CLEVER COOKS USE SUGAR TO SEASON FOOD

Improves the Taste-appeal and Increases Nourishment of the Dish

There is no need to deny yourself flavor when you eat essential foods. According to the nutritional authorities and dietitians, the use of sugar to season vegetables, meat dishes and fruits is entirely proper.

Sugar adds zest to essential foods which carry vitamins, mineral salts and roughage. It heightens the "taste" of peas, beans, spinach and other vegetables. It improves the flavor of meat stews and makes them more palatable. In the case of fresh fruits, sugar modifies harsh acids.

In vegetable and meat cookery, a dash of sugar to a pinch of salt is a popular rule of clever cooks. The great value of seasoning and flavoring foods with sugar is that it makes them more enjoyable. Too often essential foods are rejected, especially by children, because they are not pleasing to the taste. Most foods are more delicious with sugar. The Sugar Institute.

Just Every Day Sense

BY MRS. WALTER FERGUSON

It was mere chance that permitted me to listen during the course of one day to two fathers. The first proudly was proclaiming the election of his son to Phi Beta Kappa. He enlarged upon his subject at length, and vowed that he always had given the utmost care to the rearing of the lad and that brains naturally ran in his family.

The second man bitterly was bewailing the wildness of his heir. The boy was getting entirely out of hand and seemed daily to behave in a more reprehensible manner. And this parent, strangely, did not blame himself at all, but made the usual excuse.

"I've always told my wife," he said, "that she would ruin the boy with indulgence. She never could deny him a thing. But you know how women are. They'll never listen to reason."

WHEN it comes to this particular subject, men are the most irrational and inconsistent creatures alive.

I feel certain it is not an exaggeration to say that father always will claim credit for the virtues of his children and make his wife responsible for their vices.

This seems to be a sort of illogical idiosyncrasy that they can not overcome. And this idea has held prevalence for so long that the public takes it for granted.

A man grows up and becomes a genius, and although biologists assure us otherwise, we give him all the honors for his brains and his virtue.

If, instead, the boy goes to the chair, we always say the mother was responsible. She failed in her parental duty. Either she pampered him too much or she did not give him the right sort of training in virtuous and pious ways.

Men never will be a consistent or a generous sex until they have learned to take responsibility for their mistakes. And is it too severe to say that at least half the blame for erring children should rest on the shoulders of their fathers.

DePauw Day to Be Observed at Art Exhibit

De Pauw day will be observed at the John Herron Art Institute Saturday, when students of the university and residents of Greencastle will come to view the exhibition of work by the Indiana artists.

Indianapolis alumni of De Pauw also are invited to attend. An informal gallery talk by Wilbur D. Peat will be given at 2.

The Greencastle branch of the American Association of University Women is acting as the committee in charge of arrangements. Mrs. William Neiswage is chairman, assisted by Mesdames Benjamin Grove, Francis Tilden, William Telfer, Francis Vreeland, R. W. Pence, Harold Zink, Louise Zaring, J. O. Cammack, L. H. Eckhardt, L. H. Tark, Glen Giddings, Misses Virginia Harlow, Catherine Tillotson, Rachel Benton, Edrice King and Dorothy Bittles.

W. C. T. U. CHAPTER TO HAVE MEETING

Devotions will be led by Mrs. W. G. Morgan and the president, Mrs. M. C. Norris, will give a short talk, "A Declaration of Principles." The treasurer, Miss Irene Roberts, will give a report.

JULIA LANDERS LIKELY TO BE OUSTED TODAY

Board Caucus With Mayor Seen as Finale for Recreation Aid.

Deposing of Miss Julia Landers as assistant recreation director was expected this afternoon at a park board meeting following a caucus of board members with Mayor Reginald H. Sullivan.

Logan C. Scholl, board member today said he "favored giving the recreation department a thorough cleaning."

David B. Kilgore, former recreation director, in his resignation recently, charged Miss Landers had interfered with his work; that she was author of anonymous letters, a "troublemaker" in exciting public attitude against him, and that the job was "useless" and should be abolished.

That the board is to caucus with Sullivan before the meeting was believed an indication Miss Landers had marshalled support of Democratic leaders.

She is former Seventh district Democratic women's leader and is active in women's city and state political organizations.

The board also was expected to condemn activities of city hall politicians who have been criticizing the park board for permitting the Chamber of Commerce made-work commission to select about fifty men to be hired by the park board in constructing the new Pleasant Run boulevard.

