

COUZENS JEERS NATION'S RICH AS 'GLUTTONS'

Wealthy Piling Up Funds at Expense of Poor, Senator Charges.

Following is the second of two exclusive interviews with United States Senator James Couzens of Michigan. The first was published Friday in The Times.

BY JOSEPH F. HEARST
United Press Staff Correspondent
(Copyright, 1931, by The Times)

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., Oct. 5.—The nation's wealthy, particularly those industrialists whose employees are out of work and facing months of privation and need, must come forward with immediate aid, or conditions this winter will be far worse than a year ago, Senator James Couzens believes.

Couzens, wealthiest member of the senate, has set an example for other men of means by pledging $1,000,000 to the Detroit relief fund on the condition $500,000 be raised through subscription.

"I am not much in Detroit, but I know the suffering that is going on there, and I realize it is going to be greater than ever this winter. None of the thousands out of work there has any moral claim on me for aid, because I am out of industry, but there are others in Detroit, and in every big city to whom they may look for aid.

Should Take Stock

"There are employers who should take stock of their obligations to the men they once employed, and through whose skill and labor they probably acquired their wealth."

Couzens said the government could not pay a debt without a constitutional amendment, but that it could pass legislation to aid the states in relief work, possibly through a dollar-matching program.

"But so far, the state governments, with the exception of New York, have done nothing. No special sessions of the legislature have been called to map out ways and means of meeting this crisis, and unless individual men of wealth step forward I see no solution for the problem.

Claims Issue Ignored

"I fear the men in power have decided on a policy of 'muddlin' through.' They seem content to stand by, whistle to keep up their courage, and await the lifting of the depression. Then they will say: 'See, we came through in fine shape, and without having to resort to any of those financial schemes offered for relief.'

"But they won't take into consideration the million or so whose deaths may have been hastened by lack of proper food, exposure in cold rooms and need of warm clothes," he charged. "What of the needy children of today? Undernourished, sickly and ill. Into what sort of young men and women will they develop? Our public health service in Washington has stated that reduced rations have improved health generally. Perhaps that is true of adults, but it surely isn't of children, and of babies nursed by ill-fed mothers. There is more to this question than dollars. It is a matter of humanitarianism."

Boon to the Rich

The depression has, in a manner, been a boon to the rich, the senator said. The expression "the rich get richer and the poor get poorer" is a truism and not a demagogic statement, he declared.

"The dollar today is worth more than formerly, and because it will buy more, wage cuts are ordered. But these same owners who cut wages collect debts at the face value for which they were contracted, thus making additional gains."

Couzens suggested a broadening of the tax base and a return of the gift tax as means of raising funds to aid in relief work. Certain commodities also might be taxed as is tobacco, and an increase in the income tax also would aid, he said.

AUTO RESPONSIBILITY LAW GAINS IN FAVOR

Driver Statute Enacted by 18 States, 4 Canada Provinces.

Eighteen states and four Canadian provinces have adopted driver responsibility laws, similar to the one effective in Indiana, Oct. 1, it was announced today by Todd Stoops, secretary and treasurer of the Hoosier Motor Club.

The motor clubs affiliated with the American Automobile Association have fostered this legislation, Stoops declared.

The twenty-two states and provinces are as follows: Indiana, Maryland, Delaware, Nebraska, New Jersey, New York, North Dakota, Rhode Island, Vermont, South Dakota, Wisconsin, Connecticut, Iowa, Maine, Minnesota, New Hampshire, North Carolina and California; Ontario, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Manitoba in Canada.

WEALTHY WIDOW DIES

Mrs. Henry Clay Frick, 72, Wife of Late Steel Magnate.

BEERLY, Mass., Oct. 5.—Funeral services will be held today for Mrs. Henry Clay Frick, 72, of Pittsburgh, widow of the multimillionaire steel magnate, who died at her home in Crossing summer home Sunday.

The Rev. Neilson Poe Carey, rector of St. John's Episcopal church, will officiate. Later the body will be taken in the private car Westmoreland to Pittsburgh, where further services will be held Wednesday, with burial in the family lot at Homewood cemetery.

Mrs. Frick was the former Adelaide H. Childs of Pittsburgh.

'Y' GYM TO BE OPENED

Five Classes Will Be Available for Members of Central.

Beginning this week, five athletic classes will be open to members of the Y. M. C. A. Special quarters have been provided for each group. Instructors appointed by R. L. Konecne, director of physical education at the "Y," are: Stephen Geisler, weight lifting; Robert Goodwin, swimming; R. L. Hiatt, boxing; Jack Scott, wrestling; and Veldon Montgomery, tumbling.

CANTOR STARTS NEW FAD IN HIS MOVIE

If You Hear Any One Make a Noise Like a Duck, Then Blame Eddie for the Commotion.

