

MOST POPULAR STUDENTS WILL GET FREE TRIP

Teacher Also Will Receive Prize in Times-Lyric Vote Contest.

Who is the most popular high school boy, girl and teacher in Indianapolis? That is what The Indianapolis Times and Lyric theater want to know.

These most popular students and teacher will receive a free five-day trip to Washington, D. C., on the Pennsylvania railroad summer vacation tour, which leaves Indianapolis Sunday, June 14, and returns June 18.

All expenses of this tour, including railroad fare for round trip, all meals, all sightseeing and lodging in a first-class hotel in Washington will be paid. To insure maximum safety, this trip to and from Indianapolis will be made in all-steel coaches.

Every person in the city 15 years of age or more is entitled to 100 votes, to be turned in at The Times office. You must write the name of your favorite candidate, what school he or she attends, or at which she teaches, and write your own name and address plainly. This will be counted with the coupons which are obtained at the Lyric theater.

A careful check will be made to guard against repeaters, and all votes of this kind will be thrown out.

Ballot Boxes Up

In case the winner is unable to make the trip, for any reason, the candidate having the next highest number of votes shall be eligible.

Beginning Saturday, each patron of the Lyric will receive a coupon worth 100 votes, to be voted as he or she pleases. Ballot boxes are to be placed in the lobby of the Lyric theater and in the business office of The Indianapolis Times, where contestants and their friends may deposit their votes.

The deadline for bringing in votes has been set for midnight, June 11. Judges will be selected to count the votes and the winners announced in The Times June 11. As the voting progresses, a scoreboard will be placed in the Lyric lobby, with the standing of various candidates, and their names and standings will also be published in The Times.

A short resume of this trip is as follows: Leave Indianapolis Sunday, June 14, via Pennsylvania railroad at 7 p. m. Arrive in Washington June 15 at 1 p. m. Breakfast and luncheon will be served on the train.

Visit to Capitol
During this day the itinerary includes a visit to the United States Capitol building and Congressional Library and return to hotel for dinner.

IT IS NO EASY JOB TO STAGE THIS PLAY

William Blair Overcomes Many Difficulties in Producing "Street Scene" at English's Sunday.

"STREET SCENE" has 304 "props" and 160 entrances. In the world of the theater the little word "cue" means, you probably know, "the last word or words of a speech, or the ending of any action indicating the time for the next person to speak or act."

But seldom, if ever, in the history of the theater has any stage director been so beleaguered and beset with "cues" as is William Blair, the stage director of "Street Scene," Elmer Rice's drama of city life which Arthur Casey will present at English's for one week, commencing Sunday night.

During the action of "Street Scene" there are 160 entrances. There are fifty persons in the cast. No more, you may say, than in certain musical reviews.

True, but whereas in a revue one cue may serve for the concerted action of thirty or more chorus girls, in "Street Scene" every member of the company plays a different character and therefore has numerous individual cues.

Add to the sum total of these, the innumerable cues for off-stage sound effects and you will appreciate the stage director's task.

Blair begins his duties each performance by testing the set, which is built sufficiently strong to hold twenty-two persons. Then he checks up on the props. This is no easy task for there are 304 of them, perhaps the largest number ever in use in a dramatic production.

The list includes everything from

ner. On the third day, following breakfast at the hotel, the party will be taken for a visit to the bureau of engraving and printing, where money and stamps are made.

A visit to the Washington monument, Pan-American building and the White House will follow. From these a sight-seeing trip through residential and legation section of Georgetown, Rock Creek park, Georgetown, Ft. Meyer, Arlington National cemetery with amphitheater and tomb of Unknown Soldier, Alexandria, Mt. Vernon and Lincoln Memorial. This trip also includes a boat ride on the Potomac river, one way.

On the fourth day four hours will be given the party for personal exploration. At 2 p. m. the party leaves Washington for Annapolis and the United States Naval Academy and at 5 p. m. leaves Annapolis to arrive in Indianapolis Thursday, June 18, at 9:30 a. m.

Meals and hotel accommodations are included, as are all side sight-seeing trip expenses. The party is to be well catered by representatives of the local Pennsylvania railroad officers.

High school classes are urged to choose their candidates at once, cast their votes through The Times and also use the coupons which are given to patrons of the Lyric theater.

More details of this trip will appear in The Times daily during the entire period of voting.

