

PREPARE BILL FOR LODGE TAX TO RAISE FUNDS

House Members Considering Several Measures for State Revenue.

While Walter Myers, Speaker of the house of representatives, prepared today to name a special tax committee to work with a similar organization from the senate, members of both houses were considering introduction of various new revenue raising bills.

Among these is a measure providing for the levy of a tax on the property of fraternal organizations not being used for benevolent or charitable purposes.

Whisky Tax Proposed

It is pointed out that such an act would place approximately $500,000,000 of taxables on the duplicates resulting in additional revenue of $14,000,000, which could be used in part to defray the cost of old-age pensions.

Not only would lodge properties be taxed, but those of college fraternities and sororities.

Another proposed revenue raising measure which could go into effect if the Wright "bone dry" law is repealed that the state place a tax of 50 cents a pint on medicinal whisky and limit the doctor's prescription fee to $1.

Sales Tax Opposed

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

JACKSON, O'BRIE HOLD NO RECORD

Walks Out

MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 16.—Because her husband made her walk home from an automobile ride, Mrs. Marion Luedtke, 17, today filed suit for divorce. In her complaint she said she was abandoned at a bathing beach.

SCOT BUTLER TO BE BURIED

Last Rites to Be Held at Home Today.

Last rites for Scot Butler, former president of Butler University and one of the leading educators in the midwest, were to be held this afternoon at the residence, 124 Downey avenue. Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Dr. Frederick D. Kershner, dean of the college of religion at the university, and the Rev. Bert Johnson, pastor of the Downey Avenue Christian church, will have charge of the services to be attended by relatives and friends.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

UNITE OR DIE, BRIAND WARNS EUROPE CHIEFS

Organization Meeting of Federation of Nations
Is Convened.

By United Press
GENEVA, Jan. 16.—Aristide Briand, veteran French foreign minister and campaigner for world peace, told European statesmen "the time has come when we must unite or die," when he convened a meeting of the European union here today.

"Never has the economic situation burdening Europe been so manifest," Briand said.

He urged the satisfactory inauguration of a United States of Europe before the second organization meeting of the proposed European federation.

Dr. Julius Curtius, German foreign minister, emphasized that Europe's economic problems are uppermost in the interests of the union.

N. A. A. officials at headquarters here today admitted that the record had never been recognized.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

Emphasizing the necessity of solving the inequality in the present tax situation, Lieutenant-Governor Edgar D. Bush, in an address before members of the Seventh District Women's Republican Club Thursday, declared he favored a luxury tax rather than a sales tax.

He said that in his opinion the luxury levy is fairer, as it is not placed upon the necessities of the people who can not bear up under additional burdens.

Honorary pallbearers will be Hilton U. Brown, chairman of the board of trustees; Dr. Robert J. Aley, president of the university; Dean J. W. Putnam of the college of liberal arts; Professor Henry L. Bruner, head of the science department; R. F. Kautz, Dr. Christopher Coleman, state historical commission director; Thomas C. Howe, former university president; Robert Dorsey, Aleck Jameson and Arthur V. Brown.

THE INDIANAPOLIS TIMES

Indiana Dry Goods Company 306 East Washington Street

An Added Feature in Our Great
Going-Out-of-Business Sale
Saturday Is

Don't Fail to Share in These Sensational Savings! You'll Save Many Dollars!

Ladies'
FOLDING CHAIRS
Regular 98c Values
2 Chairs for $1

Ladies'
RIBBED HOSE
Regular 39c Values
4 Pair for $1

Men's O'ALL JACKETS
Regular 79c Values
2 Jackets for $1

Ladies'
UMBRELLAS
Values to $2.98
Special $1

Boys' Wool and JERSEY SUITS
$1.29 Values
2 Suits for $1

Fast Color
CRETONNE
35c Values
4 Yards for $1

DRAPERY
DAMASK
Values to $1.98 Yd.
2 Yards for $1

Fast Color
PRINTS
Values to 29c
5 Yards for $1

Colored Metal
Folding Chairs
$1.49 Values
Special $1

Children's BATHROBES
$1.49-$1.59 Values
2 Robes for $1

Ladies'
WASH FROCKS
Values to $1.98
2 Frock for $1

70x80 PART WOOL
BLANKETS
These blankets have been marked down from $4.98 and $3.98. Several colors left. While a limited quantity last.

$2.98
Pair

Boys'
SUITS and O'COATS
All we can say is
"come in and look these over." You be the judge on this remarkable value. $2.98

6x9
CONGOLEUM RUGS
Several patterns in good assortment of colors. All first quality merchandise.
While they last.
$3.79

Men's Wool Shirts
These shirts formerly sold for $1.98. Plaids and plain colors. All first quality and
in sizes 14½ to 17.
89c

LOOK,
MEN!
WARM WINTER
OVERCOATS
Buy that new Overcoat now. These coats consist of all-wool fabrics that formerly sold as high as $24.75. Look them over.

$6.95
$9.95

Indiana Dry Goods Company