New No. 8 Fire Station

The 700 block on Massachusetts avenue won't have its sleep disturbed by clanging fire wagons and sirens in a few weeks.

But the corner of Eleventh street and Broadway will be compelled to accustom itself to those sounds.

The new station is shown in the above photo.

MAP OPEN FORUMS ON TAX PROBLEMS

Legislative Committee to Arrange Meetings at Statehouse.

Plans for a series of public meetings on taxation problems at the statehouse soon are to be outlined by members of the state legislative tax commission next week, Senator J. Clyde Hoffman, chairman, said today.

The committee will meet on Tuesday or Wednesday at the directors' room in L. S. Ayres & Co., to draft the big meeting plans, he said.

Hoffman and Senator Joe Rand Beckett, chairman and secretary, respectively, of a similar interim committee between the 1929 and 1931 legislative sessions, are bent on directing their work to governmental economy, rather than to a special legislature session to pass income or sales taxes, or otherwise to raise revenues to substitute for the present tax burden on real property.
