Recognition for heroic services in the past today has been accorded retired veterans of the Indianapolis fire department with dedication Wednesday night of clubrooms provided for the veterans at central fire headquarters.

WON'T LET FIREMEN CHASE YOWLING CAT

Chief Rules It Isn't Their Job, Besides They Might Get Scratched.

By United Press

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., April 9.—A request reached fire headquarters today to remove a cat that has been in a tree for several days disturbing the neighborhood with its yowling.

Fire Chief Abbott Griffen firmly declined, explaining he had passed a rule that firemen no longer could chase cats because:

1. The cats sometimes scratched the firemen.

2. The equipment, such as ladders, had to be kept at headquarters because there might be a fire some day.

The cat's still at it.
