

Miss Pritz Married to Aaron Glick

The marriage of Miss Annette Pritz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Pritz, 317 North Riley street, to Aaron A. Glick, son of Mrs. Henry Glick, took place at 5 Sunday afternoon in the Riley room at the Claypool.

An improvised altar arranged with palms and ferns provided background for the ceremony, which was performed by Rabbi Milton I. Steinberg.

Victor Dannacher, tenor, sang, with violin and piano accompaniment by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Sthaler. Mrs. Mendel Saffer, Richmond, matron of honor, wore a gown of black crepe, and carried Dutchess supreme roses.

Miss Alice Davidson, maid of honor, wore green lace, and carried tallsmen roses. The bridesmaids were Miss Helen Berkowitz, who wore orchid taffeta and tulle, and carried Mrs. Aaron waru roses; Ruth Goldberg, in peach chiffon, with rapture roses; Brynia Epstein, wore green taffeta and carried briarcliff roses, and Bess Gerstein, in peach organdy, with Johanna Hill roses.

Brother Is Best Man

The flower girls, Bernice Leskovits and Helen Marilyn Glick, wore frocks of orchid net, and carried orchid baskets tied with green tulle, carrying out the bridal colors, orchid and green.

Isadore Glick, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Ushers were Nathan L. Pritz, brother of the bride; Mendel Saffer, Richmond; Jess Cohen, Cincinnati; Herman Tulchinsky, South Bend; Albert Shane, and Max Shane. The ring bearer was Edwin Mayer, wearing a suit of white satin, and carried the ring in a lily, resting on a white satin pillow.

Leave for California

Following the ceremony a dinner for the members of the bridal party was held in the Riley room, served at a U-shaped table decorated with roses and tapers, in the bridal colors, orchid and green.

Mothers of the bride and bridegroom each wore gowns of black crepe, with shoulder bouquets of orchids.

Mr. and Mrs. Glick left following the dinner for a wedding trip to California. The bride traveled in a brown wool suit, with wing collar of fox, and brown accessories. They will be at home after May 1 at 3777 North Meridian street.

OLD STAGE FARCE IS NOW A MOVIE HIT

Buster Keaton Stages a Remarkable Comeback in 'Parlor, Bedroom and Bath,' Now at the Palace.

BY WALTER D. HICKMAN
I SUPPOSE if children still gather around their grandmother's knee to ask questions, they might ask "Where do all of the old stage plays go?"

And the modern grandmother would have to answer, "Not to the storehouse, but to the movie studio."

A number of years back, plays like "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" kept many a theater lighted and prosperous. It is fair to suppose that a stage hit is destined to become a movie hit. That is not often the case because the movie director has attempted to be a playwright and has changed the theme so that the audience would never recognize it. Not so with "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath." On the stage it was an awkward and a noisy farce and at times not even lady like.

It is the same on the talking screen, made so to a great extent by the antics of Buster Keaton as the shy young man who does not know how to make love to women, and by Charlotte Greenwood who put "it" into Buster's conversation. I admit that I was surprised the way Keaton put over his scenes. He plays them for all he is worth and his frozen countenance seemed to melt a bit at times.

His wrestling match with the tall Charlotte is funny but not ladylike. Here is noisy fun but it is fun never the less.

Years back, Miss Greenwood was a person to be reckoned with on the stage. Her fame was "So Long Letty" and other plays. She has a definite place on the movie screen and she was the right choice for "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath."

Reginald Denny proves that he has a definite comedy sense and that he knows what farce demands. Cliff Edwards as a bellhop, handed me plenty of laughs.

"Parlor, Bedroom and Bath" is a fast working movie and it is full of loud laughs.

It has suspense and plenty of action. In spots the photography becomes a beautiful picture.

Some may find the way the story has been developed a little overdone because the ending of the story comes first. In other words, the main story is just a series of flash backs but cleverly done.

I believe that you will find "Beau Ideal" interesting entertainment. Because it is so much like "Beau Geste" in theme and treatment, this movie is not a novelty.

THIS ONE IS NOT REALISM

Have always maintained that the way the newspaper reporter is shown on the screen and stage ninety-nine times out of a hundred is no more like a real reporter than a flea resembles an elephant.

And probably when the wives of doctors see "Doctor's Wives" they will probably cry out that the wife in this movie in no way resembles her sisters in life. My biggest objection to "Doctor's Wives" is that the central character is so pitifully overdrawn that a doctor in real life might become a murderer if he had such a wife in the flesh.

In the story, the doctor's wife is a silly thing.

There is some miscasting in this movie because Warner Baxter no more looks and acts like a doctor than I do.

And I feel that even Miss Bennett did not like her part because the character was such an idiotic fool.

There is a story with a possibility that has gone wrong. Maybe I am wrong but be your own judge.

NO COMMUNISM IN RUSSIA, SAYS MAURICE HINDUS

Just Super-Capitalistic Firm Belonging to Government.

