

LIEBER CHARGES ARE RETRACTED BY MAGAZINE

Game Chief Wins Another Victory Over Evans; Libel to Be Quashed.

Another victory for Director Richard Lieber of the state conservation department and a telling blow against Representative Herbert H. Evans (Rep., Newcastle), in his anti-Lieber campaign, was recorded today.

"Outdoor Life and Recreation," the magazine in which Evans unloaded numerous charges against Lieber and the conduct of the fish and game division of the conservation department has published a complete retraction, discrediting the Evans story and apologizing for publishing it.

Second Lieber Victory

This is the second Lieber victory. The other was the overthrow of Evans as president of the Indiana Fish, Game and Forest League and defeat of Evans inspired resolutions condemning Lieber and approving the published charges.

"Conservation in Indiana—a Political Racket" was the title of the Evans' article published in the magazine in October. "A Retraction and An Apology" is the title of the article repudiating the Evans story in the December issue.

Two officials of the publishing company investigated the Evans charges and the article in refutation followed.

"Honest Correction"

In a letter to Lieber, the editor-in-chief of the publication, J. A. McGuire, says in part:

"The article is an honest effort to correct a mistake, and explains the circumstances which led us to make it. That we regret the occurrence is made fully apparent."

Lieber today declared that libel action against the magazine will not be pushed, but Evans still may figure in a suit. Lieber declared Evans had denied authenticity of the charges in a letter to McGuire and then went ahead forcing anti-Lieber resolutions, based on the article, through sportsmen's organizations wherever possible.

RADIO IS PRAISED BY WIRE SERVICE CHIEF

Broadcasts Sharpen Desire to Read, United Press President Says.

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—The radio is "working hard for the American Press, serving as a greater and more efficient bulletin board than the press ever conceived," according to Kark A. Bickel, president of the United Press.

"The newspaper lives on the stimulated curiosity and the aroused intelligence of its readers," Bickel said Sunday night in Collier's radio hour. "Anything that tends to lift and widen the boundaries of men's minds only sharpens to a keener edge their desire to read about the objects of their interest."

On the other hand, "the radio could not function smoothly and efficiently for a week without the newspaper co-operation," he declared.

HOT STOVE IN LOOT OF HOME STRIPPERS

Robbers Make Clean Sweep While Couple Attend Movie.

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—Mr. and Mrs. Chester Mallow banked the coal stove so it would stay hot for several hours Sunday night and went out to a movie.

"It's a good thing we left a fire," shivered Mallow, as they walked homeward.

"They entered their home and locked around. The sofa chairs, rug, refrigerator, bed, all of the furniture, in fact, was gone."

"Evidently they hauled it away in a moving van," said Mallow; "but how did they carry out that red-hot stove?"

Gone, but Not Forgotten

Automobiles reported to police as stolen belong to:

Charles Newitt, 1144 East Ohio street, Chevrolet coupe, 69-124, from 841 Massachusetts avenue.

Frank Dillinger, 609 South Meridian street, Chevrolet coupe, 67-138, from Capitol avenue and Louisiana street.

Edith Hall, 2311 Ruckle street, Ford sedan, 76-25, from Washington and Illinois streets.

Miss J. R. Harlow, 241 North Holmes avenue, Chevrolet sedan, 79-247, from Michigan street and King avenue.

A. J. Sampson, 1505 LeGrand avenue, Ford sedan, from California and New York streets.

John Poir, 3549 North Meridian street, Ford coupe, 62-464, from 1010 North Meridian street.

Loren Hicks, Akron, from Market and Alabama streets.

Independent Box Company, 317 Kansas street, Ford truck, from 317 Kansas street.

BACK HOME AGAIN

Stolen automobiles recovered by police belong to:

Edith Hall, 2311 Ruckle street, Ford sedan, found at Washington street and Tenth avenue.

C. B. Webb, 1917 Dexter street, Hudson coach, found at 2200 Hillside avenue.

Vernon Man Held in Theft

Elmer Wilkerson, Vernon, arrested at his home Sunday, was returned here today to face burglary and grand larceny charges. He was accused of theft of $45 from a grocery operated by Joseph Sandler at 3946 Roosevelt avenue.

Just Knew It!

NEW YORK, Nov. 10.—Gifford Pinchot, just elected Governor of Pennsylvania over the protest of the Democratic party and a great many organization Republicans, was certain he would win the governorship.

When the Social Register Association of New York mailed out cards to be filled in with addresses and other information on persons whose names appear in its volumes, Pinchot promptly replied on the question as to his 1931 address:

"Change from 1615 Rhode Island avenue, Washington, D. C., to Executive Mansion, Harrisburg, Pa."

And that's what was done—by the Social Register Association and by the voters of Pennsylvania.

500 Chevrolet Dealers in City for Conference

Extensive Sales Program to Be Explained at Sessions.

Approximately 500 Chevrolet dealers and their associated bankers in the Indianapolis area are here today for a two-day meeting with the Chevrolet home office officials, to hear the extensive sales program planned for 1931 by the Chevrolet Motor Company.

W. D. Knudsen, president and general manager, R. K. White, advertising manager, and other executives of the Chevrolet central office in Detroit, announced the company's policies for the new year during a noonday luncheon at the Claypool hotel, and in an elaborate stage presentation in the English theater during the afternoon.

