

Program Is Mapped for 'Y.W.' Camp

Although Girl Reserves already are planning their program of handicraft, swimming, dramatics at Camp Delight, Y. W. C. A. camp on White river, for the period from June 15 to July 27, Indianapolis school girls of the ages from 12 to 18 are eligible to enroll for any length of time and participate in daily activities, under direction of Miss Marion Birks, Miss Marian L. Smith, Girl Reserve leaders, and Mrs. Maria B. Adams, camp director. Counselors who will direct various phases of the program include: Miss Lorraine Ogle, Brownstown, a student at Butler university, and advisor of Girl Reserve Club No. 31, nature lore; Miss Marion Taylor, Logansport, handicraft; Miss Rose Wilcox, advisor of club No. 20, dramatics; Miss Mary Crickett, Marion, swimming; Miss Irma Jean Hodson, sports and recreation and Miss Billie McElroy, advisor of club No. 32, music.

Flag Raising Starts Today

Two representatives from each grade school club in the city formed a council for the arrangement of the Camp Day program being observed today, with an all-day outing at Camp Delight. The day's events began with a flag raising, followed by team games and a picnic lunch under the trees.

In the afternoon a treasure hunt which will take the girls all over the twenty-acre woods will end with a camp fire, after which each club will present a skit. Girls who have attended Camp Delight have invited friends to the camp day program, in an effort to make it clear to their friends, whether they are members of the Y. W. C. A. or not, that they are eligible to take part in any length of time between June 15 and July 27, the period set aside for younger girls. From July 28 to Sept. 8 is the period for employed girls for vacations, week-ends and parties.

Hundreds Are Guests

Camp Delight was opened May 15, and since that time has entertained several hundred guests at dances, week-ends, picnics and parties. Among those who attended Camp Delight already this year are groups from the Real Silk Hosiery Mills, Members of the Wa-Ki-Ye Club of the Industrial department of the Y. W. C. A.; Sunday school class from the First Baptist church; group from the Columbia Conserve Company; a Y. W. C. A. W. C. A. council dance and several other King's Daughters' picnic; the spring conference of the staff group of the Indianapolis Y. W. C. A.; grade school Girl Reserve advisers, and on June 15 members of the board of directors.

The staff of the Y. W. C. A. will be guests of Mrs. Brandt C. Downey at an all-day meeting there.

All of the troops are planning parties, out-of-door meetings and over-night hikes for the last meetings until the fall season. Troop 3 is planning an over-night hike to Camp Delwood in the near future as its last meeting. Various patrols will give stunts around the campfire. Mrs. Hugh Leming is captain of the troop. Mrs. D. H. Griffin assisted the patrols in Troop 38 with the plans for a picnic supper which was held recently at Christian park.

What's in Fashion?

A New Feminine Sun-Tan

Directed By AMOS PARRISH

NEW YORK, June 6.—Is sun-tan fashionable... or isn't it? It's a burning question these days—though it shouldn't be. Sun-tan is fashionable. Sun-burn is not. And that's that.

It's the answer given by the thousands of women who wintered at Palm Beach, in California and on the Riviera.

And they're the best possible proof of just how becoming and how feminine—and therefore—how fashionable—sun-tanning is. Beautifully bronzed skin can be had.

It goes with the season's colors—with the white and yellow and clear, pale blues and pinks. It makes you look healthy, which is the battle of looking attractive. It sets off the color of your eyes and your hair as no amount of artificial complexion can do.

Make Powder Match Tan

Yet don't think for a minute that artificial complexion can be disregarded when sun-tanning starts. Sunshine makes the nose shine and that means face powder.

Not the same face powder you use when you're untanned, though. A darker powder as the skin grows darker... one as near the shade of the tan as you can find, so it less, rough and leathery looking. Winter resorters proved this year that it's not at all necessary to have that kind of sun-tan. That the skin can be kept as smooth and soft and glowing and feminine as an untanned one.

Use Anti-Burn Oils And the way they did it is this: Not by sitting for hours in the sun with the skin unprotected, but by sitting for hours in the sun with the skin well anointed with protective anti-burn oils or creams.

Not by dropping into bed with the thought, "Oh, I'm too tired to cream my face tonight. I'll do it in the morning." But with more careful attention than ever to the thorough cleansing of the skin with creams and lotions.

They use more nourishing creams to replenish the natural oils the sun had dried out. More tonic to keep the skin lively in its resistance to actinic rays.

They didn't forget the freckle creams, either. For they knew that while a freckle or two on the bridge of the nose may be piquant, a pattern of them over the shoulders isn't the sort of background the evening gown wants.

And sun glasses. There was a lot of business done in this line, too! Because squinting means wrinkle and frown lines and crow's feet and reddened eyes—which aren't pretty.

Does it all sound like too much trouble? Maybe. But remember—it will be more trouble next fall, getting the skin back into condition, if you don't take precautions this summer.

The program follows: Tap dancing by Marguerite Funkhauser, Dorothy Bray and Elizabeth Culley; readings by Mary Lou Dyer and Margaret Kayser, and musical selections by Dorothy Mack and Peggy Jones. Mrs. L. P. Jones and the lieutenants of the two troops presented merit badges.

Troop 50 held to Allen's woods, where they had a picnic supper. Mrs. Edward Gardner is the captain of the troop.

Troop 11 will celebrate the last meeting of the year on Tuesday, June 9. The party will honor the Merry-maker and Will Scarlet patrols which won the recent contest being held in the troop. The Maid Marian patrol will present a play. Miss doesn't look as though you had powdered up. And with this darker skin you'll probably find you need a touch more rouge than usual—unless the sun increases your natural color. A rouge slightly darker as it would naturally be under darker skin.

Tan and Fashions

When present day feminine fashions first began a few seasons ago, one of the questions women asked was, "How will these new clothes effect sun-tan? It doesn't seem to go with them."

And they were right. Because they were thinking of the kind of sun-tan fashionable then—a tan acquired by hours of basking on the hottest of beaches, followed by hours of misery from the resulting burn.

It was the kind of tanning that leaves the skin parched and lifeless, rough and leathery looking. Winter resorters proved this year that it's not at all necessary to have that kind of sun-tan. That the skin can be kept as smooth and soft and glowing and feminine as an untanned one.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE THEME ANNOUNCED

"God the Only Cause and Creator," is the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Churches of Christ, Sunday, June 7.

Among the citations which comprise the lesson-lesson is the following from the Bible: But now thus saith the Lord that created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by name; thou art mine. Ye are my witnesses, saith the Lord, and my servant whom I have chosen: that ye may know and believe me, and understand that I am he: before me there was no God formed, neither shall there be after me. (Isa. 43: 1, 10).

The lesson-lesson also includes the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy:

"The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor Mind—that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle. To grasp the reality and order of being in its substance, intelligence, wisdom, being, immortality, cause, and effect belong to God. These are His attributes, the eternal manifestations of the infinite divine Principle, Love."
