Four Persons Are Hurt as Machines Collide on North Side.

Police today searched for a hit-run motorist who injured Miss Lenora Boyd, 24, of 1603 Central avenue, Monday afternoon.

Miss Boyd reported that a speeding car struck her as she crossed Sixteenth street at Central avenue. Pedestrians carried her to her home. She suffered cuts on the head and body.

Four injured persons were taken to City hospital Tuesday night after an automobile collision at Delaware and Twenty-eighth streets.

The Schwarzer car collided with a car driven by J. L. Neill, 18, of 730 North Tibbs avenue. Neill was arrested on charges of failure to stop at a preferential street, and for driving an automobile with more than two passengers on the driver's seat.

A 6-year-old boy, Lincoln Shoop of Mars Hill, died early today at the Indiana Christian hospital of injuries received in an automobile accident Tuesday near Morristown.

RADIO COPS NAB BANDIT SUSPECT

Charge Ex-Convict Held Up Filling Station Man.

An alleged holdup man, identified as Roy Skaggs, 20, of Hayworth, Ill., former Pontiac reformatory inmate, sighed today at city prison because things are not what they used to be in his racket.

"This police radio don't give a rod man a chance," the prisoner commented, when he was trapped by the radio after a holdup at Bridgeport Tuesday night.

In a stolen car, it is charged, Skaggs attempted to escape after robbing Thaddeus Shaw, Texaco station proprietor, of ten gallons of gasoline, a quart of oil and $2.48.

Radio Patrolmen O. B. McClain and Charles Felton, aided by radio-equipped sheriff cars, gave chase and caught the robber at the Washington street bridge over White river.

Skaggs' car had been stolen at Danville, police charged.

A Negro bandit took $25 from J. R. Phillips, drug store operator at Senate avenue and North street, Tuesday, but police found no trace of the bandit.

SCHOOLS' 'USELESS' THEORIES ASSAILED

Moose Dictator Upholds Lodge's System of Education.

"We will not fill children's heads with useless theories and cast them adrift to get through the world as best they can," said Frederick N. Zihlman, supreme dictator of the Loyal Order of Moose, Tuesday night as he outlined the Moose basis of education, training the hand as well as the brain.

Hundreds of members of the order gathered at Moose temple, 135 North Delaware street, to welcome Zihlman on his first official visit to Indiana.

"A supreme dictator class of more than 150 candidates was initiated. Loyal Order of Moose advocates vocational training in public schools and has as a goal the building up of a balanced educational system adapted to the needs, both mental and physical, of each child.

Abolition of county homes and poor farms is part of the Moose program.

At Mooseheart, Ill., more than 1,400 dependent children are being cared for. A place of rest for aged members has been established at Mooheaven, Fla. Sketching the accomplishments of the order, Zihlman said:

"Ours is an international fraternity with a membership of more than 700,000 in the 1,700 lodges in countries where English is spoken. Several millions are being spent in general charitable work outside the fraternity. Eleven millions have been spent in the establishment and maintenance of Mooseheart."

Zihlman commented favorably on the location of the municipal airport and condition of the grounds. A tour of the city preceded the reception and initiation. The supreme dictator formerly was a member of the congressional airport committee.

Today, Zihlman was to leave for Terre Haute where he will be entertained tonight. He was accompanied by M. F. Mahoney and William Anderson of this city.

TRIES TO HIDE HIT-RUN VICTIM

Driver of Costly Car Flees Scene With Boy, 11.

By United Press
NEW YORK, Dec. 16.—A hit-and-run driver who ran down an 11-year-old boy, then attempted to hide his victim by removing him from the scene of the accident, was hunted by police today.

The victim, Edward McHugh of the Bronx, was knocked down while playing in the street. Before the few persons who saw the accident could reach the scene, the driver of a costly machine jumped out and lifted the boy into his machine. Then he sped away.

Instead of driving to a hospital, however, he turned off toward a reservoir. Then he stopped and pushed the unconscious boy into the street, more than half a mile from where the boy was run down.

One motorist saw the boy shoved into the street and he pursued the driver, but was outdistanced. The license number of the hit-and-run car was noted, however, and given to police.

The boy was in a serious condition today, suffering from a skull fracture and other injuries.
