

HELENE BIDS FINAL GOOD-BY TO RUMANIANS

Divorced Wife of Carol Arranges to Leave for Germany.

BUCHAREST, Rumania, July 17.—Helene of Greece, beautiful divorced wife of King Carol, planned to leave Rumania for Germany today, apparently as the final gesture in ending her unhappy romance. She notified the government that she intended to go abroad in quest of her health and to visit her family. Helene's sudden departure, however, is believed due to the fact that she was not invited to the wedding this month of Princess Ileana, sister of Carol, to Archduke Anton von Hapsburg.

The king, who once deserted the throne and Helene for the flaming-haired Mme. Magda Lupescu, again took the opportunity to embarrass his estranged wife. In the official communiqué announcing her intention to leave Rumania, Helen was referred to as "Her Majesty," the title accorded a queen, but as "Her Highness," to which Helene is entitled by virtue of her birth as a royal princess of Greece.

Carol, who as yet has not been crowned formally, has sought to reconcile Helene and have her crowned queen with him. She is popular with the people and he has realized the importance of such a move.

She has refused, and there have been reports that in retaliation Carol has sought to ban her as a recognized member of the Rumanian royal family.

80-PIECE BAND FORMED

Community Group at Richmond to Give Concert Aug. 15.

By Times Special
RICHMOND, Ind., July 17.—A community band of eighty pieces will give a concert here Aug. 16, the second of a series planned to stimulate interest in this community project. Frank Simon, conductor of the noted Armcro band, at Middleton, O., is assisting.

Sixty-five musicians were present recently for practice. Selected members of the American Legion, Earlham college and Morton high schools bands will form the nucleus for the organization while local members of the American Federation of Musicians and bands of Centerville and Williamsburg will contribute members.

A special bandstand will be constructed for the occasion at Glen Miller park.

'HE'S MY MAN,' SAYS MA FILING FOR ANNULMENT

"We'll Be Married Again," She Says of Tangled Love Affair.

BY GEORGE H. BEALE,
United Press Staff Correspondent

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Mrs. Minnie (Ma) Kennedy, mother of Almee Semple McPherson and the Rev. G. Edward (what-a-man) Hudson, who was married to her three weeks ago, temporarily pursued separate courses today after the filing of an annulment suit by Mrs. Kennedy.

The veteran evangelist's suit was filed late Thursday after it was determined definitely that Mr. Hudson had failed to dissolve at least one previous marriage before he took the vows with Mrs. Kennedy.

"It was the only way out," signed "Ma" as she explained the legal action. "Another woman claims she still is legally wed to my man. So we will have our marriage annulled, live apart until he is freed, then get married all over again."

"Isn't that right," she asked of Mr. Hudson.

"Sure," he replied.

"And, furthermore," added Mrs. Kennedy, "I wouldn't want a man who couldn't interest other women. He does, but just let those other janes follow him until they fall down in a heap. They can't have him! He's going to stay mine."

HERE'S SWELL OFFER

Just 21,440 Bottles of Assorted Liquor Awaits You.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance
BALTIMORE, July 17.—Any one who wants to claim ownership of 21,440 bottles of assorted liquor can step right up and identify his property, according to an order signed by Judge Chestnut in United States district court.

There's a string attached to the offer, however. Any one who does claim the wet goods is likely to spend his summer vacation behind the bars on charges of being a member of the crew of the rum runner Norma, seized in Quantico creek, near Salsbury.

Intermediate certificates will be awarded:

Lois Antle, Mae Gordon, Grace Gregg, Zilpha Greenstreet, Florence Nagle, Nina Smith, Velma Starbuck, Genevieve Earle, Bernice Wagner and Virginia West.

More than 20,000 deceased persons now are cremated in the United States every year.

U. S. SHUNNING OLD 'ISOLATION' FOREIGN POLICY

Official Part at London Parley Is Regarded as Significant.

BY JOSEPH H. BAIRD
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 17.—American foreign policy, in the view of informed observers here, is moving farther away than ever from the once-revered doctrine of "splendid isolation."

The two highest cabinet officers—Henry L. Stimson, secretary of state, and Andrew Mellon, secretary of treasury—will represent the United States at London next Monday at a conference to consider emergency relief measures for Germany. They will go as official representatives of the United States.

This fact is viewed here as highly significant, despite the state department's reminder that Stimson and Mellon will draft no treaties and enter no "entangling alliances."

For the first time since the Versailles conferences—excepting the specialized disarmament conferences—this nation will be represented officially at a European meeting to consider political and financial questions.

When Charles G. Dawes helped draw up the reparations plans that bear his name, he went to Europe as a plain American citizen, with no government credentials. So did Owen D. Young when his plan was drafted to supersede that of Dawes. In both instances, these men were selected by European nations because of their financial sagacity.

Now Mellon and Stimson are going to London under the official aegis of the United States to offer counsel in solving Europe's financial troubles.

In informed quarters here, the United States' increasing participation in European affairs is believed to be motivated by three forces:

First, America's $17,000,000 (billion) investment abroad, which gives this country a "dollars and cents" interest in happenings across the Atlantic.

Second, the force of world-wide depression, drawing the nations together for mutual assistance.

Third, what the Hoover administration regards as the international menace of armaments, requiring full co-operation to combat it.

STEAL! CHURCH'S BOOKS

Four Rare and Valued Manuscripts Are Taken in West.

By Scripps-Howard Newspaper Alliance

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 17.—Four rare and valuable books, written on old parchment and bound by cowhide tanned by the Indians of the Mission San Diego de Alcala long before California became a state, are missing from the rectory of the St. Joseph's Catholic church here.

The stolen books are the work of Father Junipero Serra, founder of the California missions and contain records of the earliest families of the state, their births, marriages, property transactions and burial places.

EVERYBODY INVITED—
COME AND BE OUR GUEST

Observation-Lounge Compartment—Available without charge to any passenger. Occupies rear third of car. Deep arm chairs—cushioned davenport. Two-tone decorative scheme—thick carpets. Reading tables and lamps. Complete glass-enclosed rear observation view.

Standard Coach—Speed up to 70 miles an hour. Double-shoe air brakes. Powerful auxiliary magnetic brakes. Low-slung, sturdy aluminum bodies. Deep air-cushioned individual seats, with arm rests. Lights independent of trolley fluctuations. Ample, draft-proof ventilation.

NOTHING like these cars has ever before been offered the traveling public in Indiana. They mark a complete new step—a new conception—in luxurious, fast, safe transportation.

Outstripping the old standards of speed, safety and comfort, this railroad has spent $980,000 to realize an ideal of tomorrow's travel.

Thirty-five cars of this new era type will go into service soon on the Indiana Railroad System between Indianapolis and Fort Wayne and between Indianapolis and Louisville. Each car has been built at a cost of approximately $28,000, four times that of the average home. Fourteen are de luxe observation-lounge cars, and 21 are improved standard coaches.

The coming exhibition offers the first opportunity to examine this remarkable new equipment. These cars represent a distinctly new day in electric railway service to your community. Come out and see them!
