HINTON GREETES OCEAN TRIP AID WHILE IN CITY

T. W. Marshall Maimed While Serving Under Famous Lieutenant.

BY CARLOS LANE
New trials never are blazed alone with swashbuckling glory; human blood and bones, anguish and sweat pave them until they are broad and smooth.

In Indianapolis this week-end a man who has swept like a comet through skies since aviation's early days, with adventure after adventure building his wreath of laurels, greeted another early bird, who is one of the sacrifices that progress took when man set out to conquer the skies, and it was while serving under Lieutenant Walter Hinton, commander of the NC-4, that his disaster befell him.

Consequently, when Lieutenant Hinton came to Indianapolis as the guest of the Exchange Club it was inevitable that there should have been a reunion. Lieutenant Hinton invited Marshall to visit him at his hotel, and here's the way that the famous flier tells of Marshall's accident, one not uncommon in aviation, but a mishap that rarely spares its victims.

"We were in Baton Rouge, La., after the ocean hop. Marshall here was with the crew. We were using pusher motors on the NC-4, and Marshall walked into one propeller. The motor was revolving about a thousand a minute. I felt that sickening vibration that I felt once before when one of the boys lost a hand in the whirling blades. At once I cut the master switch and looked around.

"There Marshall lay on a wing, all most scalped, his arm and leg mangled. We thought he was gone." For more than three years Marshall lay in a hospital in New York. Lieutenant Hinton visited him frequently. Then, after his discharge, he came back to Indianapolis, where he has lived since.

High-Hatted!

By United Press
CHICAGO, March 23.—J. V. Neill, manager of the Glen View airport, was up Sunday trying out a new, open cockpit, mid-get airplane.

When about half way between here and Waukegan, the aviator's hat blew off his head.

Neill circled slowly about the hat as it fell gently into a farmyard. He landed the plane in a small field nearby, got his hat, placed it securely on his head, and took off again.

C. A. SUFFRINS, ARTIST, IS DEAD

Worked on Newspapers for Years; Rites Tuesday.

Funeral services will be held at 1:30 Tuesday at the home, 3248 Kenwood avenue, for Charles A. Suffrins, 70, newspaper artist, who died Sunday after an illness of several months. Burial will be in Crown Hill cemetery.

Resident of the city forty-five years, Suffrins entered newspaper work at Muncie as a youth, serving as city editor of the old Muncie Daily several years, later entering the employ of the old Indianapolis Journal. He was born in Schrievesville, O.

Suffrins was an authority on early history of the John Herron Art Institute, and worked as an oil portrait painter as a young man. A number of his paintings still hang in private galleries in Washington.

For the last thirty-five years he operated the C. A. Suffrins printing office. He was active in the work of Arris court No. 5, Supreme Tribe of Ben-Hur, and a member of the Methodist church.

Survivors are two sons, Herbert L. Suffrins, Indianapolis, and Charles Suffrins of Columbus, O. His wife, Mrs. Eloise Suffrins, died about four years ago.

Unfair Pain

It is not fair that some women should suffer so each month. It isn't necessary! The periodic process is natural, but the painful part is not. Midol will prove this to every woman who will try it. These wonderful tablets are non-narcotic, but they banish every bit of pain. They act directly on the organs affected and they take effect in five to seven minutes. Better yet, the woman who anticipates her time and takes a tiny tablet of Midol beforehand will experience no pain at all.

Realize what Midol means. It is the product of specialists for this special purpose and it really does ease all suffering and even the discomfort women once had to endure at such times. Always obtainable at any drug store in the convenient metal pocket case for only 50 cents. Many have found Midol the quickest relief for headaches, neuralgia, neuritis, and other pain.—Advertisement.

YOUTH IS SLASHED

Knifed in Dancing Melee at Barbecue.

His face slashed in a cutting scrape, Carson Hanna, 20, of 1153 North Beville avenue, is in serious condition today at city hospital.

According to deputy sheriffs, Hanna was cut when he attempted to stop a man, who is sought by deputies, from dancing with a young woman at the Garden City barbecue, 4206 Rockville avenue.