Members said the jobs are not to be political "plums." Since the commission is to employ and pay for a similar number of men, and has a complete list of needy men, it should make the selection, members said.

JAILED REPORTER TELLS; IS RELEASED

FOR SALE: ADONIS

Bushman Seeking Wealthy Wife

Francis X. Bushman

BY FREDERICK C. OTHMAN United Press Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, March 12.—Francis X. Bushman, movie Adonis, offered himself in marriage today to any woman who can support him in the style to which he has been accustomed.

"I think I'm the first movie star in history to admit that he's failed," Bushman told the United Press, "and to admit that I'm in search of a wealthy wife."

Bushman used to be one of America's most popular movie stars, with a Hollywood mansion, a country estate and strings of race horses among his possessions. He said he had earned between $50,000 and $90,000 during his long film career.

HE'S still a matinee idol, but at the little Kedzie stock theater on Chicago's west side. And if it weren't for his current salary he'd be broke.

The situation has come to such a pass that the curly-haired, square-jawed Bushman said he was about ready to put an advertisement in the newspapers, like this:

"For sale: One ex-millionaire, athletic; age, 47; height, 5 feet 11 inches; weight, 193 pounds; health, perfect; wind, sound; appearance, intact; tastes, expensive; widely traveled; sportsman by preference; actor by necessity; ladies with ample income may address Francis X. Bushman, Kedzie theater, Chicago.

Indiana Girl Made Happy

MANY times a child has every thing to make her happy and still is dissatisfied. This may not be the youngster's fault. Often it is due to a condition easily corrected.

Take the experience of Mrs. S. Hill, 746 Woodlawn Avenue, Indianapolis, who says: "Nothing seemed to please Margaret. She was fretful, feverish, suffered a lot from colds. She was constipated."

"Mother told me about California Fig Syrup and I got some. It relieved her trouble promptly; made her bright and happy again. We have used it for a number of years."

Mothers by thousands praise this pure vegetable product. Children love it. Doctors recommend it to relieve constipation, feverishness, fretfulness, headaches; to open the bowels in colds or children's ailments. Appetite is increased by the use of California Fig Syrup; breath is sweetened; coated tongue is cleared; digestion and assimilation are aided; weak bowels and stomach are strengthened. For your protection, the genuine always bears the name California.

'FRAMEUP' CRY OF PANTAGES IN NEW 'LOVE' JAM

Denies Knowledge of Going to San Diego Party With Girl, 16.

By United Press

SAN DIEGO, Cal., March 12.—Alexander Pantages, theater millionaire whose life has been a series of bitter struggles in business and the courts, today issued the cry of "frameup" against charges involving him with a 16-year-old girl.

Pantages, already fighting for his liberty before the state supreme court on a conviction of assaulting Eunice Pringle, 17-year-old dancer, declared at Agua Caliente, across the Mexican border from here, that he knew nothing of a party he was charged with having attended at a

San Diego hotel with Alice Blake, 16.

The theater man Wednesday sur-rented in municipal court here on statutory charges involving Miss Blake, whose real name is Lydia Nitto.

He posted $15,000 bail and returned to Agua Caliente.

Another statement was made by William Jobelmann, Pantages' former press agent, held in Los Angeles on charges of working with Mrs. Olive Day in a scheme to supply young girl party companions to wealthy men.

Mrs. Day, involved in the San Diego charges with Pantages, Jobelmann, John P. Mills, San Diego broker, and Jesse Shreve, business man of San Diego, was liberated from the Los Angeles jail on bail and disappeared.

District Attorney Buren Pitts said no search had been started for her and he was sure she would appear when her trial is called.

Jobelmann declared in jail that the party in San Diego was arranged in a telephone call to Mrs. Day in Los Angeles.

Jobelmann declined to discuss details of the reported hotel party. He said one of the girls told him "one of the men looked like Alexander Pantages, from what she remembered of a newspaper picture."

Mills, Mrs. Day and Jobelmann face trial in Los Angeles on charges involving Clarice Tauber, 16.

Mills was arraigned in San Diego on charges involving the Blake and Livingston girls and he and Pantages were ordered to appear for preliminary hearing on April 13. Mills' bail was set at $20,000.

Shreve, accused of attacking Miss Livingston, was freed on bail of $25,000 and will face a preliminary hearing on March 31.
