

DEFUNCT BANKS HAVE $750,000 IN STATE FUNDS

Huge Sum Is Tied Up in 35
Closed Institutions
Over State.

Nearly three-quarters of a million dollars in state funds are tied up in thirty-five defunct banks in Indianapolis and throughout the state, according to figures made public today from the office of William Storen, state treasurer.

Tabulation of the banks and amounts was submitted to Storen by Charles H. Wells, deputy treasurer.

Exact amount on deposit in the closed banks to date was given as $741,353.57.

Many of the largest sums were due the state when Storen took office, but these have been augmented by collections of banks at Gary and South Bend in which large deposits were held.

Wells claims that more than half of the amounts listed are covered by the protection banks are required to make for state fund allotments. A bond for 50 per cent of the amount allotted is required.

Among the larger deposits tied up are the following:

Washington Bank and Trust Company, Indianapolis, $100,000; City Trust Company, Indianapolis, $42,279.99; Farmers Trust Company, Indianapolis, $65,444.13; Meyer-Kiser, Indianapolis, $35,550.00; Studebaker Bank, Bluffton, $20,749.85 (closed since 1927); Central Trust and Savings, Gary, $20,000; Gary Trust and Savings, Gary, $37,553.42; First Trust and Savings, Hammond, $30,000; State Savings and Trust, Indianapolis, $11,759.12; American Trust Company, Kokomo, $47,236; Lagrange County Trust Company, Lagrange, $35,000; American Bank and Trust Company, New Albany, $40,000; American Trust Company, South Bend, $75,000; Union Trust Company, South Bend, $78,565.95.

Since taking office, Storen has collected $188,265.07 from the defunct institutions or on their bonds.

Construction and material costs for sixty chassis ordered today will approximate $2,000,000. Similar parts ordered several months ago for the passenger locomotives cost $4,700,000.

GAS THEFT IS PROBED