BY WALTER D. HICKMAN
If you meet one of your friends and all of a sudden he puckers up his mouth and makes a noise like the "put-put" of a duck, blame Eddie Cantor and not your friend's mental condition.

Eddie, in "Balm of Gilead," his latest contribution to the talking and singing screen, puckers up his mouth many times to give the "duck" noise to members of the cast.

You recall how everybody was using "requested" one radio season? Well, they are going to make duck noises this season if I am not all wrong.

It is funny how a fad can start. Remember the Valentino haircut and pants? That was a fad. Wait until Eddie Cantor's duck sound becomes a national fad. We will all have to duck for cover. It so, bad, I admit. Don't ask me if "Palmy Days" is as good as "Whoopie." The reason is that they are different types of entertainment. "Palmy Days" is not a musical comedy. It is a comedy with music and some splendid group dancing.

by a bunch of mighty good-looking girls. Yes, Eddie sings both in white and blackface and the song I like best is a little nifty naughty about Eddie being glad because his gal said "Yes, Yes, Instead of No, No."

The very long-legged Charlotte Greenwood blurs out in song near the beginning of the picture, and this permits the introduction of a snappy dance pattern.

There is a story, a melodramatic background to "Palmy Days." Eddie starts out as the "hidden spirit" in the kitchen of a fake fortune teller and later on an economy expert in a big bakery.

Cooks try to get the "dough" (joke No. 2. Don't blame me) in the bakery and Eddie spoils their plans, not the dough. (Just too much for one day.)

You are going to like this carefree Eddie Cantor in "Palmy Days." It is mighty comfortable if not elaborate entertainment.

"Palmy Days" will do no harm to Cantor's reputation as a comic or as a singer. Can I say more? Now at the Palace.

HERE IS ANOTHER SEX THING IN HOT TROPICS

My verdict of "The Road to the South" is that it is one of those sex triangles located in the hot tropics where sex is supposed to go haywire after one has basked in the sun for a few weeks.

And sex does go haywire in "The Road to the South," which is just another badly chosen starring vehicle for William Powell. I will be glad to see somebody find a story worthy of this man. In this movie he is just the rotter who ruins women's reputations to the extent that his own exclusive club in the tropics posts his name as an undesirable. We William Powell have had so much of this sex and sex stuff in the tropics and this formula is just the same unconvincing stuff, but better acted this time by Powell as the "rat," Doris Kenyon as the wife who falls for William instead of her hubby (a terribly dumb and conceited doctor played by Louis Calhern (just the right choice). Near gunplay, near murder and then the ending.

Please pass an author for Mr. William Powell. The photography, direction and sound are all right, but that does not make a story.

Now at the Apollo.

GETTING ANOTHER IMPRESSION OF BANKHEAD

I am afraid that Tallulah Bankhead is too tremendously dramatic to do nature to do the trivial and little things that she is called to do on the screen.

Had the thought that Bankhead (the great on the London stage) should not be wasted upon such little stunts of acting, getting out of an auto, walking up a lane to a house or even opening a door when she could so tremendously murder a man, go on trial, kill her bad and rotten personality, take a new name and start all over again, get into high society and then become engaged to a rich society man of fine standing. You really feel that Miss Bankhead has just been waiting for the big scene in "My Sin" when she tells her future husband that she was a rotter years ago in Panama and that she had been tried for murder and acquitted by the genius and understanding of a drunken lawyer. She is tremendous in the big moments and so ordinary in the common place moments. On the stage she is spared for the big moment; on the talking screen she has to do everything.

On the whole, Miss Bankhead

STANDS FALL: FIVE HURT

Girl Suffers Back Injuries as Football Bleachers Collapse.

Five persons including a pupil of Southport high school sustained minor injuries Saturday night when a section of the bleachers at Cathedral-Southport football game at Indiana Central college collapsed.

More than 100 persons were seated in the sections when the bleachers fell. Miss Dorothy Phillips, of Southport, suffered back injuries. The others were cut and bruised.

Don't let them count you out... when you need the help of more red-blood-cells

It is a great protection to health and physical well-being to keep the red-blood-cell count up to normal. These cells build and sustain—they also remove impurities.

(Left) Microscopic view of healthy red-blood-cells. The blood stream should contain about 5,000,000 of these cells to the cubic millimeter. They carry nourishment and oxygen to every part of the body—they also remove impurities from the tissues.

(Right) Weak red-blood-cells—only 60 per cent of normal strength—they lack the power to resist infection and disease or to rebuild flesh and to carry away the impurities. Such a condition is often responsible for body weakness, paleness, pimples and boils.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

LINDY, ANNE TO FIX PLANE AND CONTINUE HOP

American Air Aces Will Arrive at Shanghai on Wednesday.

