

Franklin Cagers to Test Blue Tonight

Howard Chadd, Veteran Floor Guard, May Miss Tilt: Exams to Claim Bulldogs' Attention After Struggle With Strong Grizzlies.

An improved Franklin team will test Tony Hinkle's Butler Bulldogs at the fieldhouse tonight at 8:30.

Howard Chadd, sharpshooting floor guard, probably will be out of action in tonight's tussle due to illness. If the speedy veteran is unable to start, his position will be filled by Chickedanz or Parrish.

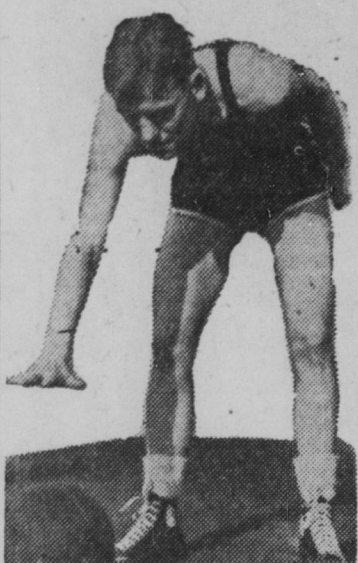

With the other four veterans in top shape, the Hinklemen hope to turn in their tenth triumph in eleven straight over a Hoosier rival. Exams will occupy the attention of the Blue netters after tonight's game, and they will be out of action until Feb. 1.

Franklin, encouraged by the one-point decision over Indiana Central's strong quintet last Tuesday, will start Owens and Buchanan at forward, with Brewer at center. Anderson and Surface, veterans, will hold the guard assignments.
