TEACHING COUPLE SUE

Man and Wife Who Lost Positions Will Test Tenure Law.

By Times Special
GOSHEN, Ind., April 29.—John J. Kent, and his wife, Mrs. Leoria Kent, are plaintiffs in two suits filed in Elkhart circuit court to test the teacher tenure law.

Defendants are William P. Stiver, Elkhart township trustee, and his predecessor in office, W. W. Scranage.

Each plaintiff had served five years as teachers, and under the tenure law their positions became permanent, but they were refused contracts.

ARRANGE BROADCAST

American School of the Air to Feature Folk Tunes.

American School of the Air will present a program of Italian folk and art songs over WFBM and the Columbia broadcasting system at 1:30 p. m., Thursday.

First number on the program, "Nina," is a song by an early Neapolitan dramatic composer, Pergolesi. Scarlati wrote the next number, a short melody called "Pastorale," intended for the harpsichord. Neapolitan folk songs also will be heard.

Concluding numbers will be Paganini's "Twenty-fourth Caprice" and "Tarantella," by Rossini.

Last program of the season for children in primary grades was scheduled to be broadcast this afternoon when musical numbers from the past twelve lessons form the program.

Prizes Are Awarded in School Poster Contest

First prize in the high school division was awarded Monday to Margaret Bunden of Shortridge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bunden, 425 West Thirty-ninth street. Julius Molner of Lafayette is first in the seventh and eighth grades, and Ulysses Mercier of Wiley is winner in the first to sixth grades group.

Awards were presented Anna Payne of Marion, second in high school division, and Bill Payne, third. Capitola Ready of Hammond is second in seventh and eighth grades, and Richard Fink of Auburn is third. In the first to sixth grades, Joseph Echmidt of Attica is second and Rita Martin of South Bend, third.

Children's Books

With coming of circus days, many children find that they would like to know more about animals, how they can be trained, where the wilder animals are found, and something about the life of a circus performer.

In the children's room at the public library the following books will give many hours of entertainment: "Amateur Circus Life." (By E. B. Balch). Gymnastics for boys, based on the ten elements of simple tumbling and adapted from the practice of professional acrobats.

"Training of Wild Animals." (By Charles Bostock). How lions, tigers and other animals are taught to do tricks and to live in captivity.

"Big Tent." (By Mrs. Flavia A. Canfield). Two little girls are lost in the woods and are found by some circus people. They live with the circus for some time and learn much about circus life.

"Tony and the Big Top." (By Allen Chaffee). Tony is a girl who lives with the circus. She is afraid of the trapeze, yet is not afraid of him, the tiger.

"Lions 'n' Tigers 'n' Everything." (By Courtney Riley Cooper). An absorbing account of how animals are obtained, their habits, care and training.

"Under the Big Top." (By C. R. Cooper). A popular account of circus life.

"Circus Animals." (By Elizabeth Gale). How the animals came to the circus. Excellent simple stories for younger children.

"How to Put On an Amateur Circus." (By P. A. Harker). Plans the ring, animal act, stunts for clowns, side shows and construction of equipment.

"Doctor Doolittle's Circus." (By Hugh Lofting). The doctor undertakes the management of a new and unique circus assisted by his animal friends.

Honorable mention was given as follows:

High School Division—Albert Westfall and Robert A. Porter of Evansville; Frances Church of Southport; Rudy Blandford, New Carlisle, and Michael Lah, Hammond.

Seventh and Eighth Grades—Lawrence Trover, La Fontaine; Sue Maines, Bensinger; James E. Vest, New Albany; Lucille Isenbower, Southport; and Forest Milbourne, Mishawaka.

SAFETY AWARDS TO BE MADE TO COUNTY PUPILS

Silver Cups Will Go to Township School With Highest Rating.

Three schools in Marion county, outside Indianapolis, will be awarded silver cups as the three foremost schools in safety work.

Pike township School 11 will keep the cup for first prize as they were winners in the safety contest last year. Plans for presentation have not been arranged definitely although Saturday night has been set tentatively for the congratulatory ceremonies.

On May 15, John Strange school will receive the silver cup for second place. Fred T. Gladden, county school superintendent, is to make the award.

Glenn's Valley school is winner of the third silver cup.

All schools began the school year with perfect records. Since then, deductions have been made for accidents, carelessness on the part of pupils in crossing streets, or for other infractions of safety rules. More than 650 boys and girls have taken part in patrol duty.

A committee composed of members of the various townships took action at the schools and headquarters of location into consideration at the meeting Monday. After careful deliberation, they decided the three schools to which cups will be awarded. All schools were commended on the co-operation shown in the safety campaign.

'HEALTH ROUNDUPS' TO START IN SCHOOLS

Examinations of Pupils Will Be Made Throughout County.

Examinations and health work among children entering school in the fall will begin today at John Strange school.

First summer health roundup in county schools will continue at Garden City Thursday; Flackville, Friday; Ben Davis, May 6, and Nora township school, May 8.

Mrs. Charles M. Dawson, health chairman, announces that schools wishing to participate must register before Friday.

Pupils Will Present Play

School No. 73 again will present "Wildflower of the Hills," a play given by ten pupils during the latter part of March. Friday night the play will be given at School No. 1.

Next Wednesday the cast will appear at the Brightwood Methodist church.

"How will you have your Shredded Wheat this morning?"

"I'll have it with hot milk, my dear. It's a bit chilly out doors, and I want something to warm me up. It certainly is great the way you can serve Shredded Wheat as either a hot or cold cereal—and just as easily either way. Fickle spring can't fool us, can she?
