

ALBERT FALL'S PARDON HOPES APPEAR BRIGHT

Believe Owen Roberts Will Approve Freedom on Bribery Count.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, May 5.—Albert B. Fall may have a good chance of obtaining pardon on the charge of bribery, for which he stands convicted. It is believed in some circles here, due to his age and failing health.

While his pardon appeal will be passed upon finally by President Hoover, it will be a member of the supreme court who probably will make the decision. That justice is Owen J. Roberts, who as special government counsel, prosecuted Fall. Pardon applications usually are referred to the judges and prosecutors.

Friends of Roberts said today that he had conducted the government's case throughout without malice, and believed his calm, judicious spirit might influence him in favor of a pardon for the former cabinet member.

It was held unlikely, however, that Fall would be able to escape paying the $100,000 fine which is a part of his sentence, unless he went to the length of taking a pauper's oath.

His finances are said to be depleted, the money he obtained from Harry F. Sinclair and E. L. Doheny having been swallowed up largely by his unprofitable Tres Rios ranch in New Mexico.

His proposal to ask for a pardon was looked upon here as acceptance of the jury's verdict in his case, despite the fact that he and his family have maintained from the first a defiant attitude and have insisted upon his innocence.

Another trial would mean his death, he is said to feel, and the unspoken corollary of that is that a year in prison would be equally fatal. Whether the federal government will be willing to pardon him in order to prevent that eventually remains to be seen.

RENO MILL SUSPENDED

Municipal Election Is Center of Attention; Liberalism Issue.

By United Press
RENO, Nev., May 5.—Permanent residents of Reno took time off today from watching the new, always interesting, and sometimes amusing, divorce mill in operation to cast their votes in a municipal election linked after a fashion with the new order of things under the six-weeks divorce and liberal gambling laws.

E. E. Roberts, present mayor, was opposed for re-election by Howard C. Doyle and Milburn Gregory. All declared liberalism was not an issue, but made it one by declaring it wasn't.

Marriage Licenses
Lewis Burkhardt, 45, of 1221 East Washington, Reno, baker, and Goldie Black, 37, of 1835 East Michigan street, hotel keeper, were married yesterday. John V. Jr., 22, of 3002 West Tenth street, knifeman, and Frieda Aldrich, 20, of 1835 Singleton street, glove factory worker.

Roy Marom, 42, Kokomo, clerk and Ida street, nurse.

Carl M. Seaver, 23, of 1730 North Illinois street, teacher, and Virginia Stokes, 19, of 2103 Jackson street, beauty operator.

Emerson A. McFarland, 29, of 624 North Illinois street, cook, and Nola A. McFarland, 30, of 624 North Illinois street.

Ron T. Thomas, 28, of 1820 Palms, grocery store operator.

Joseph Horger, 37, of 512 Elm street, truck driver, and Grace Hunt, 23, of 461 Elm street, housewife.

Denclif D. Williams, 28, Plainville, Ind., teacher, and Marcelle Hindman, 26, of 1820 Palms, housewife.

Devilit C. Gottman, 22, Cincinnati, student, and Pauline Painter, 20, Lincoln, housewife.

Josiah T. Walker, 20, Terre Haute, lawyer, and Anna M. Smith, 40, Indianapolis, nurse.

Oscar D. Strange, 25, of 1238 East Ohio street, Indianapolis, gas station operator.

Maynard, 26, of 817 North Pennsylvania street, inspector.

Richwine, 34, Pittsboro, Ind., farmer, and Bertha E. Aldridge, 35, of 1210 Baird parkway.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets help arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, people rarely suffer from indigestion and stomach troubles.

Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Try Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound. Known by their olive coloring. They do the work of purifying, cleansing or pain. All druggists, like 50¢ and 60¢. Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like.—Advertisement.

RITE'S
CUT-PRICE WATCH REPAIRING
Crystals Fitted While You Wait
"A Child Can Buy as Safely as a Grownup" at RITE'S
43 SOUTH ILLINOIS ST.
Square Deal Jewelry Shop.

