

EIGHT-HOUR DAY ASKED AGAIN BY TRAM WORKERS

Plea Will Compel Public Service Commission to Make Ruling.

Having refused to rule on an eight-hour day for Indianapolis Street Railway Company employees, due to technicalities, public service commissioners are to be confronted directly with the point, it was announced today.

A new petition for arbitration, in which the eight-hour day is asked directly, has been presented to James P. Tretton, superintendent of the company by a group of carmen.

It then will go to the board of directors of the company and if refused, be appealed to the public service commission.

Former Plea Ignored
Commissioner Frank Singleton refused to consider the eight-hour day because this course had not been followed in a previous petition in which wage increases also were asked. The increases were denied, but the commission did order use of passes instead of tickets for the carmen.

The new petition was drafted by J. S. Fenstermacher, attorney for the Indianapolis Street Railway union. The union is not recognized under the working contract of the company, which requires an open shop agreement.

Recognition of the right of collective bargaining also is asked in the eight-hour petition.

Unemployment Cited
In dealing with the eight-hour day, the petition reads:

"We feel that in view of the increasing unemployment and poverty rampant in the city of Indianapolis in particular, and in the entire country in general, it is our duty in the name of humanity to share our employment with those less fortunate individuals of our city.

"However," we find it difficult to accomplish our desires without the co-operation of the company, inasmuch as we do not represent the entire personnel.

"Therefore, we ask that the working day of each employee operating under the said contracts be limited to eight hours per day, and that every employee be guaranteed seven days per week labor.

Jobs for 100 Asked
"We feel certain that this plan will insure every employee now in the company's employ a living wage and provide not less than 100 new opportunities for those now unemployed in the city of Indianapolis to make a living wage and come off the list of charity where they were forced by adversity.

"Therefore, that there be no mistake in our desires and petition, we want the working day of all employees, under the said contracts, to be limited to eight hours per day and a guarantee of seven days' per week labor for present employees."

The petition also asks time and one-half for all overtime over eight and one-half hours and restoration of employees discharged in 1926-27 to the 100 new jobs.

Blankety Blank
By United Press
SIOUX CITY, Ia., Oct. 14.—William Jensen, 61, shot himself three times with a revolver, then went to a hospital to find out why he didn't die. Physicians discovered the only reason was, he was shooting at himself with blank cartridges.

BRUENING ASSAILED
Fascists Hold Demonstration in Reichstag.

BERLIN, Oct. 14.—A Nationalist-Fascist demonstration was held in the reichstag when the deputies convened today for debate on the Bruening government's fate.

Alfred Hugenberg's Nationalists, after boycotting parliament since February, attended for the first time. They listened to Adolph Hitler's chief adjutant, Wilhelm Frick, frequently mentioned as future Fascist chancellor, heap denunciations on Chancellor Heinrich Bruening.

The Fascist deputies, shouting "Hail," then left the hall.

MOTHER WINS
BACK HER SON
AFTER 8 YEARS

German Lad to Be Met by
Parent at Station
Here Today.

A mother and her son, separated more than eight years by the Atlantic ocean, were to be reunited this afternoon, ending a battle of several years by the mother to effect the meeting.

The mother, Mrs. Hertie Huhn, 956 Leland avenue, sat in Union Station this afternoon anxiously awaiting arrival of the son by a former marriage, Helmut Schulz, 15, who reached New York on the Europa Tuesday from Woseden, Germany.

A widow, Mrs. Huhn left Germany eight years ago for America, leaving Helmut in the care of his grandfather. In 1922 she married John Huhn and several years ago began a desperate battle to regain custody of her child.

Under German law, the youth became the legal ward of the grandfather, Bernhard Schulz, who refused to free him without payment of $360 for board and room.

Mrs. Huhn, who is employed at the Real Silk mills, and has a modest home, was visited several years ago by an acquaintance from Germany, who told the boy's grandfather she was wealthy because she had a second-hand automobile and a phonograph.

Three years ago she enlisted the aid of the Fletcher Savings and Trust Company travel department, which co-operated with the American consul in Berlin, the Red Cross, American Express, North German Lloyd line officials and others.

Until a few months ago the grandfather was adamant, refusing to permit the boy to leave his home unless "his rich daughter" would pay him $200. She was unable to raise the money.

Then, suddenly, he threatened to place the boy in an orphanage unless Mrs. Huhn came for him.

Word that Helmut would arrive in New York Tuesday was received Saturday by E. Hopkins of the Fletcher company, who, in turn, notified Mrs. Huhn.

SCORING PLAN FOR SURGEONS IS SUGGESTED

Cures, Deaths Would Be
Tallied Under System
Given Convention.

NEW YORK, Oct. 14.—A plan to give every surgeon a professional rating based on results of his operations was under consideration today by the American college of surgeons.

The idea, which is a development of a system now in effect at the Pasavant Memorial hospital at Jacksonville, Ill., was brought up by Dr. Carl E. Black of that institution.

His plan is to establish a uniform system of marks so every surgeon can be charged with the surgical deaths which follow his operations and credited with the successful ones.

"In hospitals where the surgical mortality rate appears high in contrast with that of other institutions," he said, "responsibility then can be fixed and steps taken to eliminate those surgeons who are unfit."

In detail, the plan which he broached at the twenty-first annual congress now going on, calls for every surgeon's marks to be totaled at the end of a given year. From these totals the general average of the hospitals could be obtained.

This general average then would be listed with the figures from other hospitals. Publication of these figures, Dr. Black said, would stimulate hospitals to do better work and gradually eliminate incompetence.

The fight against cancer now being waged by the College of Surgeons was described by Bowman C. Crowell of Chicago, director of clinical research. He reported that the process of organizing the country's medical resources into a network of cancer clinics is well under way.
