

POPULATION OF PRISONS IS FAR OVER CAPACITY

Overcrowding Is Growing Each Year, Census Bureau Figures Show.

By Science Service
WASHINGTON, March 13.—The greatly overcrowded condition of state and federal prisons is emphasized by statistics just published here by the census bureau which shows that the average daily prison population for the year 1927 was nearly thirteen thousand more than the normal capacity. The normal capacity was 67,563.

The situation is aggravated in some localities by the fact that the prisoners are not evenly distributed according to the facilities available for their care.

In Ohio, the prisons will normally hold 4,862 persons, yet the average number incarcerated there during 1927 was 7,062—54 per cent more than there was space for. Michigan was even worse off.

There the normal capacity was only 3,366, but the average number of prisoners was 6,012—over 78 per cent more than capacity on the average.

In only fifteen states of the thirty-nine for which statistics are available was the average population less than the capacity of the prisons.

"Apparently overcrowding is a condition which is growing from year to year," the report containing these statistics states.

Overcrowding of prisons is of vital interest and has to be taken into consideration in all discussions of prison administration and conduct. The prison which is able to afford its inmates sufficient space in which a too close contact with their fellow prisoners can be avoided, is the one which stands the best chance of releasing from its walls men who have retained some measure of self-respect, who are the better equipped to face the world again, and who can more easily adapt themselves to the conditions of normal life."

PRIMARY LAW DEFENDED

Colorado Senator Wives Criticism of Bill to Governor.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
WASHINGTON, March 13.—Senator Edward P. Costigan (Dem., Colo.) has injected himself into the fight to prevent the virtual repeal of Colorado's primary act.

Costigan is in Washington. Reports from his home state that the Republicans were counting on votes enough to pass through a measure emasculating the direct primary law, have caused him to wire a strong appeal to William H. Adams, Democratic Governor of Colorado, asking him to oppose their efforts.

BARBER REFUSES TIPS

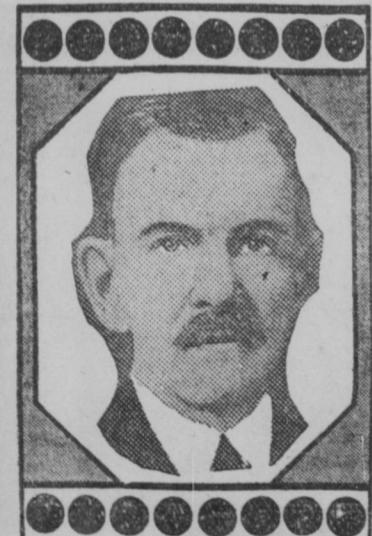

John Cartellano Sells Services, But Not 'Self-Respect.'

By United Press
HARTFORD CITY, March 13.—Barber John Cartellano, who claims he never took a tip in twenty-four years of clipping and shaving, says: "My patrons can buy my services, but not my self-respect."

KONJOLA GAVE LASTING HELP

Indianapolis Man, Ill. For Years, Wishes To Tell Experience With Famous Medicine.

Konjola is not designed to afford mere temporary relief. It strikes far deeper than that, and by attacking the source of the ailment, removes the causes.

MRI. HENRY HOCKERSMITH.

The thirty-two ingredients of this famous medicine all work together and cleanse the system of accumulated poisons. Read the experience of Mr. Henry Hockersmith, 804 Hamilton avenue, Indianapolis, and then see the Konjola Man at the Hook Dependable Drug Store, Illinois and Washington streets, this city. He can cite you many such instances. Here is the statement made to the Konjola Man by Mr. Hockersmith:

"I suffered for a great many years with a complication of ailments. I had little appetite and my stomach was so weak that I bloated severely after meals and my heart action was affected. Frightful back pains and frequent night risings disturbed my sleep. Pains in my shoulders and limbs worried me. My liver was sluggish and I had severe dizzy spells and was badly constipated."

"Finally, after many failures, a friend induced me to try Konjola. I improved in health from the beginning and today my stomach and kidneys are perfectly normal. I am no longer constipated and my liver is working perfectly. Although I am past 80, and it has been several years since I took Konjola, I still am in perfect health."

Konjola is free from alcohol or harmful drugs—any one can take it.

The Konjola Man is at the Hook Dependable Drug Store, Illinois and Washington streets, Indianapolis where he is meeting the public daily.
