State Guild
Heads Hold
Conference

Indiana branches, Needlework Guild of America, held their state luncheon meeting Thursday at the Indianapolis Athletic Club. Mrs. Oscar Pond, state chairman, presided, and reported on the recent national convention of the organization in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Pond announced that in forty-five years, the national group has distributed more than 27,000,000 garments. More than 1,500,000 were collected in 1930 by the 666 branches. The state group of thirteen branches collected and distributed over 37,000. Two branches were added to the state group, in Vincennes and Richmond.

Mrs. Pond urged branch presidents to appoint emergency committees to co-operate with the national emergency committee in the event of a special collection at times of local, national, or international need.

Mrs. Peter C. Reilly spoke of junior work as discussed at the national convention, and Camp Fire Girl, and Girl Scout and Boy Scout affiliations.

The object of the Needlework Guild is to collect and distribute new, plain, suitable garments to meet the needs of hospitals, homes, and other charities, and to extend its usefulness by organization of other branches.

Annual contribution of two or more articles of wearing apparel or household linen, or donation of money, constitutes membership in a branch. The delegation from Bloomington included:

Mesdames C. H. Springer, president; A. E. Deurze, J. E. Kerr, William McDonald, George B. Norton, J. B. Curry, V. A. Nelson, F. D. Hope and Otto Reitz.

Others from out of town were: Mesdames Leonard S. Briggs, Terre Haute; John O'Connor, Speedway City; Evelyn Evans, Philip Bash, Ralph Morgan, W. S. Smith, C. E. Bash and Miss Clara T. Knepper, Huntington, and Mrs. Robert P. Harding, Ft. Wayne.

Indianapolis representatives were: Mesdames R. Hartley Sherwood, M. C. Seiler, George L. Davis, C. E. Cal, Charles A. Garrard, Sara Major Avery, I. N. Worth, J. E. Hampton, L. E. Wilcox, Janet M. Keith, Elizabeth King, Misses Merice Hoagland and Lillian Taggart.

chosen colors, pink and blue, will center the table, which will be lighted with blue tapers, twined with wreaths of smilax. Miss Fargo and Mr. Baxter will present gifts to their attendants. Guests will include:

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baxter, parents of the bridegroom-elect, and members of the bridal party, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Baxter, Misses Mary Jewell Fargo, Delight Baxter, Mary Fulton, Gladys Hackman and Charlotte Yates, Erie, Pa.; Fred Baxter, Ohio Smith Jr., Fred McCain, Orion Fifer, John Gamble and Austin Bruce.

Sigma Phi Gamma sorority will entertain with its annual spring dances for members and guests at the Marrott. Members of the committee in charge are Miss Florence Grady, chairman; Mrs. Roberta Maxwell Kohlmeier, Mrs. Roy Crowder, Misses Susie Hale, Mary Jane Shenck, Bessie Hills. Music will be provided by Harry Dickinson's orchestra.

A program during intermission will be presented by Misses Helen Fischer, Hazel Smith, Dorothea Gilbert and Catherine Rogers.

TOP O' THE MORNING WEAR

The unlined suede jacket, in gay color, tops everything for sportswear. This one, distinctive for its slip-over, zipper-closing cut, is of the most delectable pastel blues imaginable, beautiful with just about any tone of frock or skirt and blouse you want to wear it with. The collar is exceptionally nice opened, with a scarf tied Ascot manner.

Club Will Hear Talk
on Music

Woodruff Place clubhouse will present Emanuel Seuel, student of musical history and research, in an illustrated lecture at 8 Sunday night.

Seuel, a resident of Woodruff Place, who has devoted the last ten years to intensive study in Europe, will describe how people of the world live, dress, dine, build, play, retain old traditions, preserve old places and relics, enjoy music and honor those whose message in word or music still gives enjoyment throughout the world.

Mrs. Norman Schneider and Miss Blanch Harvey, music committee, have selected more than three thousand pictures from Seuel's collection to be shown.

