

SCHWAB LOOKS FOR TEN YEARS OF PROSPERITY

Golden Era Is on Way to U. S., Steel Executive Tells Publishers.

By United Press
NEW YORK, April 24.—Ten golden years of prosperity were predicted by Charles M. Schwab, chairman of Bethlehem Steel Corporation, at the annual dinner Thursday night of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association.

"The next ten years will see the rehabilitation and improvement of properties," he told more than 500 publishers from all parts of the United States and Canada.

"Electricity will receive new impetus. Prices will become better stabilized. Home industries will gain. The automobile will reach new high levels. Advertising will make increased strides."

Schwab indirectly defended his bonus plan, which added $1,625,753 in one year to the $12,000 annual salary of Eugene G. Grace, president, when he declared that millions of dollars in gain or loss depended upon the decision of the top executive.

"If you are going to get good management you have got to pay for it," he declared.

Schwab declared that one way of returning prosperity was by maintaining a high wage scale. He pointed out that many firms maintained high wage standards even though obliged to adopt part-time operation.

He asserted that he is a believer in the carefully planned merger, but suggested that the principal disadvantage of the merger is its tendency to curtail operation.

He added that modern industry had lost something of the energy and force of personal ownership possessed by enterprises of a generation ago.

SNARE GREAT LIZARDS ALIVE; GET 'EM TIPS

Native Fishermen in Haiti Put Rum in Rock Hollows.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, April 24.—Native fishermen of Petite Gonave Island, off the coast of Haiti, have a unique method of catching the great lizards which infest the region.

The fishermen profess fear of the iguanas, but to members of a Smithsonian Institution party who visited the island was disclosed the means of snaring the lizards alive.

"They said they could be captured," says the report of Alexander Wetmore just published by the Institution, "by putting rum in rock hollows where the iguanas would drink it, making it an easy matter to catch and handle them."

PARLIAMENT'S MATCH BUDGET RUNS 'DRY'

British Government Says No More Free "Lights" Will Be Provided.

By United Press
LONDON, April 24.—Smokers among members of the British Parliament will, in future, be forced to buy their own matches.

As part of the great governmental economy wave the office of works issued an order that when the present stock of matches supplied to the house of commons is exhausted no further supplies will be provided.

It would appear at first that this is a paltry saving but records show that 12,000 boxes of "ship matches"—good, stout sticks, two inches long—are used at a single session of Parliament.

GIANT BRIDGE IS NAMED

World's Largest Suspension Span Honors George Washington.

By United Press
NEW YORK, April 24.—After months of wrangling, which was joined in by millions of residents in two states, the world's largest suspension span officially has been named George Washington bridge. The bridge over the Hudson joins upper New York City and New Jersey.

Cat Hunts Mushrooms

By United Press
WABASH, Ind., April 24.—A feline "mushroom hunter" which, after being trained to a diet of the fungus, now finds choice specimens in quantity, is claimed by Elza Harvey. He says the cat walked to his home with one mushroom in its mouth, and forthwith directed him to a score of them in a nearby field.

M'GUFFEYITE, 77, IS SPELLING CHAMPION

Mrs. Emma Fesler and her favorite book—a McGuffey reader.

Mrs. Emma Fesler Victor Over 24 Contestants in Tournament.

As bright as the $5 gold piece that rewarded her spelling match victory was Mrs. Emma Fesler, 77, of 2138 Park avenue, when The Times photographer visited her today.

Schooling received in a little red schoolhouse down in Morgan county seventy years ago won first place for Mrs. Fesler in the McGuffeyites' spelling contest Thursday night in Croysey auditorium.

Mrs. Fesler and Mrs. Mattie Crawford, 71, were running a neck-and-neck race in the battle of words until W. A. Mason, announcer, read "admissible" from the tattered page of a McGuffey speller. Substituting an "a" for an "i," Mrs. Crawford, who lives at 935 Broadway, was forced into second place.

Prior to this, seventy-three other contestants, of all ages, had gone down on such conundrums as "pertinent," "vacillate," "orifice," "apoplectic," "manumit" and "exchequer," while the expert from Morgan county slipped past them all with perfect ease.

Female contestants proved superior to the men. Third place went to Mrs. Alice Davis, 69, Graylynn hotel, and fourth to Mrs. Catherine Holland, 41, of 2412 North Alabama street.

COPS' CAR DITCHED

Two Auto Thieves Hunted; Quit Riddled Machine.

Two auto thieves, who escaped police when the squad car was ditched Thursday night, are sought today.

The officers, called to Seventeenth street and Washington boulevard, found the car, without lights, cruising in the vicinity. When Radio Patrolmen Murray Johnston and Noel Bennett gave chase the car sped to College avenue.

Police were unable to make the turn and the car was ditched after they had fired shotguns and revolvers at the automobile.

The stolen car was found early today at Eleventh and Concord streets, the back of it riddled by bullets.

Clarence E. Brown, R. R. 18, Box 304-B, had reported the car stolen Thursday night.

CINCINNATI, O., April 24.—The thirty-day suspension imposed on the Rev. R. R. Fillbrandt, pastor of Washington Evangelical church here on charges that he hired thugs to waylay a member of his congregation, ended today without the minister being placed on trial.
