

ZAR'S RELATIVE ACCEPTS TRUTH OF DEATH STORY

Guardian Refuses Grand Duke's Demand for Remains.

This is the last of a series of articles on the death of the Russian Czar.

PARIS, Feb. 19.—Despite the fact that the Grand Duke Cyril, pretender to the Russian throne, has made a formal request for the purported remains of the imperial family, M. Michel de Giers, present custodian of them, steadily refuse on the grounds that they belong to the Russians as a whole and so must be held until an official monarch is named.

Grand Duke Cyril, hearing that the former Russian ambassador to Rome, de Giers, was custodian of the remains, made an official request, but de Giers still maintains his secrecy regarding the four cases containing the remains and relics of the imperial family.

The proof that the remains and relics of the imperial family are in these boxes is convincing enough to Grand Duke Cyril and living members of the royal family, although some doubt surrounds the facts of the story.

Proof Believed Complete

The Grand Duke Alexander, one of the most prominent of the family, believes that the White Russian Judge Sokoloff's investigations at Ekaterinburg were based on documentary fact and that the proof is undeniable.

Prince Nicholas Orloff, commenting on the Sokoloff investigation, declared: "Sokoloff was a man of unquestioned honor and probity. He would not have undertaken such a mission and carried it out if he had not measured every step."

I consider Sokoloff's investigation as absolutely definite and requiring but few additional proofs to make it obvious that the caskets now in Monsieur de Giers' possession contain the ashes of the imperial family."

Disagrees With Sokoloff

The Count Kokovtsoff, former premier of Russia, who is also president of an association of Russians committed to preserve the memory of Nicholas II, is inclined to disagree with Judge Sokoloff, but nevertheless observes that a complete investigation must be made when the time is opportune.

It is notable that in the boxes there are more than three hundred pieces of evidence and it is stated that these should provide sufficient evidence as to whether or not the remains are those of the emperor and his family.

Captain W. Dimitriev, former military attaché at Paris, who has studied the proofs submitted by de Giers, stated that Grand Duke Nicholas did not refuse to accept the custody of the imperial remains because he doubted their authenticity, but because he did not believe himself qualified to accept such a heavy responsibility.

The grand duke considered that M. de Giers would be the most logical person to guard them and keep intact the various legal proofs of their authenticity," the captain said.

House Resolution Adopted for Purchase of Quail and Pheasants

Amid ribaldry and much laughter, the Indiana house on Wednesday adopted a resolution condemning the state conservation department and directing the department to purchase annually not less than $20,000 worth of bob-white quail and not less than $10,000 worth of ring-necked pheasants.

Another section provides for the annual purchase of not less than $10,000 worth of fingerling black bass and suitable game fish. The bill was introduced by Representative H. H. Evans (Rep., Henry).

Several members recognizing the resolution as a vehicle for prolonging Evans' feud with the conservation department, attempted to postpone discussion.

The motion was tabled and the concurrent resolution adopted after some verbal horseplay.

Governor of Wyoming Dies

By United Press
CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 19.—Governor Frank Collins Emerson, 47, serving his second term as chief executive of Wyoming, died suddenly Wednesday night of a heart attack induced by pneumonia. He had been ill for five days.

Emerson's wife and three sons were not present when he died. All are ill or influenza.

State Secretary Alonso M. Clark, under state law, automatically becomes chief executive until a successor is chosen by special election.

Emerson, a graduate of the University of Michigan, came to Wyoming from Saginaw, Mich., twenty-five years ago. He soon became a Republican leader and entered politics as state engineer.

Serving two terms in that office, he entered the gubernatorial race again Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross and defeated her. He was re-elected last November, Wyoming's third Governor to be re-elected for a second term.

JOB BODY PROPOSED

Stabilization Commission Bill Offered in House.

Intended to curb unemployment during depressions, a bill for creation of a state employment stabilization commission was among the deluge loosed in the Indiana house.

Representative Fred S. Galloway (Dem., Marion) and William J. Black (Dem., Madison) were the authors.

The bill would require the Governor to appoint a commission of three to serve without pay other than expense, one to represent employers, one employees and one "the public at large."

The commission would advise the Governor when periods of business depression appeared in prospect, and it would become the Governor's duty to advise the next succeeding legislature on steps toward construction of public works to counteract unemployment. The Governor also would seek co-operation of local governmental units in advancing public works.

Indiana Boy Amazes Mother

"Jimmie's stomach was often upset and he suffered a lot from colds," says Mrs. Louis Vaughn, 247 So. Randolph St., Indianapolis. "He was feverish and his breath was bad. I found he was constipated."

"My mother used California Fig Syrup with us, so I decided to give Jimmie some. It surely surprised me to see how quickly it stopped his feverishness, cleared his breath and tongue, regulated his bowels; and made him a strong and energetic boy again."

The quick, safe way to cleanse and regulate the bowels of bilious, headache, constipated children is with California Fig Syrup. Give it at the first sign of bad breath, coated tongue, listlessness, feverishness. Every child loves its rich, fruity flavor and it acts without griping or discomfort. Appetite is increased by its use; digestion is assisted; weak stomach and bowels are given tone and strength.

For fifty years, doctors have endorsed this pure vegetable product. The genuine is always marked by the word California. Look for that when buying or you may get an imitation.

A Woman's Charm

EVERY man admires a winning personality, bright eyes, a skin glowing with health and color. So often a woman loses charm because her nervous system is rundown. Strong nerves and good looks go together. A woman's feminine makeup is strengthened, she regains her fresh youthful complexion and bright eyes, if she takes a tonic which Dr. Pierce prescribed at his Clinic in Buffalo, for many of his women patients years ago.

Women in every walk of life testify to the benefit they have received from this "Prescription." One woman said:

"I was all rundown and the only thing I found to restore my health and strength was Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Two bottles of it made me a perfectly well woman. I am confident that it will be of great benefit to any woman or girl."—Mrs. Alice Barnhart, 611½ N. 8th St., Richmond, Ind.

VOTE TIRADES HALT CHICAGO LOOP TRAFFIC

Charges Ranging From Graft to Lunacy. Shouted by Thompson and Lyle.

By United Press
CHICAGO, Feb. 19.—Voices of confident candidates boomed throughout the loop today as charges ranging from graft to lunacy were shouted from theater to theater.

Unusually important because the primary winner will be the Republican choice for mayor during the Century of Progress exposition in 1933, and spectacular because of bitter personal attacks by William Hale Thompson and John H. Lyle, the campaign today assumed a seriousness of purpose lost earlier in the sensationalism of the candidates.

In addresses broadcast by loudspeakers through the loop, Mayor Thompson continued referring to "that nutty judge" and his "jackass show" at the Cort theater went on. Judge Lyle still returned the "compliments" in kind.

But for the most part both candidates and a third opponent, Alderman Arthur F. Albert, turned to a more serious discussion of the issues.

Traffic was halted at noon Wednesday while thousands of loop workers stood in the streets, listening to the candidates assail each other through the air and each candidate had from three to five such meetings scheduled for today.

While the candidates were speaking, a group of lawyers met in another theater and condemned Lyle for using "high-handed and burlesque" methods on the bench.

Lyle, in turn, condemned them, charging that all were members of the "Thompson machine," and supported the mayor "because it was profitable for them to do so."
