

GOLF KINGS TEE OFF IN STRUGGLE FOR NATIONAL TITLE

Tribe Hits Fair Short

14 Blows Fail to Bring Victory Wednesday; Two Tilts Today.

By Times Special
TOLEDO, July 2.—The current road trip is wearing and tearing on the Indians. Since leaving home the Tribesmen have dropped five games in six starts, three out of four in Columbus and two straight here. Today the Hoosiers and Hens were to mix in a double-header to wind up the series and the outlook for success on the part of the visitors was anything but bright. There will be no game Friday and on Saturday, the Fourth, the Indians will perform in Louisville.

Decided in Seventh
Fourteen hits failed to earn the Tribe the laurels in the series second tilt Wednesday. Toledo winning, 7 to 5, on twelve hits. George Smith, Lefty Hall and Mike Cavenegros toiled on the Tribe mound.

At one stage of the fracas, in the first half of the seventh, the Indians were out in front, 5 to 4, but the Hens scored twice in their half of the inning and it was enough for victory, though two errors by Narlesky helped the locals to an extra marker in the eighth.

Curt Walker and Len Koenecke each piled three safeties for the Tribesmen and Bevo Lebourveau collected three for the home nine. Ernie Wingard, Hen hurler, swatted an opportune double in the third inning of George Smith and the hit was registered when the sacks were loosed, all three runners scoring.

Two Tribe Triples
Curt Walker and Ray Ritzgerd got the longest hits of the day, each banging out a triple. The Hens put over what proved the victory runs in the seventh and Lefty Hall was the victim of the onslaught. After one out Mulleavy doubled, Lebourveau doubled, scoring Mulleavy and J. Smith singled to score Bevo.

The Indians are beginning to think they are in the hard road league. Fortune apparently deserted them when they left Indianapolis. For instance, Narlesky socked a line drive Wednesday and pitcher Wingard flagged it down and turned it into a double play.

St. Paul continued to lead the American Association race, having added another game to its margin by winning Wednesday night at Bloomington. The Indians were down to Columbus.

Paul defeated the Blues, 12 to 6. Columbus defeated Louisville, 6 to 5, scoring the winning tally in the tenth inning. The winners used pitcher Bevo Lebourveau and pitcher Mulleavy at Minneapolis. The Indians were out of the game because of rain. Milwaukee and Louisville are tied for second place and Minneapolis is fourth.

INVERNESS GOLF COURSE, TOLEDO, July 2.—The battle for the United States open golf title started on this difficult championship course today. Headed by a brilliant group of American players, of whom Tommy Armour of Detroit is chief, and by a truly formidable squad of overseas linksmen, paced by Henry Cotton, the fiery-tempered Britisher, more than 140 hopefuls teed off in their first test of the 1931 championship. It is the thirty-fifth national tournament.

Galleries estimated at between 7,000 and 10,000 moved on to the Inverness layout in mid-forenoon. Some of the forecasts for the open: By Herbert H. Ramsay, President of the U. S. G. A.—The three-day four-round test will end in a triple tie at 290.

By Gene Sarazen, One of the Top Favorite Entrants—A total score of 294 will win.

By Toledo's Chief Bookmaker—An American will win.

The 1920 championship was played at Inverness. Ted Ray of England won it. Bobby Jones, then a boy wonder, was a contestant. It was his first open. He went on to stardom and for years, until the present one, the open developed into a Jones against the field competition. He is out of competition now.

This year the law of averages may trip up a lot of predictions and place some unknown player in the champion's place. If an unknown does win, he will have defeated one of the grandest collections of players to have entered the lists in many years. Besides Armour and Cotton, there are several of high rank.

On the home side are Gene Sarazen, Walter Hagen, Willy Cox, Bill Burke, Johnny Farrell and Mac Smith. The foreign favorites are: Archie Compston, Abe Mitchell, George Duncan, Percy Alliss and Aubrey Boomer.

The one chief factor in the title chase is the weather, which is anything but favorable. Golfers and golf writers who have been in Ohio for two weeks in connection with the Ryder cup matches at Columbus and the current open, have lost weight, sleep and tempers because of the high temperatures.