BY DANIEL M. KIDNEY

There is no genuine Communism or Socialism in Russia today, but one gigantic super-capitalistic corporation belonging to the government and operated solely for governmental profit.

This was the interpretation of "Russia Today" given the largest crowd of Indianapolis citizens ever to attend an open forum lecture at Kirshbaum community center Sunday night by Maurice G. Hindus, native Russian, educated at Colgate university, and author of "Humanity Unrooted."

This book is considered an outstanding authority on the Russian problem.

"Under Stalin, the Russian revolution has taken a decided turn to the left and is getting farther and farther away from western civilization," Hindus declared.

"Corner stones of all western civilization are private property, religion and the individualistic family. The Bolsheviks have abolished all private business and rapidly are changing the traditional form of family life, but so far, the family, as such, has survived."

Greatest tragedy in Russia today is the former business man, who is an absolute outcast under the new regime, according to Hindus.

"What Russia has is state capitalism, with the government owning all business and organized to operate it like a greater General Motors Corporation," Hindus asserted.

"It is offering security to the workers and the promise that it will produce more and distribute better than the capitalist systems of the western world."

"There is no freedom in Russia and but one political party. Only the peasant has the courage to protest. The biggest job the government faces is to keep the peasant peaceful and contented."

WATER FINALLY CAUSES DEATH

Man Unable to Swim Saved Two From Drowning.

By Times Special

NORTH MANCHESTER, Ind., March 30.—Finding of the body of Ernest A. Ebbinghouse, wealthy North Manchester shoe merchant, in Lake Michigan at Benton Harbor, recalled that water long held a fascination for him. But nevertheless he did not learn to swim. Despite that handicap he saved Alf and Harold McNeil of Liberty Mills from drowning several years ago. Once he narrowly escaped drowning at Niagara Falls, N. Y.

The merchant had been missing since Nov. 17 last when he left here, presumably for Gary to visit his niece, Mrs. Struble. He never appeared at her home.

A coroner's verdict gave accidental drowning as the cause of death.

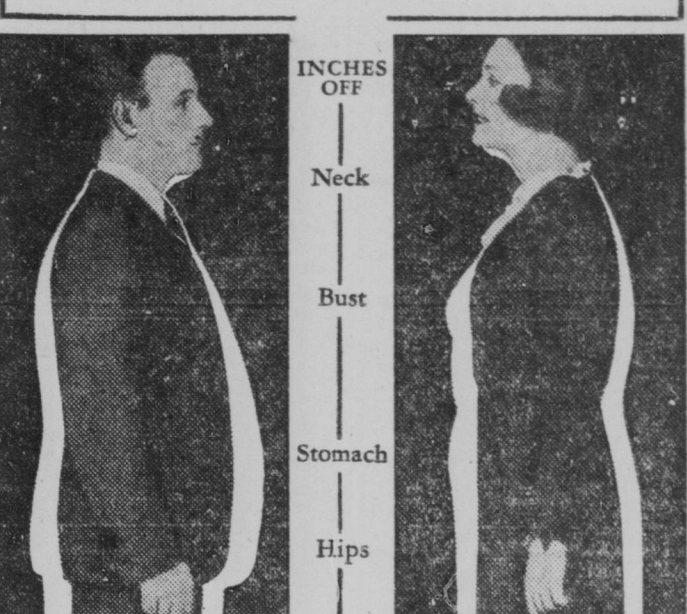

Sand Buries Streets

By United Press

MILLER, Ind., March 30.—Drifting sands of the Indiana dunes bury streets here so often that Lake county commissioners have ordered them dug out at least four times a year. One street has been covered with sand to a depth of four feet for weeks.

Simple to Lose a Pound of Fat a Day on a Full Stomach

Do Just These Two Simple Things—Fat Melts Away

Here is a quick and easy way to take off a pound a day—four to seven pounds every week!—with never a hungry moment. A way any doctor will tell you is safe and sure.

This is what you do: Take a teaspoonful ordinary Jad Salts in glass of water half hour before breakfast every morning. This reduces moisture-weight instantly. Also cleanses your system of the waste matter and excess toxins that most fat people have, and banishes puffiness and bloat.

Then do this about eating. FILL YOUR STOMACH—eat your fill of lean meats, vegetables like spinach, cauliflower, cabbage, tomatoes, etc., and lots of salads. Eat a lot. Eat all you can hold. Don't go hungry a minute. Cut down on butter, sweets and desserts, bread. Eat any fruit except bananas, for dessert.

That's all you do. Fat seems to melt away. The coarse lines of overweight give way to the refined ones of slenderness. You lose as much as a pound a day. You feel better than for years. For in this treatment you achieve two important results. The Jad Salts clear your system of toxins. The diet takes off fat with food that turns to energy instead of weight.

If you're tired of being embarrassed by fat, try this way. You'll be glad that you did. You can get Jad Salts at any drug store. *Note particularly—the salts are urged purely as a poison-banishing agent—not as a reducing. The change in food does the work.—Advertisement.