A musical program will precede the lecture.

Miss Lord Is

ALL WHITE SHADES
REGARDED STYLISH

"What is white?" might be a timely question with white as fashionable as it is in whole costumes and accents on costumes. There are several different shades of white, all of which are smart.

Dead white, which was out of fashion for a while, is in again. Creamy whites, such as ivory, are smart, especially as accent on blue and brown costumes.

Porcelain white still is another shade. And open white has a faint pinky tinge.

Complete line of riding accessories.

Care Needed
on Breaded
Pork Chops

BY SISTER MARY
NEA Service Writer

Breaded pork chops are one of the most popular meats on the dinner menus. But they must be prepared in the right manner if they are going to have sufficient appetite appeal. This is a little more difficult than many cooks realize.

In the first place, all too often, the chops themselves are cut so thin that all the flavor is cooked out of them. You might as well have no meat at all as to have it just as slender as blotting paper.

Have the chops cut a little more than half-inch thick. Three-quarters of an inch is good. Select chops that are quite lean and look juicy and freshly pink. Choose those which have small bones.

Dip in Flour
Such chops are not the cheapest on the market but they are certainly the most satisfactory from the dinner's viewpoint.

Dip each chop in flour. See that it is well coated, not just touched here and there.

Now dip the chops in beaten egg. You might add a tablespoon of water to the egg after it is beaten.

Dip it in finely ground bread crumbs or in cracker meal.

Again, be sure that each chop is well-covered with crumbs. Have ready a skillet with hot, deep fat, not smoking, however. Drop each chop gently into the deep fat, turning it frequently until it is evenly browned.

Remove to a baking dish, cover tightly and bake in a moderate oven for about three-quarters of an hour.

Is Evenly Cooked
This method takes a little more time, but you will have a fine, evenly cooked chop when you are through.

Another quicker way is to fry the chop in a small amount of fat in the skillet, turning frequently to prevent burning. Cook slowly enough to cook through without scorching them.

An apple always should be present when pork is served. Baked apples, fried apples, apple sauce, frozen apple sauce . . . any of these. Tart apples should be used in order to counteract the fatness of the meat.

If the apples are stewed gently in a mixture of little red cinnamon candies and water, the brightness of this will add a touch of attractive color to the whole plate.

RICED POTATOES

Riced potatoes are softer and fluffier for spring servings than the

Daily Recipe

BREAST OF LAMB

A breast of lamb is steamed for three hours. Arrange on a not platter with parsnips which have been boiled, peeled and cut in quarters. Pour over creamed peas.

To make creamed peas, melt 3 tablespoons butter in saucepan. When sizzling, stir in 3 tablespoons flour. Slowly add 2 cups milk, stirring constantly.

Season with salt and pepper, bring to the boiling point and add 1½ cups cooked peas.

Either fresh or canned peas can be used and carrots can be substituted for parsnips.

First Party Is Given in Honor of Mrs. Griffin

Misses Catherine and Callista O'Neill entertained Thursday night at their home, 1401 East Michigan street, in honor of Mrs. Mark D. Griffin, formerly Miss Helen Warmoth, whose marriage took place May 16. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. Patrick O'Neill. Guests were:

Mrs. B. M. Warmoth, mother of the bride, Mesdames George Ryan, Tom Moore, Russell Stubbs, Misses Ann O'Neill, Alberta Reep, Betty Helm, Virginia Waller, and Polly and Addie Griffin, sisters of the bridegroom, who are visiting here.

This is the first of a series of parties to be given for Mrs. Griffin. Miss Reep, Miss Helm and Miss Waller will entertain with parties next week. Other hostesses will select dates later.

browned potatoes which frequently accompany pork chops.

In addition, riced potatoes are not only more interesting looking, but are considerably easier to prepare.

Boil your potatoes until they are soft. Hash them, and then put them in your ricer, and press it down. If you do not own a ricer, you can secure the same effect by pressing the potatoes through a colander.
