

Saving Made if You Buy Whole Ham

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

When the housekeeper is sure there will be no waste, she will find it a decided economy to buy a whole ham.

The choice middle cuts always are high when bought separately, but if the whole ham is purchased they are not considered.

Butt end, hook end and center are regarded as a whole and simply priced at so much a pound.

There are numberless ways of cooking smoked ham, but I believe that the most meals can be served with the least danger of the family becoming tired of the same meat. If both the ends are boiled and then worked up into interesting dishes.

Slice Center for Broiling

The center can be cut in slices for broiling. After the middle slices are used, the ends are put together and securely tied and treated as a whole ham.

Plan how the entire ham is to be used and then there will be no chance for waste.

Although it is not absolutely necessary to soak all hams before boiling or baking, I have found it advisable to do so even though I am sure of my brand and the saltiness of the ham I've bought.

An over-night bath in clear, fresh water can not hurt any ham and will restore the moisture through curing.

If ham has been oversalted, soaking is imperative to make it tender as well as palatable.

Hints on Cooking Ham

There are two precautions to keep in mind when cooking ham. Never cook a highly salted piece of meat rapidly, and in the case of broiling or sauteing, do not depend on it to furnish its own fat entirely.

Always begin to cook ham at a low temperature and increase gradually.

Put ham on to boil in cold water, bring slowly to the boiling point and simmer gently until tender. The time will vary, but it will take four or five hours for a twelve-pound ham.

It can be boiled in cider, or seasonings can be added to the water, to give it a piquant flavor. Bay leaves, whole cloves, peppercorns, onion and carrot are the seasonings generally liked.

If the ham is to be used sliced cold, let it cool in the water in which it was cooked. Then remove from water and trim as necessary. Plain boiled ham can be used in innumerable made dishes and is excellent to have in the ice-box for an emergency.

When the whole joint is to be baked, it should be boiled first and then baked only long enough to brown the outside and season it.

Daily Menu

BREAKFAST—Halves of grapefruit, cereal, cream, fried cornmeal mush, new maple syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Cream of grapefruit, cereal, cream, fried cornmeal mush, new maple syrup, milk, coffee.

LUNCHEON—Cream of corn soup, ham salad, baking powder biscuits, vanilla cookies, grape juice.

DINNER—Baked salmon loaf, creamed peas, grilled sweet potatoes, cabbage and apple salad, lemon sponge ding, milk, coffee.

Some cooks pour cider or sweetened vinegar over half a ham and bake it in a self-basting roaster in a very slow oven for four or five hours.

This actually is "braising" rather than baking or roasting, and is an excellent way to cook a slice cut or three inches thick or the half of the joint.

Ham loaf, ham mosse, ham sandwiches, ham salad, ham croquettes, ham and chicken combinations, ham and veal combinations, plain sliced ham, broiled boiled ham, ham ramikins, hame timbales, ham and pineapple, ham and sweet potatoes—all these dishes and many others use boiled ham in their making and are delicious for spring days.

The last crumb can be used to as good advantage as the first perfect slice.

Egg Roll Is Slated Easter at Sunnyside

Children's Sunshine Club of Sunnyside will sponsor an Easter egg roll for the children at 3 Easter Sunday, on the lawn toward the south of the sanatorium.

Prizes will be awarded. The hunt will be followed by refreshments, served in the dining room, which will be decorated in Easter design. Tables will hold Easter favors for the children.

Mrs. Frank Coyle is chairman of arrangements, assisted by Mrs. Frank Gritt and members of the club.

Picture Gift to I. U.

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., April 3.—A canvas by one of Japan's foremost animal painters, Ohasi Suiseki, has been presented to Indiana university by Fusanobu Isobe, Tokio, Japan, who was graduated from Indiana university in 1909. The picture is entitled, "The Lion in the Bullrushes." Suiseki, who came here to attend the dedication of the Chemistry building, has presented the school with many Japanese pictures and screens.

Debating Award Made

CRAWFORDSVILLE, Ind., April 3.—John M. Kitchen, Wabash college sophomore, is this year's recipient of first prize in the Hays all-college debating award, which is the gift of Hinkle C. Hays, Sullivan, who was a debater in his student days here.

Atlanta Man Dies

ATLANTA, Ind., April 3.—John Spidel, 65, fell dead at his home here, a victim of heart disease. He leaves his widow and three children.

Costumes for a Cold Easter

Directed By AMOS PARRISH

NEW YORK, April 3.—Suppose it's cold on next Sunday—Easter! What's the fashionable woman going to do then to make herself look as new and springlike as she wants to look on that day?

Even if you do find it's too cold to wear your new spring coat on Easter, you can still look new and different. Some of fashion's very best spring ideas seem to have been designed for just such an emergency.

Take that extremely important part of the Easter costume—the hat. A new hat for Easter is traditional. And there are plenty of new spring hats that can be worn with a winter coat and look springlike just the same.

Brimless Ones Suitable
Not one of the newest, wide, flared-brimmed ones, of course. The brim wouldn't fit well in the big collar that winter coats had. But one of the new brimless ones will. Or one with a brim turned up like a cuff. They're so different from the hats of winter that anybody'd know they were new.

There's the little Agnes turban, for example. Close-fitting, brimless, with a roll—or two or three—along the edge like a frame. Or a band of flowers that gives the same frame effect.

We've had one sketched on the left-hand figure. And it shows a way to get spring color into the costume, too. The puff across the front is in a different color from the rest of the hat.

Has Narrow Brim
Another spring hat that can be worn with the winter coat is shown, too—one of those with the narrow brim that fits the back of the neck closely and lifts up in front.

Either of these, made in straw or a combination of straw and fabric, is now looking and wearable on the stormiest day.

The fashionable bright colored or two-colored dress is something else that goes well with the dark winter coat and keeps the spring atmosphere at the same time.

Wear something of the type of the dress sketched at the right even under your fur coat, and you can't help feeling Easter-y. Sleeves and upper part of the bodice are light. The skirt is dark.

Or if you feel there's too much light color in this, there are scores of other two-color dresses, quite as much in fashion, with just contrasting yokes and cuffs, or with contrasting scarfs and girdles.

A bright-colored dress—all one color—will do wonders toward putting you in a spring mood on a cold Easter. Provided, of course, it has new spring details.

The one sketched at the left has—in the three-quarter sleeves, diagonal lines and soft scarf draping.

No—certainly nobody need feel she has to stay home on Easter if her new spring coat is too light to wear. Not when there are hats and dresses like these that are fashionable.

"I've flown with the Pathfinders of the Air"
—says Chesterfield

© 1931, LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Yet you meet me in the city's crowded canyons"

Along the invisible lanes of the air, or among jostling thousands in the city's streets . . . it's all the same to Chesterfield. For here's a cigarette that goes everywhere, and that tastes right anywhere. Milder and better tobaccos—nothing else—that's what you taste in Chesterfield. And, thanks to the "cross-blend," all of that mild, good taste and aroma is retained!

They Satisfy
—that's Why!

FOR NINETEEN years, our Research Department has kept intimate touch with every new development of Science that could be applied to the manufacture of cigarettes. During this period there has been no development of tested value or importance to the smoker which we have not incorporated into the making of Chesterfield cigarettes.