DENIED $10,000, ASSESSOR WARS WITH COUNCIL

McCloskey Upholds Plan; Brands Board's Idea as 'Good Joke.'

Backfire from officeholders because of the county council's rigid economy program today sent the first tremors of discord into the "new deal" Democratic administration at the courthouse.

Flat refusal of the council to appropriate approximately $10,000 to start revaluation of real estate in Center township aroused objections from John C. McCloskey, Democratic Center township assessor, regarded as one of the most powerful county party leaders.

After learning the council had refused all of his desired appropriation, McCloskey appeared before the council at the close of its meeting Thursday afternoon.

McCloskey proposed to use the $10,000 to hire sixteen additional assessors in his office to conduct a revaluation of real estate, that regularly should not start until 1932, according to councilmen.

Branding as "a good joke" a proposal of the council that the Indianapolis Real Estate Board aid McCloskey, instead of employing extra help, the assessor informed the council he thought "they were carrying their economy a little too far."

"You folks have no conception of the situation in the assessor's office or you would not refuse this amount," he argued.

"All I want is a chance to help the county by putting all real estate on an equitable basis," he rejoined when the council told him "there is no money to start this revaluation program this year."

Theodore Danmeyer, deputy assessor, then joined heatedly in the argument and told the councilmen:

To Talk Here

Mme. Olga Samaroff

At 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the John Herron Art Institute, Mme. Olga Samaroff of the Juillard Foundation Graduate School of Music, will speak on "The Schubert Memorial and the Young American Artist." A public invitation is extended by the Matinee Musicale and Mrs. Lafayette Page.

"You ought not to 'harp' over the small amount of $10,000 when there is $600,000,000 of real estate on which the county will get larger returns when reassessed."

Appropriations sought by other county offices also were slashed. One request of $4,000 to purchase plat books for the auditor's office was cut to $1,800 and another for $3,700 to resurface Tibbs avenue from Washington street to Maywood was reduced to $6,000.

Other reductions were on requests of Coroner Fred W. Vohling for autos and an appropriation for collecting back court costs by the county clerk.

BY BEN STERN

OTHER states besides Indiana have their congressional reapportionment worries, a study of the national situation reveals.

Of the thirty-two states required by law to redistrict but thirteen have completed.

This presents the problem of the legality of electing congressmen-at-large, debated in Indiana before and during the last session of the general assembly.

More than 200 congressmen will be elected at large if it is declared legal.

New York's legislature undertook to create new congressional districts by a resolution, instead of by a bill and so not require the Governor's signature, as Governor Roosevelt was opposed to the divisions proposed by the legislature. Suit has been filed questioning legality of such a redistricting resolution.

A Democratic legislature in Missouri passed its redistricting bill and a Republican Governor vetoed it. Unless a special session of the legislature is called, the state delegation of thirteen congressmen either will be elected at large or not at all.

California's reapportionment bill gave most of its nine new members to the southern part of the state and was approved by the Governor. Plans are being made for a referendum.

In Pennsylvania, where the legislature still is in session, the senate passed one reapportionment act and the house of representatives another.

FALL APPEAL WILL BE FILED

Reverses Previous Decision Not to Fight Courts.

By United Press
WASHINGTON, May 22.—Albert B. Fall, reversing his recent decision not to oppose further the will of the courts that he be fined and imprisoned for his part in the E. L. Doheny oil lease, will carry his case to the supreme court.

Frank J. Hogan, counsel for the former secretary of the interior, has announced here that a telegram from Fall gave instructions to resume the fight, temporarily dropped a while ago when Fall said he was through.

This reversal followed informal activity on the part of his friends, who urged a pardon or suspension of the jail sentence. President Hoover, it is understood, was strongly opposed to interfering.

'NEW SYSTEM' JURY FINDS BANDIT GUILTY

Record Time Verdict Is Returned Under Judge's Edict.

A criminal court jury that Thursday returned a verdict of guilty in record time today drew the approval of Judge Frank P. Baker as he prepared to sentence Russell Perkins, 21, of Westfield, to serve ten to twenty-five years in the Indiana reformatory.

Perkins was found guilty of robbery by the jury which was chosen under a new system inaugurated by Judge Baker and Prosecutor Herbert E. Wilson.

Under the system "few excuses for not serving on juries will be accepted in this court," Baker announced.

Sentence will be pronounced on Perkins Monday. He was convicted of kidnapping and robbing J. J. Coyner, 1421 Finley avenue, a filling station attendant.
