

SIVAK, NELSON READY FOR TESTS IN MILLROSE GAMES

Blue Track Stars to Enter Indoor Carnival

European Runners to Compete in Events at Garden Saturday; Ray Conger Favorite in Wana-maker Mile Event.

Two members of Butler university's track team were reported in top shape today for their appearance in the annual Millrose A. A. games at Madison Square Garden, New York, on Saturday.

Bert Nelson, national indoor high jump champion, who established a record in that event last year, will meet stiff competition in the eastern games. He has shown top form in early workouts, clearing the bar at well over six feet.

Sivak will enter the 1,000-meter run, but it is not certain that he will compete in the mile event, in which he holds the national intercollegiate title. Sivak left by train today, while Nelson will fly to New York Friday.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—Track athletes from all parts of the country, most of them blue ribbon performers, were gathering in New York today for the annual running of the Millrose A. A. games in Madison Square Garden Saturday night.

In addition to the native born competitors, Seraphin Martin, French flyer, and Dr. Paul Martin, Switzerland's ace middle distance, will add the international touch.

The feature event of the games, as usual, will be the running of the Wana-maker mile, although this race is certain to be hard-pressed for top honors by the 880-yard special, in which France's Martin will match strides with Russell Chapman, bested last year.

Ray Conger, Iowa schoolmaster, is highly favored to win the Wana-maker and permanent possession of the cup, despite a field that will include such stars as Switzerland's Martin, Leo Lermond, George Venke and others.

The sprint, always a favorite with the spectators, should furnish plenty of fireworks. That is, if class and numbers mean anything. No fewer than sixteen men are entered and will run in heats, the winners to qualify for the final.

Eddie Roll of the Newark A. C., Phil Edwards of the Hamilton club and Alex Wilson of Notre Dame are three of the stars entered in the "600." Fred Sturdy and Barney Berlinger are entered in the pole vault.

Up the Trail of Glory With Jack Dillon

BY "DUTCH" EGERT

Considered the greatest piece of fighting machinery for his inches that ever lived on a boxing glove, Ernest Cutler Price, nom de guerre Jack Dillon, was the recipient of such titles as the Hoosier Hurricane, the Hoosier Bearcat, the Man Killer, the Rib-Crusher and Jack the Giant Killer. And fitting sobriquets they were for this sturdy fighter who specialized in toppling the behemoths of the ring during his scintillating career.

Born in Frankfort, Ind., Feb. 2, 1891, Jack moved to Indianapolis when quite a youngster, and later was employed as a messenger boy. Shortly afterward, at the tender age of 17, when most of our modern youth still are deep in pursuit of the classics by day and endeavoring to master the latest fox trot at night, he launched into a ring campaign that was destined to bring him fame.
