-coming contest at Ross-Ade stadium, Lafayette.

Gehrig Needs Repair Work

By Times Special

NEW YORK, Oct. 23.—Lou Gehrig, New York Yankees' first baseman, will enter the hospital here soon for a series of minor operations. He will have repairs made on a finger he broke three weeks before the end of the 1930 season and an elbow damaged two years ago.

Gehrig at present is playing first base with Babe Ruth's barnstorming outfit and will wait until they close their campaign Sunday at Brooklyn before entering the hospital.

BADGERS PLAN PASSES

By United Press

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 24.—Wisconsin's final practice before leaving for Lafayette to meet the Purdue Boilmakers indicated that the Badgers expect to make considerable use of passes in attempting to keep their undefeated record intact.

Bill Lusby did most of the passing. A squad of thirty-four players was named to make the trip.

TWINS DISPLAY PUNCH

By Times Special

PATERSON, N. J., Oct. 24.—The Perlick twins of Kalamazoo, junior welterweights, scored decisive victories here Thursday night by disposing of their opponents with haymakers. Ferman Perlick stopped Jackie Shupack of Paterson in one round and Henry Perlick uncorked a knockout on Pete Petrolle in the seventh round.

STRIB, CHRISTNER SIGNED

BOSTON, Oct. 24.—Eddie Mack, local promoter, has signed Young Strirling of Atlanta and K. O. Christner of Akron, O., heavyweights, for a ten-round bout here next Friday. Strirling and Christner are to have met at Newark, N. J. Thursday night, but the bout was called off, promoters saying Christner had injured a knee.

OLYMPICS PLAY ELWOOD

Riverside Olympics will practice tonight for their tilt Sunday with Elwood. All players must be on hand by 7:30 at Riverside park. State teams write or wire Howdy Stout, 709 Park avenue, phone Lincoln 1827, for games.

LOUGHREN WHIPS MAIER

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Oct. 24.—Tommy Loughren, 182, Philadelphia, defeated Dave Maier, 177½, Milwaukee, in ten rounds here Thursday. Curtiss Brown, 140, Milwaukee, outpointed Joe Azzera, 140%, Milwaukee, 8.

Talk Deal

By Times Special

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 24.—There is something brewing between the Pittsburgh Pirates and Cincinnati Reds and a deal is expected to be announced shortly. Officials of the two clubs were in secret conference here Thursday and the fact that Jewel Ems was present indicates he will be retained as Pirate manager.

DAN HOWLEY, CINCY PILOT

President Sidney Well and Owner Barney Dreyfuss were the others on the session. It is believed Dick Bartell, local shortstop, will be sent to the Queen City if a transaction is made.

5 Tilts on Prep Card

Washington and Shortridge Clash in Feature Contest.

Seven city prep elevens today were on edge for important tilts over the week-end. Two contests were on the program for this afternoon, two Saturday afternoon and one Saturday night.

Saturday's feature tilt will be played under the arcs at Butler bowl, with Shortridge and Washington, city rivals, providing the action. The Blue Devils will be defending the 1929 city series crown against a formidable west side crew which includes both power and deception in its attack.

Bloomington, victors over Tech, will tackle Cathedral in the Irish home-coming battle at Washington Park Saturday afternoon. Coach Denehart's crew, in top shape after a week of hard work, is the favorite.

Featuring today's card was the city series tilt between Tech and Manual at the south side field.

Frankfort's undefeated eleven opened Broad Ripple in the other attraction today at Shortridge field.

Crispus Attucks, local Negro eleven, will face stern opposition in Central of Louisville at Penney park Saturday afternoon. Coach Shulburne's team is in top shape, and Rice and Myers, speedy backs, are expected to provide the victory margin for the locals.
