

MERCY SHOWN TRAITORS 'ACT OF CONFIDENCE'

Soviet Masses Expected to Be Satisfied Without Death Penalty.

BY EUGENE LYONS
United Press Staff Correspondent MOSCOW, Dec. 9.—The commutation of sentences in the counter-revolutionary trial was explained today by the Soviet press as a manifestation of Soviet economic and political self-confidence.

It remained difficult to judge how the millions who had clamored for "the heads of the traitors" would receive the news of the commutations.

First indications were that the masses would greet the granting of mercy to five prominent professors sentenced to death—and three of their comrades given ten-year prison terms—with general satisfaction.

May Serve State

The masses appeared to have the consciousness of power through the arrest and sentence of the alleged plotters, and an ennobling sense of generosity through the mercy shown the prisoners by the Zik, or central executive committee of the Soviet Union, equivalent to parliament in other countries.

There was no indication of where Professor Leonid Ramzin, leader of the conspirators, and his fellow prisoners would be confined.

Ramzin and Alexander Fedotov, head of the textile institute, as well as other specialists among the defendants who held important positions in the Soviet industrial plan, led to the belief that they might be held close to centers where their scientific knowledge could be used by the state.

Imprisoned on Islands

Normally, political convicts are sent to the Solovetzky islands, north of Archangel, or some other far northern internment camp.

It is common knowledge, however, that in the past some convicted technicians in transport, mining, and other industries have continued to work under official surveillance.

The hope of shortening their terms usually makes prisoners very anxious to serve the government.

WRITES ARRANGED FOR W. A. SHOEMAKER, 55

Funeral Services for Business Man to Be Held Wednesday.

Funeral services for William A.
Shoemaker, 55, 826 West drive, Woodruff Place, who died Monday afternoon, will be held at 11 Wednesday morning at the Plummer & Buchanan mortuary.

The Rev. J. S. Milner, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, and the Rev. George Arthur Frantz, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, will officiate. Burial will be at Crown Hill cemetery.

Mr. Shoemaker was born in Zanesville, O., Sept. 6, 1875. He came to Indianapolis in 1918, and was engaged in the brick and tile business until his recent illness.

URGES ALL TO TEST KONJOLA

Indianapolis Man, Who Suffered for Years, Regained Health and Fifty Pounds.

The real test of any medicine is just this: Does it make good? Does it do the things it is intended to do?
Well, seven million bottles of Kon-jola were used in two years, and a medicine would have to make good to make a record like that.

MR. FRANK HENRY

Take the experience of Mr. Frank Henry 2108 East Thirtieth street, this city, as a typical case of this new and different medicine of thirty-two ingredients at work. Think over what he says; consider what Konjola did for him, and then meet the Konjola Man at Hook's Dependable Drug Store, Illinois and Washington streets, Indianapolis, and get all the facts about this remarkable compound for the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels, and for rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness.

But right now read what Mr.
Henry said to the Konjola Man:
"I had indigestion for a great many years. Food soured, gas formed and I suffered terrible misery. I lost weight and finally had to give up work. My kidneys became affected; my back hurt and at night I had to get up seven or eight times. A bad liver caused headaches and dizzy spells. My complexion was sallow; dark spots came before my eyes and my bowels were slow to move. I took seven bottles of Konjola and every symptom vanished. I gained fifty pounds, since taking Konjola, and that was two years ago. I surely recommend Konjola to any one, for today I consider myself in perfect health."

Konjola is no idealized to give mere temporary relief; it is not that kind of medicine. Konjola contains no alcohol, no nerve-depressing drugs, no heart-depressing chemicals.

The Konjola Man is at Hook's Dependable Drug Store, Illinois and Washington streets, Indianapolis, where daily he is explaining Kon-jola and its amazing record.

BEN LINDSEY, MANNING WILL MEET IN COURT

Hearing Friday May Lead to Filing of Damage Suit by Judge.

By United Press

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—The Judge Ben B. Lindsey-Bishop William T.
Manning controversy, which reached a climax Sunday when Lindsey was thrown out of the Cathedral of St.
John the Divine after he had tried to reply to the bishop's sermon against companionate marriage, appeared today to be pointing toward another outbreak Friday.

The former judge of the Denver juvenile court, and vigorous exponent of the theory of companionate marriage, will appear then in west side court to answer a charge of disorderly conduct, brought against him as a result of the near-riot in the cathedral.

Pleaded Not Guilty
Bishop Manning, head of the Episcopal diocese of New York, has been subpoenaed to appear against him.

Lindsey, when arraigned Monday, pleaded not guilty and gained an adjournment until Friday because of numerous speaking engagements.

In an interview with newspapermen and the news reel cameras after he left the courtroom, Judge Lindsey emphasized that he objected not to Bishop Manning's attack on him, but on companionate marriage.

He still is considering, he said, bringing a suit for damages against the bishop.

Manning Claim Denied Bishop Manning's assertion from the pulpit Sunday that he had only "requested" that Lindsey not be allowed to address the New York Churchmen's Association last week was denied by the Rev. Eliot White, chairman of the luncheon committee of that body.

Mr. White filed an affidavit, also attested to by his wife, that Bishop Manning "commanded" the organization to withdraw Lindsey's speaking invitation.

500 Students Protest HANOVER, N. H., Dec. 9.—A petition protesting the election of former Judge Ben Lindsey from the Cathedral of St. John the Divine has been signed by nearly 500 Dartmouth college students.

CHRISTMAS PARTY OF
LEGION IS POSTPONED
Christmas party of John H. Holliday Jr. post 181, American Legion, will be held Dec. 16 at the Tabernacle Presbyterian church, Thirty-fourth street and Central avenue, instead of tonight.

Although the party primarily is for children of members, adults also are invited and a large attendance is expected. Reservations for the dinner must be made by Dec. 15.

The post auxiliary welfare committee is collecting discarded clothing, shoes and toys for distribution to needy children at Christmas.
