

LESLIE PLAYING TO 'INTERESTS,' SAYS VAN NUYS

Rally Speaker Says He Fears Special Session Would Hurt 'Pets.'

BY BEN STERN
Times Staff Correspondent

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 20.—Fear that privileged and special interests in the state may be affected adversely by proposed legislation decried Governor Harry G. Leslie from calling a special session of the assembly, charged Frederic Van Nuy, Indianapolis attorney, at the new Second district Democratic rally here Tuesday night.

"In the face of an unanimous call for relief from oppressive taxation, and the demand for hungry and distressed, such as the 2,000 who stand in the bread lines of this city, Governor Leslie refuses to call the general assembly together in extraordinary session."

"Why? Because the Governor fears that the privileged and special interests, of whose needs and cares the Republican party is most anxious, may be affected by legislation for the people," declared Van Nuy.

Attacks Mellon

Attacking the Andrew Mellon domination of the treasury, he charged that the secretary is holding the office in violation of the laws and that he "is not serving the people but the giant corporation in which he is financially interested."

Van Nuy warned the Democratic party that if elected to power next November, the victory should be hailed not as a period of rejoicing but as one of dedication.

"The Democratic party has a world of constructive work ahead of it," he said.

"A scientific tariff, written in the interests of all classes of people, instead of a privileged few, and also in contemplation of world conditions, should be on the program."

"There must be a revamping of the government along more democratic lines, and this would include abolition of innumerable boards, bureaus and commissions, both state and federal, which not only have taken away the right of the individual citizen to the pursuit of industry and happiness, but have latched from him his self-reliance, initiative and respect for law."

'Prevent Depressions'

"There also must be readjustments of our industrial and economic affairs in such a way that never again in this country, with granaries bursting with the fruits of the soil, and with banks overflowing with gold, will 6,000,000 men tramp the streets in search of that one opportunity to which every American citizen is entitled, a chance to make a living for himself and family."

Van Nuy compared the state and national Democratic administrations with those of the Republicans, to the disadvantage of the latter.

Thomas McConnell of Fowler, old Tenth district chairman, was in charge of the meeting. R. Earl Peters, state chairman, and Mrs. A. P. Flynn, vice-chairman, were introduced and spoke briefly.

Others introduced were Appellate Judges Posey Kime, Harvey Curtis and A. C. Wood, Dr. G. R. Coffin of Monticello, candidate for the congressional nomination and James P. Hughes of Greencastle, candidate for supreme court judge.

A rousing reception was given Paul V. McNutt, outstanding contender of the nomination for Governor, who did not speak.

Dr. J. H. Mills of Russellville is the new president of the association, succeeding Dr. R. C. Applegate of Bloomfield.

Dr. H. W. Dempsey of Huntington was elected vice-president, and Drs. J. L. Abby of Lawrenceburg; Lee DeMotte of Petersburg, and H. A. Sallows of Wabash were elected to the directorate.

ANIMALS TO GET HOME

New York Woman Starts Drive to Protect Stray Beasts.

ALBANY, N. Y., Jan. 20.—While other persons are directing their attention to relief of unemployed men, Mrs. Robert W. Fivory of Albany, has started a campaign to provide homes for strayed and homeless animals this winter.

She already has in her home several kittens and dogs which she rescued from the cold streets.

"There are plenty of people concerned about the welfare of humans but my heart goes out to dumb animals," Mrs. Fivory said.

GIRL DEMANDS RIGHT TO SEE KILLER-LOVER

"Two-Gun" Crowley's Sweetheart Invokes High Court.

By United Press

NEW YORK, Jan. 20.—Helen Walsh went to the supreme court today in a last effort to see her sweetheart, Francis ("Two Gun") Crowley before he is electrocuted at Sing Sing Thursday night.

She obtained an order directing Warden Lewis E. Lawes to appear in Brooklyn supreme court to show cause why he should not be directed to allow her to visit the condemned murderer. She said his last wish is to see her.

"Francis Crowley is to my knowledge, without any blood relatives; the only ones near and dear to him are his foster mother and myself," Miss Walsh told the court. "I respectfully submit that there should be no valid reason why this last wish of his should not be granted."

CHINESE TROOPS REVOLT, SET UP SOVIET REGIME

Lack of Food Causes Army of 20,000 to Join in Red Cause.

By United Press

NANKING, Jan. 20.—Revolt of 20,000 Chinese troops sent to suppress bandits and establishment by them of Soviet governments at cities in Fukien province, was reported today by the Fukien governor, General Fong Sen-Tao.

Fon Ten-Tao reported that lack of food caused the twenty-sixth route army commanded by Sun Lien Chung to revolt in Kiangsi province and join Communists. The troops captured Tinchow, in Fukien province, and disbanded the local militia.

Fong reported that they were setting up a Soviet government at Suiching with Mao Chen-Tung as chairman of the government and Cha-Teh as head of the military council.

It was reported that Feng Yu-Hsiang, who formerly commanded the troops, would try to pacify them.

Meanwhile, the government issued warrants for the arrest of the "boy emperor," Henry Pu-Yi, and Chang Ching-Hui, head of the government set up by the Japanese at Tsitsihar and other Manchurian leaders of a plot to restore the Manchu dynasty.

Marshal Chiang Kai-Shek and Wang Ching-Wei have agreed to co-operate with the new government. The capital planned an immense popular welcome for them when they arrived today from Hangchow.

The rioting was believed to have been in retaliation for a recent attack here on five Japanese monks.

Japanese residents called a mass meeting to consider the situation which admittedly was tense.

Japanese warships here were ordered to prepare for possible emergencies. The Japanese consul-general and officials of the settlement police began an investigation, while the Japanese made a protest against the killing of one of their nationals by the members of the settlement gendarmerie.

Legislature May Condemn Appeal for Massie.

BY DAN CAMPBELL

United Press Staff Correspondent

HONOLULU, Jan. 20.—Territorial legislators summoned in special session to "clean up Hawaii" and make Honolulu "safe for women," sidetracked their program temporarily today to attack the Kentucky legislature for urging release of the "revenge murder" defendants.

Meanwhile, Montgomery Winn, attorney for four Americans held in connection with the death of an Hawaiian charged with participating in an attack on the young wife of a naval officer, announced that he would seek their freedom through habeas corpus proceedings unless the grand jury returns indictments against them Thursday.

A new grand jury met Monday, but did not consider the case. The Americans held are Mrs. Grace Hubbard Fortescue; her son-in-law, Lieutenant Thomas H. Massie, and two enlisted men. The Hawaiian killed, Joe Kahahawai, was one of five men at liberty on bail charged with attacking Mrs. Massie.

The house and the senate were scheduled to vote today on a resolution offered by Representative Harry T. Mills commending the Kentucky legislature for memorializing President Hoover to effect the release of the American defendants.
