WORLD TO HEAR VOICE OF POPE IN RADIO TALK

Speech Will Inaugurate
New Vatican Station on Feb. 12.

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 3.—The Voice of Pope Pius XI will be heard throughout the world when his holiness broadcasts a speech at the inauguration of the new Vatican radio station Feb. 12, the ninth anniversary of his coronation.

The entire ceremony at the station, which will be presented to the holy see by Senator Guglielmo Marconi, wireless pioneer, will go on the air.

Marconi already has made tests establishing contact with stations in England and the United States. Further tests were to be held today.

The Vatican station's call name is HVI. It is available for both telegraphy and telephony. The station was built by the Marconi company and designed by Senator Marconi for the Vatican's use.

It is located in the Vatican gardens, where two tall aerial masts stand near the operating rooms.

The transmitting tubes are of 20 kilowatt power, with a special cooling plant, establishing a world-wide transmitting radius.

The station works on two short waves. The shorter wave will be used during daylight and the other during darkness.

Inauguration of the Vatican station will bring the head of the Catholic church into direct communication with millions of Catholics in all parts of the world, and will mark another innovation sanctioned by the pope in the modernization of Vatican City.

BLESS THROATS OF THOUSANDS IN CHURCH RITE

Actor, Singers, Business
Men Take Part in Unique
London Ceremony.

LONDON, Feb. 3.—More than three thousand persons crowded into the Roman Catholic church of St. Etheldreda today for the ceremony of the blessing of the throat.

The ceremony has its origin back in 316 A. D., when St. Blaise, the patron saint of wool combers had his throat torn with a woolcombers' iron comb when he suffered martyrdom.

On the way to his death he saw a boy choking with a fishbone in his throat. St. Blaise touched the boy's throat, the bone immediately became dislodged and the boy's life was saved.

The ceremony has been observed at the Etheldreda's since 1875 and is associated with the feast of St. Blaise.

Father Bernard Roe, the rector, assisted by another priest held the crutch of crossed lighted candles to the throats of the suppliants while kneeling at the altar and repeated the following prayer over each one: "Through the intercession of Saint Blaise, bishop and martyr, may the Lord deliver thee from all evil of the throat, through Christ our Lord, amen."

Numerous prominent actors, singers and public figures regularly attend St. Etheldreda's on this occasion and may claim to have been cured of throat ailments as a result. Business men, stenographers and office boys also are among the suppliants.

Father Roe used to perform the ceremony alone, but during recent years the numbers attending the service have grown so vast that he now has to call on the services of another priest.
