

WET CAUSE UNPATRIOTIC, DECLARES ANTI-SALOON CHIEF

Women Hear Lectures on Birth, Taxes

"If newspapers paid as much attention to fighting for prohibition as attacking it, our troubles would be over," L. E. York, president of the Indiana Anti-Saloon League Tuesday told the Indianapolis Council of Women at Tabernacle Presbyterian church.

More than two hundred women gathered to hear discussion of subjects chosen by them at their last meeting, including "Prohibition," "Birth Control," "The Gold Standard," and "Taxation in Indiana."

"The greatest step towards holding prohibition was made when women were given suffrage," York said. He quoted Mrs. Ella T. Boole, president of the W. C. T. U. as saying: "The eighteenth amendment furnished tea-water for the men, but the nineteenth amendment furnished ballots for the women."

Gas Stations Replace Saloons

York attacked a statement of Mrs. Charles H. Sabin, president of the Women's Organization for National Prohibition Reform, that prohibition has taken the saloon from the street corners into the homes.

"Prohibition has taken the saloons from the corners and replaced them with beautifying gasoline stations," he said. "In eight years in Indianapolis I have seen but one drunken man."

He pointed out Colonel Charles Lindbergh and Mrs. Lindbergh as model Americans.

He termed protest against prohibition as "vile wrath" and "unpatriotic."

"No public press has a right to espouse such a cause," he concluded. "The small family has to stay," according to Dr. Amelia Keller, who spoke on "Birth Control."

"Control of parenthood is one of the important movements of our time and any attempt to regulate this movement through legislation is absurd," she said. "It would be criminal to try to restore the birth rate of a century ago were any such attempt not based on colossal ignorance."

Criticizes Law

Dr. Keller criticized the law that forbade dissemination of information that would be of such value to humanity, and termed such information obscene and indecent.

She complained that the rich can procure such information from physicians and from each other, but that hospitals and clinics that might educate poorer classes are forbidden by law to dispense it.

"The human race, as well as animals, needs scientific development," Dr. Keller said, advising the women to put away violent prejudices and study the subject honestly.

"The Gold Standard" was the subject of George Calvert's talk. Calvert is secretary and manager of the Indianapolis Clearing House Association.

"I believe that the gold standard is the proper money of the world, and as we make financial recovery from the present depression, gold will be re-established wherever it may have been abandoned temporarily," Calvert said.

Asks Red Cross Aid

He discussed money as a medium of exchange, as a measure and as a standard of value that must be fixed relatively.

"We can not look for any major reduction in public expenses until obligations already incurred are satisfied," L. O. Chasey, secretary to Governor Harry G. Leslie told the women in a discussion of taxes.

Chasey explained that more than 76 per cent of tax money was absorbed by schools and highways.

Mrs. Hugh McGibeny made an appeal for used clothing for the Red Cross and American Legion, to be distributed by them through an office established at 138 East New York street. She also asked the women to donate their services in repairing clothes that already have been collected.

Miss Hyde Is Bride

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Jane Hyde, Terre Haute, formerly of Indianapolis, to Edwin King, son of Mrs. Elmer L. King, Terre Haute, which took place Dec. 26 in Terre Haute, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. S. E. Hoffa. The Rev. B. D. Beck, officiated. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. J. D. West, Newcastle. The bridegroom attended Indiana university and is a member of Delta Tau Delta.

SLIM LINE AND VICTORIAN INFLUENCE

It's a charming dress for late winter as its inspirator in black transparent velvet.

It has the new square cut neckline. And the cut of the short puffed sleeves are quite novel. It is given the vogue-like bodice effect through the basque-like bodice. The skirt hugs the figure until about knee depth, bursting then into a comfortably full hemline.

Style No. 660 is designed in sizes 14, 16, 18, 20 years, 36 and 38 inches bust. Size 16 requires 4 1/2 yards of 39-inch material.

Our winter fashion magazine is ready.

Price of book 10 cents.

Price of pattern 15 cents in stamps or coin (coin is preferred). Wrap coin carefully.

MOTHERS TO TALK

CLUB PROCEDURE

"Mothers' Club Procedure" will be the subject for discussion at a meeting of the mothers' club council of the Indianapolis Free Kindergarten Society at 10 Thursday morning in the society offices. Mrs. Paul H. White, first vice-president of the Indianapolis Free Kindergarten Society, will lead the discussion.

Upper left, Miss Miriam Hostetter and John Ellis. Upper right, Miss Jane Slutsky, Miss Hostetter and Miss Helene Petri. Lower right, Miss Caroline Sweeney and Richard Bixby.

"Racketty, Racketty House," a fantasy, will be presented at 2:30 Saturday at the Civic theater by the Children's Theater. The play will be repeated Jan. 16.

Peg, the little baby talk doll of story book fame, played by Miss Miriam Hostetter, is pictured nestled in the arms of her doll hero, Peter Piper, played by John Ellis.

The roles of Meg, the haughty, and Kilmansegg, the shy, seated to the left and right of Peg, are played by Miss Jane Slutsky and Miss Helene Petri.

Rediklis and Gustabis, beneath the makeup, Miss Caroline Sweeney and Richard Bixby, provide the comedy.

The play is being directed by Miss Rosamond Van Camp from the manuscript arranged by Mrs. Margaret Noble. Costumes, authentic reproductions of those of Queen Victoria's dolls, were designed by Mrs. F. W. Dunn, assisted by Mrs. Paul W. Matthews.

Properties are in charge of Miss Eunice Disette, Miss Helen Fleischer and Eleanor Anne Barrett. Miss Genevieve Pickrell is stage manager, and Mrs. George T. Parry will have charge of the box office.
