

PLANS FIGHT TO REGAIN COUNTY ROAD PATROL

Sheriff Sumner to Appear Before Council With Funds Demand.

Fight to gain reinstatement of sixteen deputy sheriffs, comprising the county road patrol, will be waged before county councilmen Jan. 20 by Sheriff Charles (Buck) Sumner.

Sumner, who lost his patrol Jan. 1, after the council sliced the appropriation from his office budget, said today he will seek a special allotment of $27,648 to meet patrol expenses.

His petition will not include the appointment of a road patrol chief, a post which, it is known, has caused altercation among county political bosses.

Abolition Protested

County residents and organization protested abolition of the patrol in November, and since then complaints have been made because persons outside the city limits are not protected from crime.

Councilmen were non-committal today when informed of Sumner's proposal. Several refused to discuss the matter and Sam Pfender declared he would "express his attitude when the matter comes before the council."

"Probably Will Stay"

Pfender stated that since the patrol had been abolished, "it probably will stay that way."

Herman Rikhoff, former police chief, held the post of road patrol head, which will not be reestablished should Sumner win his battle for reinstatement of the rural deputies.

Automobiles, radios and weapons used by the former patrol probably will be disposed of by county commissioners, if the council refuses Sumner's request.

FLIER SHOOT PROWLER

Japanese Wounded in Home of Honolulu Army Officer.
By United Press
HONOLULU, Jan. 7.—A Japanese prowler in the home of an American army officer was seriously wounded today in the latest of a series of incidents which have caused a tense situation here.

Lieutenant Demas T. Crow of the army air corps was advised by his wife that some one had entered their home. Crow discovered Masato Hayashi, 19, and ordered him to throw up his hands. The Japanese ran. When he did not heed Crow's command to halt, the officer fired and wound the prowler in the lung.

MISSISSIPPI is suffering from a strange malady; the inability, from birth, to persevere, making it necessary for victims to take eight or ten baths a day. Kindly inform Junior of this fact at the next remonstrance meeting.