Today's meeting is the second of fifty similar dealer-sales gatherings being held by Chevrolet in as many key points from coast to coast in the five-week period to end Dec. 12.

White directed the meeting here today, assisted by other executives from the central office, and experts in automobile merchandising and service. Associated with White in directing the day's activities was A. F. Young, sales manager of the Indianapolis region which embraces the zone.

C. P. Fiskin, Indianapolis zone manager, acts as host to the visiting officials and will take an important part in the meeting. Aiding him are J. H. Winn, assistant zone manager; L. G. Simmons, sales promotion manager; W. D. Pidd, parts and service manager; D. V. Clem, accounting manager; W. C. Walters, car distributor; L. M. Poe, assistant parts and service manager, and F. L. O'Brien, office manager.

What Chevrolet plans to do in 1931 and how it proposes to attain its goal, will be outlined graphically to the retail organization in this area during the day's program.

SHIP SINKS; 18 DEAD

Rescuers Find Wreckage After Pacific Storm.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 10.—Rescue boats going to the aid of thirty-seven seamen aboard a stranded tanker picked up wreckage today from the steam schooner Brooklyn which sank in a Pacific storm off Eureka, Cal., Saturday with the loss of eighteen lives.

Tugs battled through the night to remove the tanker Tamahua from a reef off Pigeon point. Although the craft has been battered by heavy seas since it grounded Thursday, the crew members refused to be taken off.

Reports from along the coast today indicated other lives may have been lost in the storms of last week. Three vessels were reported to have been in trouble and narrowly averted disaster.

Cigarette Stump Starts Fire

A cigarette stump ignited trash in the basement of the Rolla D. Hipple grocery, 4202 College avenue, causing $800 damage today. Loss chiefly was from smoke and water.

FORMATION OF NEW FIRM IS ANNOUNCED

Mars Hill Products Company Will Make Wood Specialties.

Organization of the Mars Hill Products Company to manufacture wood specialties of all kinds has been announced by C. G. Dunphy, Chamber of Commerce acting industrial commissioner.

Officers are James A. Daugherty, president; H. J. Davy Jr., vice-president and general manager, and Edmund H. Emery, secretary.

Two of the buildings formerly occupied by the Stenotype Company at Mars Hill will be used by the new concern. It has complete woodworking equipment.

FARM FREIGHT CUT RATES DISCONTINUED

Railroads Cite Huge Revenue Loss; Administration Opposes.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 10.—A decision by railroads to discontinue the emergency reduction in freight rates to drought-stricken areas in twenty-one states was announced today. The United Press learned it was made over protest of the administration, and there is a possibility it may be discussed further.

The railroad managements in a statement said the revenue loss from more than 60,000 carloads of stock feed and livestock in and out of these areas will amount to several millions of dollars. "Such a drain of the revenues can not longer be continued," the statement said.

PRINTERS HEAR LUDLOW

All officers of the Old Time Printers' Association were re-elected Sunday at the annual meeting at Typographical Terrace.

Louis Ludlow, Seventh district congressman, spoke.

Officers re-elected included William T. Ellis, president; Robert E. Darnaby, vice-president; William A. Greene, secretary; and Edgar A. Perkins, Frank McNamara and Edward P. Barry, directors.

Landis Speaks on Disarmament

"The United States will continue to lead the fight for disarmament," Frederick Landis, Logansport editor, said at the first of the twenty-seventh annual series of Big Meetings sponsored by the Y. M. C. A. in B. F. Keith's theater Sunday afternoon.

DRIVES HEAD-ON INTO TRACTION; AUTOIST LIVES

City Man Has Miraculous Escape After Crash With Interurban.

Charles Kernodle, 53, of 322 South Missouri street, was in good condition in city hospital, physicians said today, having survived miraculously a head-on crash with a speeding T. H. I. & E. Interurban near Cumberland.

Blinded by many auto lights on National road Sunday night, Kernodle drove his car on the tracks, which parallel the pavement, and hit the interurban. His arm was fractured, and he sustained head injuries.

Its air compression tank punctured, the interurban rolled more than a mile before it stopped.

Samuel Price, 8, of 1715 Naomi street, was injured seriously when run down by an auto at Minnesota street and State avenue Sunday afternoon. Witnesses said he darted from behind a street car into the path of the car, driven by Laird Landis, 54, of Beech Grove.

Others hurt in week-end crashes included:

George Sutton, 22, R. R. 1, Box 159B, leg fractured; Mrs. Thresa Sutton, 22, same address, cut and bruised, collision on county line road, one-half mile north of Rockville road Saturday night.

Miss Vivian Brandon, 17, Zionsville, and Mrs. Nettie Cook, Zionsville, minor injuries, collision one-mile south of Old Augusta on Michigan road.

Herbert H. Kirsch, 1519 South Alabama street, cut and bruised, collision with utility pole, 1926 West Washington street early today. Two suit cases with clothing valued at $100, later was stolen from the car.

GUARD ACCUSED KILLER

Cops Claim Confession of Wife Burning; Fear Suicide.

JERSEY CITY, Nov. 10.—Howard Swavely, insurance man who confessed, police say, to the torch murder of his wife, closely was guarded in his cell today to prevent his carrying out threats to commit suicide.

Police said Swavely admitted setting fire to his wife, Elizabeth, as she lay in bed. He denied her $17,000 insurance was the motive, but said she had nagged him.
