

STATE WETS TO STAGE RALLY IN CITY THURSDAY

National Leaders to Be on Program Scheduled at Tomlinson Hall.

"People have been fooled by prohibition long enough," is the war-cry of anti-prohibition forces who have arranged for a state-wide rally at Tomlinson hall, Thursday night.

The meeting is under auspices of the Indiana division of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment.

Captain W. H. Stayton of Washington, founder of the association, will be principal speaker.

He will be accompanied here by Pierre S. Du Pont, leading American industrialist, who believes that prohibition benefits to workers are entirely mythical.

Du Pont is one of the directors of the National association, of which Henry H. Curran is president.

Meredith Nicholson will preside. The meeting will be opened by Leo M. Rappaport, chairman of the executive committee of the Indiana division.

Thousands of announcements of the meeting have been sent out from the office of William Stokes, state director, in the Consolidated building.

The strongest of all woods is the African teak oak, which will stand a pressure of 655 pounds.

PROSECUTION IS THREAT IN SALE OF WINE JUICE

But Evidence Must Be Shown of 'Unlawful Intent,' Says Woodcock.

By United Press

WASHINGTON, April 13.—Amos W. Woodcock, federal prohibition director, regards as illegal the advertisement and sale of grape concentrates for the specific purpose of making wine and intends to prosecute wherever there is evidence of "unlawful intent" on the part of those who sell such products.

He outlined his position in a letter to Rufus S. Lusk, executive secretary of the Crusaders, new anti-prohibition organization, which Lusk made public today.

Lusk asked a ruling in view of the wide-spread sale of such grape concentrates in kegs with the advertised purpose of making wine, calling attention to the establishment of a sales office by Fruit Industries, Inc., of California, across the street from the justice department, and within two blocks of the White House.

"If these articles are advertised and sold with an intent that they be used in the manufacture of a beverage which is intoxicating in fact, then such advertisement and sale are unlawful," the federal prohibition director said.

"We have prosecutions against somewhat similar enterprises under way in Los Angeles and Kansas City.

Such prosecutions will be made whenever the evidence of such unlawful intent is available to convince a petit jury beyond a reasonable doubt."

He called to Lusk's attention, however, "the practical difficulty of the proof of such unlawful intent."

ANTI-DRY WOMEN MEET
Hundreds Gather at Washington to Refute Dry Claims.

WASHINGTON, April 13.—The shock troops of the women's anti-prohibition forces began to appear in Washington today, and by tomorrow "more than a thousand live and vigorous refutations of Mrs. Henry W. Peabody's statement that 'women of America favor prohibition,' will have arrived, according to press notices of the women's organization for national prohibition reform.

TINY PLANES AT LOW COST HOLD SHOW INTEREST

Builders' Effort to Attract Average Man Stressed at Detroit Exposition.

BY ERNIE PYLE,
Times Staff Correspondent

DETROIT, April 13.—Each year the national aircraft show is looked forward to by the public for disclosures of the latest trends in airplane building. But in this year's show, now in progress here, the "trend seekers" do not have to look far.

There is one outstanding trend, and the one only—that is the attempt of manufacturers to go after the common person, the man with the small pocketbook.

The show is full of tiny planes of low horse power and supposedly easy to fly, selling from $975 up to $2,000.

The show is being held in the $1,000,000 hangar at the Detroit city airport. It is the biggest hangar in the world.

There are eighty-three planes on display, that many more on the field for actual flight demonstration, and a couple of hundred visiting planes here.

The cheapest plane at the show is the little Heath, at $975, and the most expensive is the Ford transport, at $50,000.

The autogiro exhibit is drawing more attention than any other. The Pitcairn Autogiro Company has three "windmills" on display.

SAFE CRACKERS' LOOT IS $1,000

Batter Box in Office of Granada Theater.

Battering the combination off a safe in the office of the Granada theater, 1045 Virginia avenue, safe crackers early today stole $1,000. The yeggs had jimmied a rear door of the theater to gain entrance. Robert Woods, 2739 Barth avenue, employe, discovered the robbery.
