

SIMPLICITY TO BE ORDER FOR HOOVER DINNER

Committee Completes Its Plans; Tarlham Sends Invitation.

Final arrangements will be made this week for the dinner to be given in honor of President Herbert Hoover by the Indiana Editorial Association at the state fairground on June 15.

Problems connected with the dinner and the midsummer meeting of the association were discussed at a luncheon Sunday at the Columbia Club.

Dr. William C. Dennis, president of Earlham college, Richmond, has asked the President to stop at Richmond to receive an honorary degree.

Simplicity will mark the Hoover dinner here. Formal dress will not be necessary.

The invocation is to be delivered by the Rev. Charles Woodman, pastor of the West Richmond Friends church.

President and Mrs. Hoover are expecting to arrive here at about 4 p. m. June 15. A military escort will take them up Meridian street to the Governor's mansion, where they will be the guests of Governor and Mrs. Leslie overnight.

They will be taken to the manufacturer's building at the fairground at 6 p. m.

The editorial association meeting will begin at 2 p. m. Sunday, June 14, at the Columbia Club. A 6 o'clock dinner will be served and the principal speaker will be H. L. Williamson of Springfield, Ill., publisher of the National Printer-Journalist and the United States Publisher.

Business session of the association will be held Monday morning and noon.

PRESBYTERIANS FLAY CAMPAIGN OF ANTI-DRYS

Press, 'Millionaire Group' Denounced in Report at Assembly.

By United Press PITTSBURGH, June 1.—The "millionaire group and the metropolitan press" were denounced for alleged attempts to defeat prohibition in a report presented at the one hundred forty-third general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States today as sessions were resumed.

Attempts to commercialize Sunday, compulsory military training and all militarism were condemned in the report of the board of Christian education, presented by the chairman, the Rev. John E. Wishart, San Francisco.

Other resolutions commended President Hoover for his stand on prohibition and approved the world court and disarmament treaties.

A resolution approving birth control, similar to the one removed from the report in divorce and marriage, was deleted from the education report.

The Pennsylvania general assembly especially was praised for its action in defeating the recent legislation to legalize Sunday baseball. All attempts of sports organizations or chain motion picture companies to liberalize the Sabbath day were scored.

The resolutions were adopted by overwhelming vote and without protest except on the resolutions on military training and conscientious objectors.

These were attacked by Dr. Clarence Scoville, Long Island. He declared he found evidence of "Communist doctrines" in official publications of the church.

The resolutions relating to conscientious objectors asked that steps be taken to insure the same respect for the conscience of Presbyterians as is accorded to those of the Quakers.

When asked why Mrs. McQuay was no longer working in the commissioners' office and attending to her regular duties, Commissioner George Snider admitted she was aiding the coroner.

"Vehling has not adopted the economy program; we adopted it for him. We gave him the matron to help him out," Snider further added.

The matron originally was appointed as nurse to have charge of the basement, care for minor accident cases of courthouse visitors, and answer phone calls for county commissioners when the ballot was absent.

This friendly attitude of Snider and Commissioner Dow Vooches, however, seems bound for a break unless Vehling stops his reckless spending of autopsy funds.

Vehling already has spent $2,850 for autopsies thus far this year, while total expenditures for that purpose all of last year only amounted to $3,500.

Expenditures from Jan. 1 to May 31, 1931, totaled $2,650 as compared with $1,375 from Jan. 1 to May 31, 1930, the auditor's report said.

"We are through approving autopsy expenditures when we spend as much as we did last year," Commissioner Snider has declared. Other commissioners and the county council take a similar attitude, it is said.

Longer Penalty to Be Awarded; Virgil to Be Present.

By United Press

VALPARAISO, Ind., June 1.—Sentence of Virgil Kirkland on charges of assault and battery with intent to attack Arlene Draves was reopened by Judge Grant Crumpacker today when he ordered Kirkland returned to Valparaiso from the Indiana state reformatory at Pendleton.

On motion of Robert G. Estill, prosecutor, Crumpacker will hear arguments tomorrow on a motion to change the sentence to imprisonment for five to twenty-one years and $1,000 fine.

Judge Crumpacker sentenced Kirkland to one to ten years when the jury convicted the youth of contributing to the death of his sweetheart at an all-night drinking rev in Gary last November.

Estill challenged the sentence on the ground that it was not compatible with the 1921 statute. Crumpacker contended he was acting under a 1929 statute giving judges certain discretionary powers in juvenile cases, applying to Kirkland because he is under 21.

Community Fund Relief Cost Far Over Last Year

Meeting heavy demands of relief agencies caused the Indianapolis Community Fund to disburse $90,340.13 more for the first six months of its fiscal year, ended April 30, 1931, than for the same period a year ago, according to an audited report announced today by Edward A. Kahn, fund president.

Total expenditures for the six months this year were $364,239.22, the report stated. Receipts during the half year amounted to $363,893.32.

More than 75 per cent of money allotted the fund's thirty-five relief agencies during the period was spent for direct relief, Kahn declared. A total of 70.9 per cent went for relief of needy families, medical and nursing care, care of the aged, orphans and other dependents.

Organizations classified as character-building made direct relief expenditures of more than 5 per cent of their appropriations.

Kahn announced relief cases had shown a decline during April and May, but the number still is far above normal. The full report follows:
