

CURB ON SMITH SEEN IN MOVE BY ROOSEVELT

Governor's Announcement
May Keep Al Out of Several Primaries.

BY RAY TUCKER
Times Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's formal announcement of his presidential candidacy was regarded here today by national politicians as an effort to checkmate the demand that ex-Governor Alfred E. Smith permit his name to be used in several state presidential primaries.

Roosevelt's decision to test his strength in the North Dakota primaries interested observers for two reasons. One was his obvious move to enlist Progressives behind his candidacy, and the other the claim of his sponsors that he has 678 of the 770 delegates he will need for the nomination.

His statement that the Democratic nominee should be devoted to "progressive ideals of government" rather than the representation of sectional, partisan or class interests was held to be a covert sign at some of his rivals.

Three Now in Race

The claim he is within nine-tenths of the necessary two-thirds vote was considered to be somewhat optimistic. Rival candidates' friends declared that at least 100 or more delegates should be struck off the Roosevelt total.

With Roosevelt's entry, it means that the three Democrats formally in the race are the New York Governor, Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland and Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma. On the Republican side the only avowed candidates are President Hoover and Joseph I. France of Maryland, who will cross swords in the North Dakota Republican primary.

Politicians look for some evidence of a reported Roosevelt-Smith feud in New Hampshire, where the 1928 nominee's friends plan to run him in the primary, if he will consent. Should Roosevelt go in, it will bring the two old friends into an open clash.

Roosevelt and Ritchie may make a trial of their strength in the Pennsylvania primary, where the New York Governor has the support of National Committeeman Joseph Guffey, and Ritchie is backed by the dripping wet Hemphill faction.

South Has Favorite Sons'

Roosevelt's foes declare that his friends err in including among his estimate the twenty-eight delegates from Georgia, the twenty-four from Tennessee, the ten from Connecticut, and thirty-eight of Pennsylvania's seventy-six. Georgia will advance Senator Walter F. George as a favorite son, and Tennessee will be for Senator Cordell Hull.

The Roosevelt people counter with the statement that both George and Hull favor him as their real candidate, and that he will get an even break in Connecticut and Pennsylvania even if Smith does get into the race.

New York's ninety-four delegates are also included in the Roosevelt list, although Tammany's chieftain John F. Curran, has given no public word of his attitude. Right now the empire state is credited to Roosevelt, and he would have the upside faction in any event, but developments growing out of the Seabury investigation of Mayor Walker's administration may affect this alignment.

In the Air

Weather conditions at 3 a. m.: Southeast wind, 12 miles an hour; temperature, 34; barometric pressure, 30.08 at sea level; ceiling, overcast, light rain, fog, 600 feet; visibility, 2 miles; field, wet.

Takes Flying Course

Newest flying student to be enrolled by the Tarkington Aviation Corporation at municipal airport is William H. Snider, 836 North Bradley avenue.

Arrivals and Departures
Municipal Airport—Regional Pattison, from St. Elmo, Ill., Cardinal George O. Chapline, St. Louis to Troy, O., Stinson; Howard H. Maxwell, Central Aeronautical Corporation, accompanied by Elvyn Tarkington of Tarkington Aviation Corporation, to Holland, Mich., Stinson.

Births

Edward and Mary Wirtz, 1835 Bellefontaine, Charles and Emma Huffman, 1204 Bellefontaine, Fred and Dorothy Davis, 1801 Ludlow, Harry and Koko Richardson, 1420 South Lindey, Mary Renfroth, 929 North Raymond and Blanch Olesby, 235 North George and Lillian Landis, St. Vincent's hospital, George and Edna Phares, Coleman hospital, and Anna Jones, Methodist hospital, and George and Lila Osborne, Methodist hospital.

Deaths

Virgil and Alma Duncan, 3125 North Marion drive, Mary and Fred Stokes, 1216 South Finsing, Arthur and Eva Fowles, 226 South Illinois, James and Phoebe Battle, 809 Fayette, Edward and Irma Stokes, 1815 East Minnesota, and Eva Rutter, 2118 East Northfield drive.

Wilbur and Annie Leavell, 3163 North

Willard and Irene Schelling, Methodist hospital, and Catherine Miller, Methodist hospital, and Frances Schmitt, Methodist hospital.

Shurley and Elva Winkle, Methodist hospital.

Robert and Thelma Hummel, Methodist hospital.

Deaths

Martha Dodd, Wrentham, 523 East Vermont, bronchitis pneumonia, 52. St. Vincent's hospital, Boston, neophritis.

Florence E. Buser, 22, Methodist hospital, and Anna Jones, Methodist hospital.

Charles J. Redding, 84, South Alabama, bronchitis pneumonia, 70, 3502 North Illinois, chronic parenchymatous nephritis.

Laura E. Thompson, 38, Methodist hospital, and Frederick Albert Jones, 27, city hospital.

Wilbur David Stokes, 82, 1107 North Tibbs, bronchitis pneumonia, 64, 3202 College, coronary thrombosis, 64, 3200 Broadway, acute intestinal obstruction.

Edwin James Shoobridge, 80, 2239 Wade, died Saturday, Jan. 25, city hospital, bronchitis pneumonia.

Aged Woman Killed

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Jan. 26.—Mrs. Tena Kramer, 64, died here after injuries suffered when she fell against the side of a moving automobile.

Played Out

By United Press

NEWARK, N. J., Jan. 26.—Adolph Jacobs asked his 12-year-old grandson Thomas to hold a ladder while he repaired the house, but young Thomas soon tired and ran off to play. That angered the grandfather.

Today Adolph's will was on file, and the name of Thomas was scratched out wherever it appeared. The $10,000 estate will go to Mary, an older sister of the boy.

