Theodore Stempel to Act
for Bankruptcy Referee in Knox Case.

Appointment of Theodore Stempel of the Fletcher American National bank, as trustee for the Knox Consolidated Coal Company, was announced today by Carl Wilde, federal bankruptcy referee.

Stempel was named at a meeting of creditors. Holders of bonds approximating $2,500,000 voted for his appointment. Samuel Dowden was named attorney for the referee.

The company was placed in voluntary bankruptcy in federal court through a petition filed several weeks ago by several directors of the firm, including Edward D. Logsdon, president.

The bankruptcy action was seen as retaliation by Logsdon for his being deposed recently as state court referee by Superior Judge Joseph R. Williams. Martin Lowish was named to succeed Logsdon by Williams.

The bankruptcy petition stated bonds and interest amounting to more than $1,000,000 had become due and unpaid since Lowish's appointment.

Now Member of Federal Employees' Federation.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, April 10.—Secretary of Labor Doak now may look every government employee squarely in the eye. He has joined the union.

Offered an honorary membership in the National Federation of Federal Employees, Doak refused, insisting upon paying his dues and joining the regular way. Thursday the happy event took place.

The president and secretary-treasurer of the federation, insisting upon making an occasion of it, gave Doak a special membership card done in gold, but otherwise like any other union card.

Giant Owl Clings to Nest in Blast 'Siege'

By Science Service
SULPHUR, Okla., April 10.—The courage inspired by mother love throughout the animal world has again been demonstrated by a great horned owl.

The bird for years has nested on a narrow ledge, not more than eighteen inches in width, on the sheer face of Bromide springs, in Platt National park. This spring found her in her accustomed place, carefully guarding her eggs.

Then work started on the reconstruction of the Bromide trail which passes along the bluff about fifty feet above the nest. In order to gain a footing it was necessary to blast away several tons of rock, and this blasted rock was thrown down and over the owl's nest, coming within a few feet of it. Although the bombardment of rocks continued for ten days, the mother owl never deserted her nest in what must have seemed to her a veritable no man's land.

Now, however, the blasting is over, and the courageous mother has as her reward for bravery under fire two gray-white owlets, so nearly the color of the limestone ledge on which they nest that it is difficult to distinguish them from it unless they move.