RITE GLADLY OPENS
CHARGE ACCOUNTS ON
DIAMONDS, WATCHES AND JEWELRY
Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, 5¢ lb.
Thursday, Friday, Saturday, 4¢ lb
Minimum Bundle, $1.01

He Really Rides

Rudolph Rudynoff

WHITE HOUSE IS CASTLE'S 'COPY' HOOVER FINDS

President's Hobby Leads to Discovery of Mansion's Origin.

BY PAUL R. MALLON
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 5.—President Hoover has found a new hobby—tracing the history of the White House and its conglomeration of furnishings which decorators call a "junk pile."

The executive has discovered that the mansion is an unfinished copy of the old fairy castle in England.

Originally its rectangular form was to comprise the center of a building three times as large as the existing edifice. There were to be two wings of equal size on each end. Its dimensions would have made it a palace equal in importance to the homes of royalty in Europe.

The building is still awaiting conclusion of the work. At either end on the second floor are tiny rooms, while the hall runs the full length from wall to wall. This peculiarity first gave Mr. Hoover the clew from which he developed conclusively the original plans of the builders.

He knew the rooms were too small for any practical use, and out of keeping with the rest of the floor plan. Later he learned they were to have been halls connecting the main building with the wings.

As the rooms are ample to care for a presidential family and to provide comforts for social entertainments, there is no suggestion now that the building ever will be finished. The grounds also have been narrowed down by the treasury and state departments to such extent that the wings could not be constructed without interfering with this general layout.

But something is being done about the White House furniture. Piece by piece Mrs. Hoover is replacing chairs, tables and other odds and

PASTOR RESIGNS TO TAKE POST IN EAST

Frederick W. Burnham Will Leave University Park Christian Church.

For ten years head of the United Christian Missionary Society and for a year pastor of University Park Christian church, the Rev. Frederick W. Burnham has resigned the Indianapolis charge to become pastor of the Seventh Street Christian church in Richmond, Va.

The church board Monday night accepted Mr. Burnham's resignation and named a committee to choose his successor.

In his letter explaining his resignation, Mr. Burnham pointed out that he believed the church could employ a minister as capable as himself at considerably as saving.

Postponement of University Park ends, in an effort to make the decorations of each room conform.

Decorators here say the furnishings of both the office and the mansion are anything but American. The designs used in the office are oak leaves and acorns, both of which have foreign origin, it is said.

The furnishings of the mansion are a mixture of Louis XIV and XV, several English periods and some colonial. They represent the personal tastes of each of the first ladies and presidents since the first Adams administration.

Prior to Mrs. Hoover's effort there was no concerted attempt to provide any general scheme of decoration to make the rooms synchronize.

Accidents in the county for April totaled 53 as compared with 30 for April last year, and arrests totaled 90 as against 68 in 1930. Sheriff patrols covered 11,325 miles as compared with 7,875 for April a year ago. Emergency runs were 189 for last month and 52 for April last year.

TUNNEY LAUDS SOVIET REIGN

It's Going Concern, Right or Wrong, He Says.

By United Press
MOSCOW, May 5.—Gene Tunney, who explained that he is "a sportsman and not an economist," told the United Press prior to his departure for Leningrad that the Soviet Union is "a going concern, right or wrong."

The former heavyweight champion and his wife were making a visit to Leningrad today, after which they will proceed to Helsinki, Stockholm, Berlin and New York, which they plan to reach before June 1.

Characterizing Communism as "the hope of the inferior," Tunney said he had "heard so many conflicting reports and seen so many conflicting conditions during my stay in Russia that, so far, it is impossible for me to form a definite opinion of the country."

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he was shocked and displeased by the attitude of the government toward religion and the treatment of symbols of prerevolutionary culture. He said he feared that such propaganda would be disastrous to

Sumner.

He declined to comment on the five-year industrialization plan, but said he