By United Press
SHANGHAI, China, Oct. 5.—Colonel and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, undaunted by the spectacular airplane crash that hurled them at 100 miles an hour into the mud of Yangtze river, were on their way to Shanghai today aboard the British airplane carrier Hermes, determined to continue their vacation flight.

The Hermes with Lindbergh's damaged monoplane aboard, was due in Shanghai today from Hankow, but reported by radio that it would not arrive off Woosung until late Tuesday. It will proceed to Shanghai, fifteen miles up the river, Wednesday.

Native workmen at the China National Airways plant are awaiting the arrival of the fleet black monoplane to start repairs.

Examination of the ship indicated that the wing and fuselage, damaged when it shot into the river during a take-off, can be repaired without difficulty.

Leading Shanghai officials, none of whom has met America's "Lone Eagle" and his wife, will greet the Hermes and escort the visitors into the city. The Lindberghs will reside at the apartment of Nelson T. Johnson, American consul-general, who now is in Peiping, during their stay here.

WIFE'S CHARGE FAILS IN COURT

Evidence Insufficient in Husband's "Hotel Arrest."

Dismissal of charges against E. C. Piercy, Indianapolis business man, arrested a week ago with a woman described as his secretary in a Bloomington (Ind.) hotel, the latest chapter in a limited divorce action brought by his wife, Mrs. Inez B. Piercy, 4166 Guilford avenue.

Piercy was arrested with Mrs. Goldie Bush Van Horn on a warrant sworn out by Mrs. Piercy, who says Mrs. Van Horn is her husband's secretary. At the same time, Bloomington police held Thomas Bush, said to be Mrs. Van Horn's brother, and Alice Smithson.

The two couples were freed when a Bloomington court held that evidence was insufficient to convict them.

In the separate maintenance suit of Mrs. Piercy on file in superior court here, she asks $35,000 alimony and charges that Piercy's salary is $500 a month.

On July 3 the court ordered Piercy to pay $200 a month until the case is tried.

Mrs. Piercy's petition named Mrs. Van Horn as the third party in the triangle and charged that Piercy had threatened to leave home and marry his secretary.

JUDGE BAKER TO SPEAK

Criminal Court Jurist to Address Medical Society Tuesday.

First of a series of three talks on "Crime" will be given by Judge Frank P. Baker of Criminal court at the meeting, Tuesday night of the Indianapolis Medical Society at the Athenaeum.

At meetings Oct. 13 and Oct. 20 social and medical problems will be presented by well-known speakers.

AD DECISION IMPENDING

Restaurant Association to Vote on Nation-Wide Campaign.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Oct. 5.—A decision on a national co-operative advertising campaign was expected during the thirteenth annual convention of the National Restaurant Association which opens today.

Vote on the proposed program will not be taken until Wednesday, but before then, several speakers are scheduled to discuss it before the 3,000 delegates. President A. H. Buck of Chicago, a former advertising man, is among them.

BY BEN STERN

WILLY nilly, Governor Harry G. Leslie is going to be confronted with the specter of a special session of the general assembly within a few weeks.

Dodge and duck as he may, he either will have to call together the legislators to pass remedial legislation or be prepared to carry the load of criticism and blame for the straits in which the small home owner and farmer find themselves.

Demand of Mayor Reginald H. Sullivan for a special session was but the opening gun in the campaign.

Petitions demanding the general assembly be convened have been circulated among the county units of the state Farm Bureau Federation and reports are that hundreds of farmers are signing the circulars.

Not only the farmers, but the small home owners in the industrial cities are re-echoing the cry of Sullivan that the present property tax is "a gradual but sure confiscation of real estate."

Leslie is to be placed in a position where he must face the demands and act upon them.

Naturally, the Governor does not care to call together the legislators.

He has had two lucky breaks in that despite threats of what they were going to do to him, the assembly adjourned without injuring him in any way.

Then, too, he feels that if the call is issued for a one or two-day session, when they do meet the members will run away with it and it may last thirty or forty days.

On one hand is the group demanding passage of an income tax measure. There are members who want it on personal incomes and others who desire to include corporations.

Then there is still another group which does not approve of the income tax, but would like to pass a luxury tax bill to cover tobacco and tobacco products, automobiles, jewelry and amusements.

That Leslie distrusts the general assembly is seen by his statement at the Republican editorial meeting at Nashville Friday night.

Referring only indirectly to the movement for a special session, he declared: "Just as long as you continue to select legislative candidates by the primary method, you are going to be ruled by an organized minority."

The Governor should know all about "organized minorities" for, running fifth in the primary, he became the nominee for Governor only when such a group, led by a woman waving a flag in the back of the hall, stampeded the 1928 convention.

