T. F. Manville Jr. Marries Stage Divorcee.

By United Press

NEW YORK, May 22.—Thomas Franklin Manville Jr., principal heir to the fortune made in asbestos roofing, was married at city hall Thursday to Avonne Taylor, once described by Florenz Ziegfeld as

"the most beautiful girl I ever glorified."

Each of them has been married twice before. Manville, when 17 years old, eloped with Florence Mumber, a chorus girl, and divorced her after his father cut off his allowance. Later he married Lois Arline McColl, his father's stenographer, and she divorced him in 1926.

Miss Taylor said today she "could not remember" the name of her first husband, who divorced her. In 1925 she married Louis Cress, musical comedy director, and divorced him three years later. Manville gave his age as 37 and Miss Taylor as 32.

Millionaires are getting scarcer in Britain; in 1924-25 there were 601, while in 1928-29 there were only 487.
