

STATE SCHOOL AID BILLS PASS IN FINAL RUSH

45 Per Cent of Education Tax to Be Continued for Tax.

State aid will be kept at 45 per cent of the 7-cent state levy for common schools, instead of reverting to 30 per cent, by final action on the bill which now awaits the Governor's signature.

Senate amendments giving the state board of accounts supervision over state aid claims, jointly with the superintendent of public instruction, were approved by a conference committee Monday night.

The state aid has been 45 per cent since 1929, but was to have reverted to 30 per cent unless this measure was passed.

Another bill takes $500,000 a year out of the 7-cent revenues to make up deficits in teachers' salaries and other state aid expenditures for the years 1926-27-28-29.

Memorial Levies

Four mills special levy for the Indiana World War Memorial finally was approved by both houses of the legislature and was awaiting the Governor's signature today.

It was estimated this will give an additional $800,000 to complete the structure.

The tax holds for the next two years.

A 1 1/2 mill levy was voted for the George Rogers Clark Memorial at Vincennes, to cover a similar period. This was also said to be sufficient to complete the work there.

Banks to Be Probed

"What's wrong with banking in Indiana?" will be the subject of a probe by a special commission of eleven to be appointed by the Governor and report their findings to the general assembly of 1933.

Concurrent resolution providing for this commission was passed by the legislature at the closing session. It provides that experts in economics may be employed, but no provision is made to pay them.

No building and loan receipt may be appointed by a court except on written recommendation of the state banking commissioner under another measure passed.

Submit Amendments

Hoosier voters at last will have a chance to vote for constitutional amendments legalizing income tax measures and permitting the legislature to prescribe qualifications for candidates for admission to the bar.

These proposed amendments were to have been on the ballot at the last general election, but were ruled off, due to technical errors, by the state election commissioners.

A senate bill providing their submission now is ready for the Governor to sign. They will be placed on the ballot in the general election of 1932.

Fire Corps Affected

Salvage corps of the Indianapolis fire department will be put on a platoon system with twenty-four-hour shifts under provisions of a bill now awaiting signing by the Governor. The bill was included in the last minute action of the legislature Monday night.

Planning to be the first to fly to Europe this year, Otto Hillig (left) and Holger Hoiris (right) are shown in the upper photo at Roosevelt field, Long Island, where they are grooming their cabin plane Liberty, seen below, for a hop from Newfoundland to Copenhagen, Denmark, in May.

As a "practical test" of the ship they expect soon to fly without stopping from New York to Miami, Fla., and then on to Havana. The plane, powered by a 300-horse power engine, has a top speed of 145 miles an hour.

Close Shave

SEATTLE, March 10.—When Mrs. D. D. Ringer returned home from a bridge party she found a strange man sleeping in her bedroom. She ran from the house and called police.

Officers arrived and as they approached the sleeping man he suddenly awakened, bounded out of bed and ran to another room.

"What's the big idea?" he shouted when they had him cornered.

Then Mrs. Ringer discovered that it was her husband, minus his mustache.

In the main lobby at the cathedral from 1 until 2 p. m. Wednesday.

Born in Indianapolis, son of George Frederick Meyer, pioneer Scottish Rite worker in Indianapolis, and Catherine Meyer, Mr. Meyer attended the public schools here and at Cincinnati and sold cigars and candy to soldiers at Camp Morton during the Civil war. Later he entered the tobacco business and finally became associated with his brothers in the A. B. Meyer & Co., coal and material dealers.

Besides numerous club memberships, he belonged to the York Rite and various affiliated bodies in the city.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Pauline I. Dietz Meyer; a son, Charles F. Meyer Jr., and three grandsons, Charles, Frederick and John Meyer, all of Indianapolis.

SPRING FISHING NOT TO BE CUT FOR PRESIDENT

Water in Rapidan Is Low, but Other Camps Are Offered.

WASHINGTON, March 10.—Fishermen and some others who may be less disinterested in their sorrow are shedding useless tears for President Herbert Hoover.

Despite the drought and reports to the contrary, Mr. Hoover's dry flies need not remain dry this spring. But hopeful invitations to here and there continue to reach the White House in every mail.

The Rapidan river continues to gurgle by the presidential camp in Virginia, although its waters are low. But some rain in the next three weeks easily could repair that lack. Some of the trout succumbed to the drought.

Lawrence Richey, presidential secretary, was more fortunate than his Catocin (Md.) camp. He recently transferred to the Rapidan some hundreds of brook trout, many of which were twelve-inch beauties fit to be caught, cooked and eaten April 1 when the season opens.

Next week, Richey may visit the

Deane was killed and Bowdon wounded in the thigh.
