

NEGRO GUNMEN ROB DRY GOODS STORE OF $300

Flee With Loot as Owner
Calls for Aid; Detective
Is Held Up.

Bandits who engaged in a series of pre-Christmas holdups in the city Monday night, were sought today by police.

Two Negro gunmen held up the Miller Dry Goods store, 2626 Northwestern avenue, obtaining nearly $300 from a cash register.

Ethel Miller, 2856 North Delaware street, clerk, and Arthur Robinson, Negro, 513 Minerva street, porter, were in the store when the bandits entered.

One forced Robinson to the rear of the store, while another ordered the clerk to open the cash register.

While one gunman was looting the drawer, W. G. Miller, proprietor, entered, and seeing the holdup, ran from the store shouting for help. The bandits ran from the store and escaped in an alley.

$50,000 Error

By United Press

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Because she resigned her position two years before her employer's death, May A. Cadegan, 42, secretary to the late John F. Jelke, oleomargarine manufacturer, lost a bequest of $50,000. Jelke's will, on file today, revealed Miss Cadegan was left the sum on condition she still was employed by the Jelke concern.

Miss Cadegan announced she would bring suit for a share in the estate on the contention she resigned her position with the understanding she was to receive a $250 month annuity.

Foiger, 23, of 531½ Bell street, taxi driver, at Twenty-fifth street and Northwestern avenue, early today, forcing him to hand over $4.

Two Negroes who accosted Paul Sless, 2101 Forrest avenue, a railroad detective, as he walked on the Erie railroad, right-of-way near Twenty-second street, Monday night pressed a gun against his side and robbed him of his revolver, flashlight and blackjack.

Beaten by two Negroes as he entered the Louisiana street car barns, Herman Cain, 40, of 1245 Shepard street, a motorman, was robbed of $24 and left unconscious. He was treated at city hospital and was recovering today at his home.

High tribute was paid Mr. Wolf by Rabbi Morris M. Feuerlicht, who conducted the services.

"Frank Wolf was more than a business man," said Rabbi Feuerlicht. "Indefatigable as he was in business, his real vocation, the instinct of his soul, was a genuine love of his fellow man."

"Day after day, he rendered service to the lame, the halt, the indigent, and the needy without

LAST RITES ARE CONDUCTED FOR FRANK R. WOLF

Late Business Leader Is Paid High Tribute at Funeral Services.

All activities in the H. P. Wasson Company department store were brought to a halt Monday afternoon as employees and officials attended the funeral of Frank R. Wolf, vice-president and general manager of the store.

Mr. Wolf, vice-president of Wasson's, who died Saturday, was buried Monday in Indianapolis Hebrew cemetery services at the Plummer & Buchanan mortuary.

"He was generous to a fault, genial and sunny in disposition, with an inexhaustible capacity for making friends. His is a right to be admitted to paradise."

The funeral cortege was several blocks long and was headed by a police escort. The mortuary was crowded with mourners and a mass of flowers were banded around the casket and the mortuary.

Pallbearers, Wasson employees for many years, were: L. Murchison, George Golder, Arthur Meyer, Clyde Finnetrock, Gilmore Johnson, Wilbur Allison, Omar B. Springer, William C. Royer, and Chester C. Casler.

Try Cicero

CHICAGO, Dec. 22.—Mayor Victor J. Miller of St. Louis picked Chicago, when physicians told him he must have thirty days of perfect quiet and rest.

Despite surgery indicating Chicago is noisier than New York, and the popular misbeliefs regarding the constant rattle of machine guns, Miller today was at a suburban health resort.

Physicians said the mayor was recovering from a nervous breakdown.

HOMAGE IS PAID STERLING HOLT AT LAST RITES

Man of Absolute Integrity,
Says Pastor in Sermon
at Rite Cathedral.

"Sterling R. Holt stood for absolute integrity in public office, and he kept that spirit to the very end."

This was the eulogy by Dr. Abram Woodard of the Meridian Street M. E. church at funeral services at 10:30 today at the Scottish Rite cathedral for the Democratic leader and philanthropist, who died Saturday.

"He made many benefactions," said Dr. Woodard, "and he manifested wisdom in all his requests. One of the most important of these was his recognition of the extreme need of liberal education."

"He observed his oath of office strictly and scrupulously and fought to keep the public treasury safe from greedy hands."

The impressive services were attended by many friends of Mr. Holt, and after the rites the body was taken to Danville, Ind., where burial will take place with the Ancient

Still Married

By Times Special

BRAZIL, Ind., Dec. 22.—Mrs. Ruth Light applied for a divorce. So did Ellsworth Light, but they are still married. Judge T. W. Hutchison of Clay circuit court refused to grant a decree to either, declaring there was no cause. Two children of the couple are in the custody of the husband and his parents.

Landmarks lodge, F. & A. M., in charge.

Between 9 and 10 this morning at the cathedral Mr. Holt's body lay in state.

Mr. Holt served as Democratic state chairman in 1895 and from 1899 to 1893 he was president of the Indianapolis safety board. He served as county treasurer from 1893 to 1894.

Under the administration of Mayor L. Ert Slack, he served as city controller and continued in that post under Mayor Reginald Sullivan, until failing health forced his retirement. He was 81.

Active pallbearers were: John T. Sauter, Vincent V. Smith, Ralph K. Smith, Arthur R. Baxter, Edward B. Raub, Edward J. Scoonover, William H. Morrison Jr., and Marshall Levy.

Suicide Motive in Doubt
ELWOOD, Ind., Dec. 22.—E. A. VanHorn, 57, father of four children, committed suicide by hanging in a coal shed at his home.

ASSESSORS, TAX BOARD CONTINUE JOINT SESSIONS

Valuations of City Realty
and Farm Land Occupy
Second Meeting.

Real estate assessments were up for discussion this morning as the second day of the thirty-first annual conference of county assessors with the state tax board got under way in the house of representatives.

Chairman James E. Showalter of the tax board discussed real estate assessments in general. Plus A. Long, Lagrange county assessor, talked on assessment of farm land.

H. D. Hartman, tax board engineer, spoke on assessment of ground values, and Walter Horn of the board's staff, talked on improvements, and C. T. Everett of the board's staff, spoke on real estate statistics.

The meetings end at noon Wednesday.

Governor Harry G. Leslie addressed the opening session Monday and re-read from his message to the 1931 legislature portions dealing with taxation.

He reaffirmed his stand that the tax problem is a legislative one and that he will call a special session to reform the tax laws when the legislators can agree on a "reasonable program."
