

FARMER URGED BY COXEY TO USE U. S. CREDIT

Veteran of Historic March Puts Forth Plan to Aid Marketing.

While most American leaders are complaining about the "depression and hard times" without offering any solution, that veteran economist and "commoner," Jacob S. Coxe, who commanded the army of the unemployed in their march upon Washington in 1894, has advanced a method of aiding the farmers.

Stalwart as a guardman, his mentality sharpened by years instead of dulled, the Ohio sage has proposed to southern farmers a means whereby they can borrow money to avail themselves of the federal intermediate credit bank facilities operating through co-operative financing, purchasing and marketing organization.

"In 1923, congress appropriated $60,000,000 to loan to the farmers to establish production credit corporations," he said.

Solicit Subscriptions

The farmer must, however, form a corporation with $25,000 paid-in stock in order to obtain the loans.

"Few farmers have sufficient funds to underwrite such a corporation so last year congress appropriated $10,000,000 to be loaned to the farmers to be applied to forming the co-operative. Farmers could borrow two-thirds of the money necessary to purchase the stock by putting up one-third in cash themselves.

"As many farmers did not have the necessary one-third it is to make available to them that $10,000,000 that I propose the following plan," Coxe declared.

"Corporations will be formed, capitalized at $30,000. We shall solicit subscriptions to total $10,000, and thus be able to obtain $30,000 and thus avail ourselves of the loans of from $100,000 to $175,000.

Loans Through Trusts

These corporations will furnish trust certificates guaranteeing 6 per cent dividends. The money will be loaned to the farmers by the co-operative trust which also is to furnish the farmers with food and supplies at cash, not credit, prices because of mass buying and also will handle the marketing end of the business.

"When trucks of the co-operative deliver food and supplies to the various farms they will collect the products of these farms. Thus we simplify the two greatest farm problems, the need for supplies to carry on the work and the utmost necessity for group marketing," the economist declared.

DOCTORS READY FOR CONVENTION IN PHILADELPHIA

Quaker City, Traditional as Home of Medicine, to Be Host June 8.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29.—In the old Quaker city where their organization was founded more than four score years ago, 800 members of the American Medical Association will hold their annual convention from June 8 to 12.

The visiting surgeons and physicians will be gathered in a city where medical traditions are older than the nation.

Seven medical men were among the first purchasers of land in the new province which the king presented to William Penn to repay a debt due his father, Admiral Penn. Looking backward in its opulent past, historians record that Philadelphia bears title to:

The first colonial hospital which was established by Drs. Thomas Cadwalder and Thomas Bond; the first medical school which was a part of the University of Pennsylvania founded by Benjamin Franklin in 1765.

The first medical society organized in 1765.

First medical library founded in 1763.

First university laboratory of clinical research.

First university department of research medicine.

The first comprehensive graduate school of medicine.

First American university to have a department of surgical research.

First dispensary for "medical relief for the poor" in 1786.

First college of pharmacy founded in 1821.

As part of the visit to this shrine of American medicine, many of the physicians will go to old Christ church to view the national shrine which was designed by a physician, Dr. John Kersley.

Despite his large practice and the training he gave many youths of

KIRKLAND TRIAL JUDGE HINTS AT BOOSTING TERM

Ogden Admits Inability to Force Lengthening to 5 to 21 Years.

VALPARAISO, Ind., May 29.—The furor over the one to ten-year reformatory sentence passed upon Virgil Kirkland, continued today with no sign of abatement, but with Grant Crumpacker, trial judge, indicating a possibility that the term of the penalty might be lengthened.

The belligerent attitude of Judge Crumpacker, displayed Thursday, was tempered, somewhat, as word arrived from Indianapolis that Attorney-General James M. Ogden admitted there was no way of forcing the trial judge to alter the sentence.

Judge Crumpacker admitted that he changed the commitment to read "assault and battery with intent to commit a felony." Kirkland was convicted, in his trial for slaying Arlene Draves at a Gary liquor party, on a charge of "assault and battery with intent to commit criminal assault."

The former crime carries a mandatory sentence of one to ten years, the latter a maximum penalty of five to twenty-one years. The one to ten-year sentence would be legal, however, on the latter charge, Attorney-General Ogden said, hence the argument rests on whether it was sufficiently severe.

Judge Crumpacker admitted that when he passed sentence he wasn't aware that he had any discretion in the matter, and pointed out that Race Day Suspect Roundup Started by Police.

Detectives from several cities in the country arrived here today to co-operate with Indianapolis police and detectives in their annual roundup of suspects before and during the Speedway race.

Major Herbert Fletcher, acting chief, ordered all officers on twelve-hour shifts starting today. This will continue through Sunday, he said.

The out-of-town officers will be at hotels, the Speedway and transportation terminals and will view the headquarters "lineup" for suspects Saturday and Sunday mornings.

Police officials warned residents to take care in locking doors and windows Saturday despite their hurry to take trips or attend the race.

With many residences vacant Saturday, daytime sneak thieves will be active, police said.

KEEP KISSABLE

... WITH OLD GOLDS

OLD GOLDS were created to give you THROAT-EASE... as well as a more delightful tasting cigarette. But the makers also considered your breath, your lips, your teeth, as well as your THROAT.

They created a pure-tobacco cigarette... free of coriander and other greasy artificial flavorings* that burn into clinging, staining, breath-tainting vapors.

To avoid unpleasant aftermaths, smoke pure-tobacco OLD GOLDS. Their clean, sun-ripened, natural-flavored tobaccos will be like honey to your THROAT. And they leave no objectionable odors either on your breath or clothing, or in the room.

HERE'S THE PROOF*

Open up a pack of old golds and smell the tobacco. Do the same with any other cigarette. Judge for yourself which has the natural, pleasant, all-tobacco aroma. It's a favor to your family and friends, as well as to yourself, to smoke NATURAL-FLAVORED, pure-tobacco OLD GOLDS.
