Address to Be Heard Here at 9:45 A. M. Thursday.

By THOMAS B. MORGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

VATICAN CITY, Feb. 11.—Residents of the Papal state today began the first of two busy days, which will be climaxed Thursday afternoon when a message to the world will be broadcast by the pope for the first time in history.

Preparations for the broadcasting of the voice of Pope Pius through the powerful new Vatican radio station were completed under personal supervision of the inventor, Senator Guglielmo Marconi. The pope will make a brief extemporaneous radio speech, re-broadcast in America at 9:45 a. m., Indianapolis time.

The pope, who will speak in Latin, will be introduced by Marconi. The remarks will be translated for the benefit of the international radio audience.

Pope Pius' radio speech will be less than five minutes in length and will open the new radio station. Later, a longer speech at Vatican academy will be broadcast at 10:20 a. m., Indianapolis time.

The two-day program at the Vatican began today with observance of the signing of the Lateran treaty and the concordat of 1929 between the Italian state and the Holy See.

Italy observed the day as a legal holiday and in Vatican City the pope's flag flew from the roof-tops and the papal guards were in full dress.

Thursday, the ninth anniversary of the coronation of Pope Pius, an imposing ceremony will be held in the Sistine chapel, where the pontiff will receive the homage of the cardinals.

REALTY BOARD TO FIGHT NEW TAX MEASURE

Support Sought in War on Legislation Proposing Revenue Increase.

By THOMAS B. MORGAN
United Press Staff Correspondent

Uncompromising opposition to any new revenue-raising legislation that may result in increased expenditures has been adopted by the Indianapolis Real Estate Board as its attitude toward bills pending or likely to be introduced in the current session of the Indiana general assembly.

Believing no revenue-raising measures are necessary if government expenses are reduced, particularly through township and county mergers with consequent abolition of duplication of government, the realty board's legislative committee Tuesday night decided to seek the support of financial, industrial and mercantile interests on its stand.

The board also decided to throw its opposition against three pending house bills which provide for the taxation of lease contracts with option to purchase and taxation of mortgages.

Bills to be supported include a measure repealing and re-enacting the present Barret law and one authorizing an annual reassessment of real estate.

Fifty per cent reduction in the taxation of real estate is favored by the Indianapolis Building Congress, according to a resolution sent the real estate board by Robert Frost Daggett, president of the congress.

Licensing of real estate brokers and salesmen was opposed as equally as vigorously favored Tuesday night at a public hearing before house Judiciary A committee.

Anderson and Indianapolis realtors spoke against the bill drawn by Representative J. C. Ellyson (Den., Lake), and Ellyson and T. M. Overley, manager of the Indianapolis Better Business bureau, declared passage of the measure is necessary to protect the public against unscrupulous real estate promoters.

$100,000 LIBEL SUIT ENLIVENS MAYOR BATTLE

Jail, Asylum Threats Are Hurlled in Chicago Nomination Fight.

By United Press
CHICAGO, Feb. 11.—A libel suit for $100,000 and threats to put each other in jails or asylums were tossed into the melee today to enliven the bitter fight between William Hale Thompson and John H. Lyle for the Republican nomination for mayor.

The libel suit, charging false and malicious utterances, was filed by Mayor Thompson against Judge Lyle, who two nights ago publicly accused Thompson of misappropriating funds collected for flood relief.

Judge Lyle dared Thompson at the time to file suit and the mayor lost no time doing so.

In a campaign address Tuesday night, Thompson told of the suit, declared that no man could "question his integrity and get away with it," charged that Lyle had committed "criminal libel" and said that if he couldn't put him in jail for that he would imprison him "for being a moron."

Lyle, carrying his campaign into the loop, continued his verbal attacks on the mayor, referring to him as "insane."