That group was composed of the members of an organization in which the finger of scorn has been pointed most.

Whether he likes it or not, the Governor will have to give serious consideration to the question of a special session.

False Teeth

Don't allow your false teeth to drop or slip when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little Kling on your plates. This new improved powder forms a comfort cushion—holds plates so snug, they feel and act like your own teeth. No more danger of rocking plates—eating will again be a joy. Leading dentists endorse Kling. Guaranteed better than anything you ever used or money back. Large package, 35c at all druggists.

KLING HOLDS PLATES FIRMLY AND COMFORTABLY

Constipated

Instead of habit-forming purgatives or strong, irritating purgatives, use KANGAROO BRAND NR—tasteless, dependable, all-vegetable laxative. Mild, gentle, pleasant—NR—no night-towmow tonight. Get a 25c box.

The All-Vegetable Laxative

TUMS for acid indigestion, sour stomach, heartburn, constipation, candy-like antacid, 10c.

Don't let them count you out... when you need the help of more red-blood-cells

It is a great protection to health and physical well-being to keep the red-blood-cell count up to normal. These cells build and sustain—they also remove impurities.

(Left) Microscopic view of healthy red-blood-cells. The blood stream should contain about 5,000,000 of these cells to the cubic millimeter. They carry nourishment and oxygen to every part of the body—they also remove impurities from the tissues.

(Right) Weak red-blood-cells—only 60 per cent of normal strength—they lack the power to resist infection and disease or to rebuild flesh and to carry away the impurities. Such a condition is often responsible for body weakness, paleness, pimples and boils.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

If this is your trouble why not take steps to overcome it—remembering that a "tired feeling" may be a warning "run-down" under the strain of our way of living—pressure of work and worry.

Those important precious red-blood-cells that mean so much to vitality become lowered in count as the hemoglobin percentage begins to fall and we wonder "what is the matter?"

BABY KILLERS NABBED IN RAID, POLICE CLAIM

14 in New York Beer Gang Rounded Up With Youthful Leader.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Vincent Coll and most of his Bronx-Harlem beer gang, whose warfare with rivals is blamed by police for the killing and wounding of innocent children, have been rounded up in one big series of raids.

Ten men and four women, in addition to the 22-year-old "baby face" gang leader, were arrested by police Sunday, half of them here and half in Avon Park, a village ten miles from Troy, where the gang had a "hideout."

Two of the men have been identified, police said, as the "trigger men" whose poor aim, while they were gunning for Anthony Trobino, resulted in the killing of 5-year-old Michael Vengali in Harlem's "Little Italy," and the wounding of five of his little playmates. Trobino escaped injury.

The youthful Coll, sought by detectives ever since the "baby killing," had dyed his wavy brown hair black, grown a mustache, which he also dyed, and wore horn-rimmed glasses to disguise his appearance.

He stepped from his suite in the Cornish Arms hotel into the presence of waiting detectives, after the arrest of several members of his gang had uncovered a trail that led to his door. When he saw the men he knew he was caught.

The others arrested here were Dominick (Tuffy) Odierno, Vincent

Deluccia, Pasquale Del Greco, Mike Basile, alias Mike Oach, and two women, Betty White and Lottie Kreisberger.

The remaining five men and two women, and the 13-year-old son of one, were arrested in Avon Park, where police also seized the gang arsenal, consisting of revolvers, shotguns, rifles and several hundred rounds of ammunition.

They were: Mrs. Joseph Redden, Coll's sister; her husband, their 13-year-old son, Joseph Redden Jr.; James Deluccia, his wife; James Odierno, Frank Facchiano and William King.

Robbery Accused Freed

By Times Special
MUNCIE, Ind., Oct. 5.—Frank Lockwood, charged with complicity in the "framed" kidnapping and robbery of a W. A. McNaughton store messenger here in 1930, was acquitted by a Delaware circuit court jury Friday night. More than $7,000 was stolen from the store.

WE RESERVE THE RIGHT TO LIMIT QUANTITIES

The STORE WITHOUT A NAME

CORNER DELAWARE AND WASHINGTON STREETS

On Sale Wednesday at 9:30 sharp, while 1,000 lbs. last.

High Grade FLOUR

Five Pound Sack

5c

Sold to Women Only.

On Sale Tuesday at 9:30 sharp, while 1,000 bars last.

P. & G. SOAP

2c BAR

Sold to Women Only, Second Floor

MORE FOR YOUR MONEY

ITEMS LISTED ON SALE TUESDAY and WEDNESDAY

One Sale Tuesday at 11 o'clock while 500 cans last—

WILSON MILK

5c Per Can

Large Can — Limit. Be here early for this!

On Sale Tuesday at 2 P. M. While 50 last—

Double Bed Size BLANKETS

29c

Soft fleecy