BY RAY TUCKER
Times Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's formal announcement of his presidential candidacy was regarded here today by national politicians as an effort to checkmate the demand that ex-Governor Alfred E. Smith permit his name to be used in several state presidential primaries.

Roosevelt's decision to test his strength in the North Dakota primaries interested observers for two reasons. One was his obvious move to enlist Progressives behind his candidacy, and the other the claim of his sponsors that he has 678 of the 770 delegates he will need for the nomination.

His statement that the Democratic nominee should be devoted to "progressive ideals of government" rather than the representation of sectional, partisan or class interests was held to be a covert sign at some of his rivals.

Three Now in Race

The claim he is within nine-tenths of the necessary two-thirds vote was considered to be somewhat optimistic. Rival candidates' friends declared that at least 100 or more delegates should be struck off the Roosevelt total.

With Roosevelt's entry, it means that the three Democrats formally in the race are the New York Governor, Governor Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland and Governor William H. Murray of Oklahoma. On the Republican side the only avowed candidates are President Hoover and Joseph I. France of Maryland, who will cross swords in the North Dakota Republican primary.

Politicians look for some evidence of a reported Roosevelt-Smith feud in New Hampshire, where the 1928 nominee's friends plan to run him in the primary, if he will consent. Should Roosevelt go in, it will bring the two old friends into an open clash.

Roosevelt and Ritchie may make a trial of their strength in the Pennsylvania primary, where the New York Governor has the support of National Committeeman Joseph Guffey, and Ritchie is backed by the dripping wet Hemphill faction.

South Has Favorite Sons'

Roosevelt's foes declare that his friends err in including among his estimate the twenty-eight delegates from Georgia, the twenty-four from Tennessee, the ten from Connecticut, and thirty-eight of Pennsylvania's seventy-six. Georgia will advance Senator Walter F. George as a favorite son, and Tennessee will be for Senator Cordell Hull.

The Roosevelt people counter with the statement that both George and Hull favor him as their real candidate, and that he will get an even break in Connecticut and Pennsylvania even if Smith does get into the race.

New York's ninety-four delegates are also included in the Roosevelt list, although Tammany's chieftain John F. Curran, has given no public word of his attitude. Right now the empire state is credited to Roosevelt, and he would have the upside faction in any event, but developments growing out of the Seabury investigation of Mayor Walker's administration may affect this alignment.

Entered Service in 1897
"We intend to keep the office as up to date as humanly possible. If my administration is as successful as Bryan's, I am sure we will be well rewarded."

Clancy passed the civil service examination in 1897 and has served in many positions in the postal service. In 1913 he was superintendent of mails, later leaving the service for a few years.

His appointment to the postmastership was approved by the Senate Jan. 9, and his term is for four years from that date.

DAUGHERTY DEFENDED

Co-Author of Harding Book Says
He's "Another Dreyfus."

By United Press

COLUMBUS, O., Jan. 26.—Harry M. Daugherty's career was compared to that of Captain Dreyfus in a statement here by Thomas Dixon, author who collaborated with the former attorney-general in writing "The Inside Story of the Harding Tragedy."

"The driving of Harry Daugherty from public life in my mind presents another Dreyfus case," Dixon said. There was no more justification for President Coolidge's request to Daugherty to resign than there would be for President Hoover to ask Mellon to quit.

Dixon came here for Daugherty's seventy-second birthday. He declared he believed Daugherty a victim of personal animosities.

Marriage Licenses
Howard E. Fanner, 28, of San Francisco, Cal., soldier, and Rose L. Irwin, 18, of 1303 Thirty-first street, power machine operator.

Orlando L. Fields, 38, of 235 Virginia, W. Va., and Ethel Ketcham, 20, of 425 Virginia Avenue, 2326 Shreve St., Branch Dr., 2570.

GRINSTEINER'S
522 E. Market
R.I. 5374

HISEY & TITUS
951 N. Delaware
R.I. 3828

WM. E. KRIEGER
1402 N. Illinois St.
R.I. 1245

EADES BROS.
1314 W. Morris
R.I. 4327

J. C. WILSON
1230 Prospect
Dr. 6321-6322

GOODRICH FUNERAL HOME
1611 N. Meridian
T.R. 1050

4 Lost and Found

GERMAN police dog, white gray, black, markings on back, Name, Rags. Lost via 1674 Kessler bd., rev. Be 4614-R.

BOSTON BULL—Male, black, face tall, 35 lbs., 18 months old. Name, Giggie. $5 reward. Rev. R.I. 7118.

LOST—1 stock certificate, 100 corporate bonds, 100 shares of stock, in Denison hotel, Liberal reward. W.A. 0410.

TRIM, black, brown police dog. Name, Fritz. Reward, 3271 N. Erie. W.A. 2191.

GRADUATION gift, girls' we go with, graduation, Ind. hotel. Tues. Rev. 3232.

5 Persons

TEMPORARY or permanent home for all ages, also mental and nervous cases; day and night, reasonable rates.

I WILL NOT be responsible for any debts or expenses incurred by myself. W. A. MOORE, 416 North Orange.

TRY LEMKE SERVICE SHOP—108-10-12 E. Mkt., Lemke Bldg. R.I. 0656.

BEDBUGS? Moths? Ants? External parasites? Call R. W. L. Walker, 600 Low. R. I. 7728.

7-B Paperhanging, Transfer, Stamping

PAPER HANGING—Cleaning, est. free, Ch. 2004. FRANK JACKSON, Jr. 2418.

PAPER HANGING, painting, if you don't call Ta 5484, we'll lose.

8 Rooms, Etc.

Charge Based on Two Lines.

Charge Based on Two Lines.

Rooms, Etc.

Charge Based on Two Lines.

Rooms, Etc.

Rooms, Etc.