

BILL FATHERED BY GOVERNOR'S CRIME PROBERS

Measure Would Create
State Department of Public Safety.

Five weeks to the day after the general assembly convened, the proposal of the Governor's crime commission to create a state department of public safety put in its appearance in the form of a bill introduced in the senate Thursday.

Offered so late that its chances at passage have been jeopardized, the bill would remove from control of the secretary of state, the state police and state bureau of criminal identification and investigation, consolidating them under the public safety department.

The latter department would be managed by a state board of safety of four members to be appointed by the Governor and to be paid $10 a day for time actually devoted to their duties. The board would appoint a director of public safety "for fitness, irrespective of his political beliefs or affiliation."

Named by Safety Director

Officers and members of the state police would be named by the safety director with board approval. Game wardens, oil inspectors, and arson inspectors would be ex-officio state police. The change would be effective upon proclamation of the statutes, next May or June.

Another new measure in the senate is aimed at revision of the present assessment system. It would create a board, consisting of the county council, a circuit judge, and the county commissioners, to appoint a county tax board of three members to take over duties of the county and township assessors.

Other new senate bills would require sale of anti-freeze solutions containing more than 10 per cent of methanol; require $500 deductions from the assessed valuations of household goods and farm machinery, respectively, until March 1, 1933; require, that when any city official is to make an appointment, the appointee shall be named from a list of five nominees submitted by the chairman of the opposite political party.

Road Cost Would Be Split

Another provision that the cost of county highways be divided between abutting property owners and the county at large, the county commissioners to determine the amount of the assessments between a minimum of 10 per cent and a maximum of 20 per cent; requiring that not less than 80 per cent of those employed by contractors on public works shall be Indiana residents and at least 50 per cent of them residents of the city or county in which the work is being done.

Other measures are those fixing salaries of city officials in third-class cities owning their own light and water plants; authorizing free admission to state parks for all persons under 18; permitting persons under 18 to fish, but not hunt or trap, without a license; prohibiting all bank employees from borrowing from the institution employing them, under penalty of 2 to 14 years imprisonment and a fine double the sum borrowed.

Additional bills are offered, limiting the public fund deposit in any bank to one-half the capital stock and surplus of the bank, unless protected by bond; and prohibiting loan, trust and safety deposit corporations from engaging in any business except that expressly authorized and prohibiting their employees from borrowing from such institutions.

PER CAPITA TAX FIGURE DOUBLED

U. S. Survey Reveals City
Changes in 12 Years.

Increase of more than 100 per cent in the per capita tax levy in Indianapolis in twelve years was revealed today in the report of the department of commerce. Compilations were based on governmental operations which ended with the 1929 fiscal year.

The report shows that in 1917 the per capita tax levy was $25.62 while the figures used in the statement showed this had increased to $54.69.

Assessed valuation of property subject to taxes was $690,711,010, according to the report. Expenditures for the operation and maintenance of the general departments of the city totaled $14,470,391. This, coupled with the cost of public service enterprises, interest, and outlays, including county and schools, aggregated $23,339,572.

However, the report set out that including permanent improvements the total receipts were $2,832,961 less than debt obligations. Total fixed debt outstanding at the opening of 1930 was $35,640,336, according to the department's statement.

DRAFTS IRRITATE HOUSE

Ventilation of Assembly Corridors
Made Party Issue.

Not content with squabbling over income tax bills and unemployment relief demands, the house of representatives today engaged in a controversy over ventilation.

Minority and majority members made it a party issue because of drafts from the corridors. Speaker Walter Myers appointed a committee to deliberate on the best manner of pleasing all.

FIND CLEW TO BROAD RIPPLE BANK BANDITS

Car Used in Getaway May Have Been Stolen in Chicago, Belief.

A chevrolet coach abandoned by a bank bandit coach fleeing from the Broad Ripple State bank after shooting a man in an unsuccessful attempt to rob it Thursday, may have been stolen from a salesman in Chicago, Monday night, police believe.

Police in Memphis, Tenn., in a long distance call to Police Chief Jerry Kinney, said a car answering to its description was taken from Charles C. Cason of Memphis, in Chicago then.

Rear seat of the car had been removed by Cason to make room for sample cases, and in the rear of the coach used here Thursday, the seat had been replaced by boards.

Detectives today were seeking an insurance collector whose license plates are said to have been on a black sedan similar to the Studebaker in which the bandits escaped. Charles W. Farr, custodian of the bank building, shooting victim, is in a critical condition at city hospital.

Detectives said they were confident the insurance collector was not one of the bandits, but a motorist who provided the latest clew to direction of the gang's flight, reported his license on the car. The insurance collector did not appear at home Thursday night, but reported for work today.

No 'Stickers'

By United Press
TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Feb. 12.—Motorists who parked over time in downtown restricted areas Thursday enjoyed a vacation from "stickers," because of the birthday of Abraham Lincoln. Police Chief Fred Armstrong ordered that traffic officers disregard for the day the ordinance regulating parking.

MAN, 83, KILLS SELF

Told Grandchildren He Was
'Tired of Living.'

Presumably because he was just "tired of living," as he told his grandchildren this morning, John H. Davidson, 83, committed suicide, firing a shotgun into his stomach in the home of a grandson, Robert Thornton, 3420 North Oxford street, at noon today.

He had come to Thornton's home Thursday night for a short visit. He had been living in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Daisy Hendrix, Carmel, and is survived by a son, and another daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Thornton, 3224 Kenwood avenue.

ILLNESS ENDED IN SHORT TIME

"Has Never Returned," Says
Indianapolis Lady In Praise of Konjola,
The New Medicine.

Konjola is not designed to afford mere temporary relief. It is not that kind of a medicine. Its 32 ingredients, 22 of them the juices of medicinal roots and herbs, attack the source of the ailment.

MRS. ANNA BROWNING

The record made by this famous compound might often challenge belief were the actual facts not known and verified. Men and women of all ages have felt its power. Read the experience of Mrs. Anna Browning, 2243 South Meridian street, Indianapolis. It is not unlike thousands of others with which the Konjola Man at the Hook Dependable Drug Store, Illinois and Washington streets, this city, is familiar. See him today, but right now read the experience of Mrs. Browning: "I suffered for a number of years with a complication of ailments. I ate but little and even this food caused bloating and gas pain. My kidneys were weak and I suffered terribly from liver trouble. Dizzy spells, headaches, and spots before the eyes occurred daily. Constipation bothered me and I was finally attacked by rheumatism and neuritis.

"I tried many medicines and treatments for relief, but not until, at the urgent request of a friend, I tried Konjola, did I find health. Eight bottles of this great medicine completely banished all my ailments, and although it has been nearly three years since I stopped taking Konjola, none of my ailments has ever returned."

This great medicine has become the most widely discussed compound in America in a few short years simply by making good.

The Konjola Man is at the Hook Dependable Drug Store, Illinois and Washington streets, Indianapolis, where he is meeting the public daily.
