Judge Frank P. Baker 65
Mayor Reginald H. Sullivan 43
George L. Winkler 42
Tim Sexton 35
Sheriff (Rock) Sumner 31
L. Ert Slack 29
Hoosier Pete 24
Al Hoston 22

Jo-Jo, the dog-faced judge of the Brown Derby, is mad clear up to his left chin-whisker. He has discovered that cranium cuties, in seeking measurements for the Brown Derby have buried their ballots like a dog does a bone until the last undated ballot is printed Friday.

"Ho! Ho!" quacks Jo-Jo, "they think they'll save them until the very last minute. Well you can tell them for me that I'm right up to my gizzard in Brown Derby ballots and the fellow who don't cuddle votes now will get left at the post like Old Mother Hubbard's dog."

Rests on His Lead
"Skull" measurements today show that Frank C. Riley, the dark horse, is resting on his lead while Judge Frank P. Baker has ousted Jesse McClure from second-place. Newcomers in the "skull" morgue are Alf Hoston and L. Ert Slack.

Winner of the Brown Derby will be crowned with the hat of all hats on "Indianapolis day"—Sept. 11—at the Indiana state fair at 8 p. m. The winner will receive a bronze plaque in addition to the derby as the city's most distinguished citizen.

Ballots in the derby will be dated after Friday and all undated votes must be in The Times office by 9 a. m. Saturday morning.

Then "Primaries"
Then Monday morning the candidates with less than 100 ballots will take a "run-out" powder administered by Jo-Jo, Princess Eugenic and Major Hoople, judges of the royal race for baldheadedness.

You can vote as many times as you want to. You can vote the favorite Tom-cat, have the Family's Big Cry write his or her name with a pacifier, but above all, VOTE.

Ballots are printed daily in The Times. The last ballot will be printed Sept. 10. The candidates for the derby are:

Mayor Reginald H. Sullivan, Police Chief Mike Moriarty, Frank May Jr., Fire Chief Harry Voshell, Adolph Fritz, Eugene Regenstein, George J. Marot, Hugh McK. FOUR ARE INJURED IN AUTO CRASHES

Four persons were injured in auto crashes that occurred in and near Indianapolis late Tuesday.

Miss Mary Roeder, 24, of Brooklyn, N. Y., sustained chest and throat injuries when the auto in which she was riding collided with a truck at Thirty-second street and Capitol avenue. She is recovering at the city hospital.

Frank Barker, 37, of 21 South Tuxedo street, driver of the truck, was arrested for failure to stop at a preferential street.

Another truck auto collision at Merrill and Pennsylvania streets, resulted in injuries to Mrs. Zella Smith, 56, of 530 Arbor avenue, and her husband, George Smith, 63, of the same address.

Mrs. Smith was injured internally and out on the hands and feet sustained arm and hand lacerations. The truck with which their car collided was driven by Herbert Johnson, R. R. 7, Box 353.

Losing control of his auto, Neph King, 50, of 1633 Southeastern avenue, escaped serious injury Wednesday night when his car careened off state Road 52, at Forty-second street and struck an utility pole.

'ALFALFA BILL' SEES VICTORY IN JOB CRISIS

Confident Concerted Drive
by States Can Rout
Unemployment.

BY GEORGE B. ROSCOE
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1931, by United Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 27.—The American people will win their present fight against the business depression and unemployment, Governor William H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray predicted today.

Reclining in his easy chair, his feet on a desk stacked high with letters, the picturesque Oklahoma Governor expressed complete faith in the masses to solve the troublesome problems.

The concerted move of the states to eliminate unemployment is bound to succeed, he said in his first comment on business conditions since he returned from his Memphis relief conference, fatigued but ready to carry on his fight for dollar oil.

"The Memphis conference was highly successful, but was intended only to crystallize sentiment so that a second conference might bear real fruit," he said, puffing leisurely at his cigar, while ashes dropped unnoticed over his white cotton suit.

Crisis in February
"The greatest unemployment ills will come about February, and they will be serious. But even if present plans fail, there will be no breakdown until after election, if there is then."

"We live on hope," he continued, leaning back in his chair and almost closing his eyes. He paused and scratched his bushy gray head, a characteristic action when "The Sage of Tishomingo" is expressing his homely philosophy.

His speech was slow and his gestures unhurried, in contrast to the excited, rapid talk and gestures when he is "raising hell" with oil companies, power trusts, toll bridge owners, federal courts or other groups who frequently provoke his wrath.

"He who eats must work," he went on. "Labor hurts no one. An idle brain is the devil's workshop and we already have too many devils and not enough workshops. The dole system is unwise. Every person who can work should be privileged to find employment, for charity to an honorable person is offensive. The government has some funds that can be used for providing work simply by cutting a few red strings."

DEATH SUSPECT HURRIED AWAY

Half-Breed Returned to Wisconsin City.

Arrested as a suspect in the slaying of Mrs. Anna Patterson of Kenosha, Wis., nine days ago, John Williams, 32, alias Jo Miller, half-breed Indian, was returned to the Wisconsin city late Tuesday to face murder charges.

Insisting he is not the man wanted for the slaying, Williams waived extradition and returned with Wisconsin officers a few hours after his arrest.

Indianapolis detectives nabbed the murder suspect in a rooming house at 1523 Southeastern avenue. He was there with his wife and children and neighbors said that since he moved in Tuesday he had joked of the possibility of being mistaken for the slayer.

Mrs. Patterson's body was found hidden in bushes along a highway near Silver Lake, Wis. Authorities said she was slain after a drinking party at a roadhouse near the scene.

Photographs have been transmitted from Australia to England by radio with sufficient clearness to be published in British newspapers.
